Red China Spurns U. N. Talks

Deadlock Arises Over Evacuating Tachen Islands

Mendes-France Cabinet Totters On Africa Policy

PARIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France, facing what appeared to be almost certain defeat, challenged the French National Assembly tonight to approve his policy in North Africa or throw him out.

The Assembly will vote on the question of confidence in the government probably early Saturday.

Although the Premier, heading France's 20th government in a little over 10 years since liberation, appealed tonight "with all my force and conviction" for the support of the Assembly, he appeared to have helped his cause but little.

The fate of the government has been extremely doubtful for a week because many deputies have grown disgruntled over many things. But it seemed to have been sealed this afternoon when former Premier Rene Mayer, broke with Mendes-France and came out against the government.

Mayer, is the leader of the right wing of the Radical Socialists, and Mendes-France is a spokesman for the left wing of the same party. Many deputies expected 20 or 30 members of the party, which has 76 seats in the Assembly, would follow Mayer. If they did Mendes-France, premier just a little over seven months, would be out.

Although the vote would be on Mendes-France's policy of negotiating for democratic reforms to give North Africans more say in their government and undercut the nationalistic terror campaign there, many deputies hoped for his fall because he has put on pressure for the rearmament of West Germany. Others fear the reforms in economics, taxes, prices and production he is cooking up for France.

He declared tonight he would go ahead with his policies of negotiating with North African nationalists to relax tension there "even if it means reprisals and vengeance" from his political enemies.

Chiang Wants Quemoy, Matsu Defense Pledge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United States is reported urging Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to make a quick final decision on evacuation of his troops from the Tachen Islands since the reinforced 7th Fleet cannot be held in a state of readiness indefinitely.

Diplomatic sources said today the Chinese Nationalist leader is balking at making this decision until he gets a firm American guarantee for the defense of Quemoy and Matsu, coastal islands. He is understood to have taken the position that the morale of Nationalist forces could be severely damaged if the Tachens were abandoned without any offsetting guarantee for Quemoy and the Matsus.

President Eisenhower, on the other hand, is said to have made clear to Chiang through diplomatic contacts that the United States does not intend to make any ironclad, public guarantee to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. Thus a deadlock has arisen.

The Tachens are 200 miles north of Formosa and Eisenhower has decided that they should be evacuated since they are not essential to Formosa's defense. But the troops and the decision are Chiang's.

There is speculation that he might decide to pull all Chinese civilians out of the Tachens but leave his troops—amounting to one division—there for the time being at least to engage in a showdown with the Reds if the Reds want to seek one.

U. S. Reluctance Snags Tachens Evacuation

TAIPEH, Formosa, Friday, Feb. 4 (AP) — A Nationalist withdrawal from the Tachens appeared snagged today in negotiations, but the Reds seemed to be putting no pressure on the islands 200 miles north of Formosa.

There were reports the United States was reluctant to give a clear-cut guarantee to help protect Matsu and Quemoy, the most important Nationalist offshore islands, after a Tachen withdrawal.

For the second straight day there was no report of any Communist activity in the Tachen area except for the usual shuttling of supply ships.

The Defense Ministry said Nationalist bombers caught a Red convoy Wednesday night near Yikiangshan, eight miles north of the Tachens, and in an attack two large Red vessels "were hit and exploded."

Nationalist officials discounted some published reports that the Red ships were an invasion fleet.

There were indications that if the United States gives no guarantees for Matsu and Quemoy, the Nationalists will ask to reconsider the whole Tachen question.

The Nationalists, say sources who should know what is going on, would prefer to make a death stand for the Tachens.

Press Circulation Up

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Total daily newspaper circulation in the United States for the first time in history went over 55 million last year, Editor and Publisher reported today.

Stevens Rebuffs Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens has rebuffed a demand from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that a dishonorable discharge be given an Army private who invoked the Fifth Amendment last year before the Senate Investigation Committee then headed by McCarthy.

The Pentagon gave reporters today a letter from the Army secretary dated Feb. 1, telling McCarthy that such action as to Pfc Marvin S. Belsky would be both illegal and damaging to Army morale in the absence of "information to establish subversive conduct."

Stevens noted that Belsky is due for discharge tomorrow and told McCarthy: "Therefore, I again earnestly request that you submit before that date any evidence or information upon which evidence can be developed with reference to any alleged subversive conduct on the part of Belsky."

The senator had written Stevens Jan. 24 suggesting a dishonorable discharge for Belsky.

USS Constellation To Be Retired To Reserve Fleet

BOSTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — The battered old frigate USS Constellation, the Navy's oldest ship, will be decommissioned and retired to the reserve fleet tomorrow for the fourth time in her 157 years.

The Navy announced tonight that the Constellation's commission pennant will be hauled down at 11:30 a.m. and custody of the historic vessel will be transferred to the Boston Naval Shipyard where she is berthed.

The action is being taken to allow her token complement of sailors under Lt. Charles W. Morris to be released for other duty. The shipyard will maintain the craft in minimum repair pending possible transfer to civilian interest for restoration as a national memorial.

The Constellation was launched at Baltimore Sept. 7, 1797, six weeks before her more famed sister ship, the Constitution. The latter vessel also is at the Boston shipyard, restored as a naval memorial by contributions from the nation's schoolchildren.

The Constellation fought through five American wars and police actions, opening her career as a fighting vessel with the capture of the French ship Insurgente in the West Indies during the "shadow war" with France in 1799.

Coldest Weather In Years Stings Northeast U. S.

[By The Associated Press]

Relief Seen Saturday

Another day of severe cold is forecast for the area Friday with some moderation in prospect for Saturday.

New York City had two deaths attributed to the cold and a low reading of zero. The temperature was the lowest in seven years and the coldest ever for the date. The biting cold followed a 3.7-inch snowfall.

Other readings in the East included Old Forge, N. Y., -40; Saranac Lake, N. Y., -38; Newport, Vt., -30; Lebanon, N. H., -21; Kane, Pa., -21; Albany, N. Y., -18; Hanover Township, N. J., -14; Hartford, Conn., -2 and Boston, -1. Atlantic City had 5 above, lowest in six years, and Philadelphia, 5 above, coldest for the date since 1881.

At midday Thursday the Southern boundary of the belt of freezing weather extended from Virginia westward across southern Kansas and into the northern and central Rockies and Great Basin area.

Ike Urges Support For USO Fund Drives

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — President Eisenhower tonight urged support for USO fund raising drives, saying American servicemen and women stationed overseas are "performing onerous duties that the rest of us may enjoy security."

The President's appeal was in a message to a USO defense fund dinner at the Sheraton-Astor Hotel in New York.

Eisenhower said the work of the United Service Organizations "must go forward for the happiness of the individual man and woman in our armed services, for the furtherance of our country's security."

U. S. Deplores Slap At World Peace Agency

Meeting Of Security Council To Consider Turndown Imminent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United States tonight deplored Red China's rejection of a bid to United Nations cease-fire talks as a "further flouting" of the U.N.

A State Department spokesman, press officer Henry Suydam, announced that the United States will consult with other members of the U.N. Security Council about a Council meeting to consider the Red Chinese turndown.

Suydam made this statement:

"We have seen so far only unofficial reports of Chou En-lai's reply to the secretary general of the United Nations in response to the invitation extended to the Chinese Communists.

Old Pattern Followed

"All those who sincerely work for peace regret this abrupt rejection of an invitation to come to the Security Council to consider the cessation of hostilities along the offshore islands. They regret also this further flouting of the United Nations which is so similar to previous Chinese Communist actions in Korea and at Geneva.

"It is for the Security Council, which is constantly striving for peace, to consider this rejection and we shall be consulting with other members toward a further meeting."

Red China's rejection of the U.N. invitation was criticized meanwhile by senators as ill-tempered and insulting.

Is Cease-Fire Move Dead?

The general reaction in Congress was that the United States must firmly back up its commitment to defend Formosa. There were differences of opinion as to whether the cease-fire move is dead.

"The Chinese Communist appear to think they can either shoot or break their way into the United Nations," said Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He referred to Red Premier Chou En-lai's demand that Nationalist China be ousted from the U.N. Security Council.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, called Chou's answer "ill tempered" and said it now "appears obvious that the Chinese Communists are not prepared to discuss a cease-fire on any honorable terms."

2nd-String Red Gets 1 To 5 Years

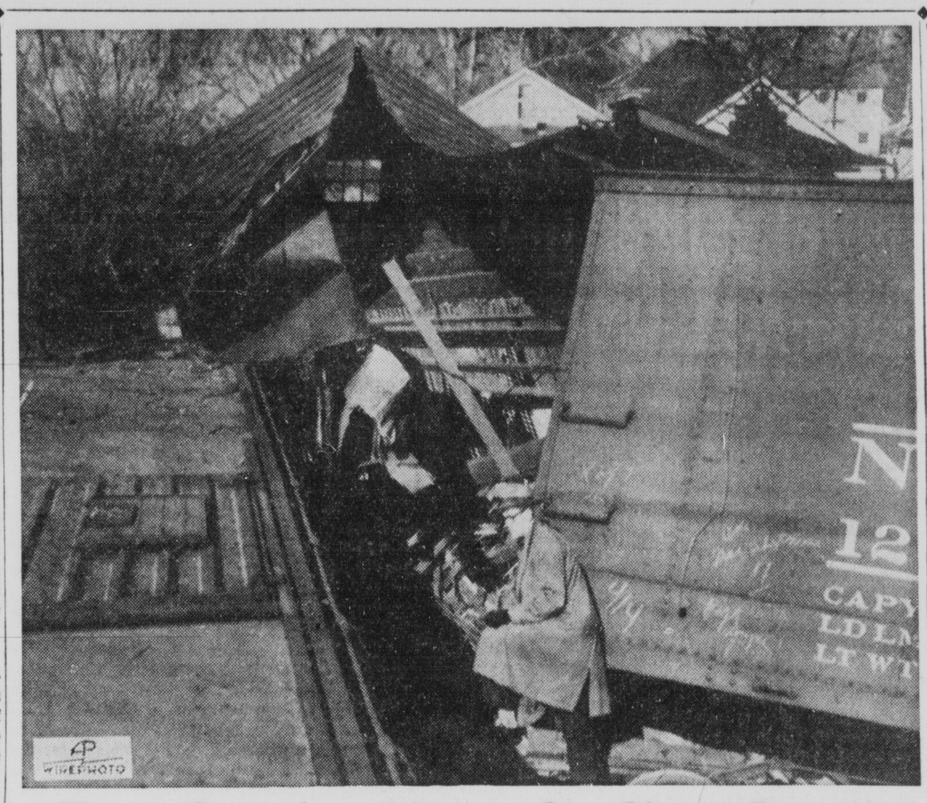
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — Louis Weinstock, 51-year-old Hungarian-born Communist, was sentenced to one to five years in prison today for lying in an affidavit to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Federal Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut imposed the sentence after defense attorneys waived the probation report which is usually received in advance of sentencing.

Weinstock was convicted yesterday of swearing falsely to the SACB that there has been no committee or organization known as the "United May Day Committee" since 1948. He was acquitted today on a second count.

His 1-to-5-year sentence is to run concurrently with a 3-year sentence given him in New York in January of last year. He was one of 13 "second string" Communists convicted then of conspiring to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

Weinstock came to this country in 1924 and became a naturalized citizen in 1930.



Train Smashes Home; Six Cheat Death

The six occupants of this house escaped with only minor injuries yesterday when two freight cars of a New York Central train crashed into the dwelling at London, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scurry and their four children were sleeping when the cars smashed into their home. Eighteen other freight cars were piled up nearby.

Guaranteed Pay Drive Is Spread To Rail Industry

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. Feb. 1 (AP)—Organized labor today spread to the railroad industry its drive to win the guaranteed annual wage in 1955.

Six AFL unions comprising the railway employes department announced they will make the guaranteed annual wage their "main objective" in contract demands this year for 350,000 shop workers on the nation's railroads.

The CIO Auto Workers Union is seeking the GAW as a prime goal in auto industry bargaining this year, seeking assurance of continued pay for as long as a year for workers becoming unemployed.

President Michael Fox of the AFL railway employes department said details of the GAW plan still remained to be worked out but he pointed out that the Seaboard Airline Railroad has had a form of the GAW in effect since 1929.

Fox said the Seaboard plan does not represent what the AFL wants in the way of GAW but shows "it can be done." Under the Seaboard arrangement, he said, rail shop maintenance work is spread out on a year-around basis so most workers are assured of steady employment.

"Critical unemployment among shopmen compels us to take this protective step," Fox declared. "Layoffs have been widespread and heavy, particularly during the latter months of 1954. Decisive action must be taken to prevent further suffering among the men.

"We believe that the drastic and extreme fluctuations in railway employment could have been avoided had a guaranteed wage program been in effect in the industry."

Airman Is Crushed By Hangar Doors

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Air Force said an airman apparently pressed the wrong button and died today when his head was crushed between two hangar doors at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

The base public information office said Airman 3.C. Michael David Smyser, 21, of Manchester, Pa., was killed while trying to align two 22-ton, electrically operated hangar doors which failed to close tightly. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Call By Voluptua Ends Police Hunt

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3 (AP) — Voluptua, a 6-foot blonde from Brooklyn with a flair for getting herself talked about, ended a police search today by calling officers and informing them she had spent the night with a friend.

The statuesque showgirl, nee Gloria Pall, didn't say where she was calling from, but said she was safe and would "be right in to pick up the car" she left parked on Pacific Coast Highway last night.

"I was upset," she was quoted by Lt. A. R. Trout. Voluptua was fired two days ago from her television program reportedly because of complaints she was too sexy.

Miss Pall was not too deflated by the loss of her job of introducing old movies. She bounced into a part on another TV show yesterday.

Americans Had More Spending Money In 1954

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Despite the business downturn which lasted most of 1954, the public had more income and more spending money last year than ever before, the Commerce Department reported today.

In the last two months of the year, the department said, the income of individuals—personal income—sailed above the peak rate achieved in the business boom of 1953.

Disposable, or spendable, income—which is total personal income minus personal taxes—amounted to 254 billion dollars in 1954, or about 3½ billions above the previous record in 1953, the report said. This increase in purchasing power, despite a rise in unemployment, was described as chiefly the result of the approximately 10 per cent reduction in federal income taxes which went into effect Jan. 1, 1954.

Total personal income in 1954 was computed at 286½ billion compared with the previous high of 286 billion in 1953.

Four-Year Draft Extension Voted By House Group

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — A bill extending the draft law for four more years after June 30 was approved 32-0 today by the House Armed Services Committee.

Pentagon officials estimate that if Congress passes the bill 674,000 young men between the ages of 18½ and 26 will be tapped for two years of military service during the extension period. They will also be required to spend six years in the reserve.

Two Changes Approved

Two changes in the Selective Service system were approved by the committee after hearings lasting two days.

One would exempt from the draft any man joining the National Guard before he is 18½ and remaining in it until he is 26.

The other would provide that anyone who served for six months or more in the Army, Air Force, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, or 24 months in the Public Health Service, after Sept. 16, 1940, is not liable for induction except in the event of a declaration of war or a national emergency proclaimed by Congress.

Insurance Against Re-Draft

The purpose of the second amendment, John R. Blandford, committee counsel, explained, is to make sure that men who serve in the armed forces but who are discharged after less than two years' service will not be liable for a second tour of duty in peacetime. He said that at one time there were about 144,000 veterans serving second tours.

The House is expected to debate the draft extension next week, with passage almost a certainty.

Would Discuss Formosa Only On Own Terms

Nationalists' Ouster By Security Council Demanded By Chou

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 4 (AP)—Red China today rejected the United Nations' invitation to participate in talks on a cease-fire for the Formosa Strait.

Premier Chou En-lai informed the U. N. he will not send a spokesman to New York unless Nationalist China is ousted from the U. N. Security Council. And in any case, Chou said, he would send a representative only to discuss Soviet charges that the United States is guilty of aggression against China.

Votes in the U. N. have shown it is not prepared to pay such a price for Red China's participation in discussions. Only last Monday the Security Council overwhelmingly voted down a Soviet demand that Chiang Kai-shek's ambassador be excluded from the Formosan debate.

Two Proposals Offered

Two questions are before the council:

1. A New Zealand proposal that the U. N. seek to end hostilities on certain islands off the Chinese mainland. This refers to the Tachens and other islands in Formosa, Strait, but not to Formosa itself.

2. A Soviet proposal which charges the United States with aggression against China and calls for withdrawal of all U. S. forces from the China area.

The Council has agreed to give priority to New Zealand's proposal, but the Western powers still have not put forward a formal resolution for a cease-fire.

In his message today Chou contended that the Council's decision to consider the New Zealand move was "intervention in China's internal affairs" that is no concern of the U. N.

U.N. Delegates Disappointed

(At U. N. headquarters, the news of Chou's stand was received with disappointment. Many delegates had hoped that the Peiping regime would send a representative in view of the Council's agreement to take up the Soviet charges of aggression after cease-fire talks are concluded. An influential delegate said the members would want time to reflect and also to consult their governments.)

Chou's decision, broadcast by Peiping radio, was in reply to an invitation sent by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Monday on instructions from the Security Council. Under the invitation, the Chinese Communist representative would have been permitted to take part in the Council discussions but would not have had a vote. Once before, in 1950, Red China sent a representative to the U. N. for debate on alleged U. S. aggression against China, but the Council threw out the charges.

Apparently No Loophole

Chou's message said:

"The government of the People's Republic of China hold that only for the purpose of discussing the resolution of the Soviet Union, and only when the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek's clique have been driven out from the Security Council and the representatives of the People's Republic of China attend in the name of China, can the People's Republic of China agree to send a representative to take part in the discussions of the Security Council."

There appeared to be no loophole in this which would permit a compromise.

Ex-Red Says M'Carthy Staff Knew Of Election 'Trickery'

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — Ex-Communist Harvey Matusow said today he campaigned against several Western Democratic senators in 1952 using what he described as "false documents and materials" he said were supplied by the office of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Matusow, who has sworn he lied in helping convict 13 second rank Communist leaders, was asked how reporters could tell whether he was now telling the truth.

"There is no way you can be sure," Matusow said. But he repeatedly declared he was now telling the truth and was not a "plant" of the Communist party to discredit congressional investigating committees.

Matusow, 28, spoke at a news conference held in connection with publication of a book he has written, "False Witness."

Matusow, as an example of what he called false documents used by him in the 1952 campaign, said that in campaign speeches he cited publication of an article by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) in the left-wing magazine New Masses.

Actually, Matusow declared, the article was a reprint of a Senate speech by Mansfield published in the Congressional Record and available to anyone.

Matusow said he used the New Masses article in speeches "leaving the implication that (Mansfield) had knowingly written the story for the magazine."

Asked if McCarthy knew of his use of the article, Matusow replied: "Jean Kerr was in on it and Don Surine." Jean Kerr, now McCarthy's wife, and Surine were on McCarthy's staff.

Baltimore Police Check New York Doctor's Mystery Death

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Police are checking into the death here of a New Yorker who apparently called his wife 17 minutes after a telegram was sent announcing he was dead.

The body of a man who registered as Dr. Edward James Phillips was found yesterday afternoon sprawled across the bed in a room at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

An autopsy late today showed he died of "barbiturate poisoning," instead of a heart attack as had been previously suspected.

However, Dr. Russell S. Fisher, city medical examiner, said it would be about two days before he'd be able to tell whether death was caused by "a potent-acting group of barbiturates" or a simple overdose phenobarbital.

Detective Lt. George Klemmick said he apparently died of a heart attack. There were no signs of violence. Investigators found $24.83 in cash, a railroad ticket from Baltimore to New York, several insulin bottles, a hypodermic syringe and other paraphernalia a doctor might carry.

The hotel found the body after getting a call from Dr. Erna Gutenstein, a New York dentist.

She said she had been invited to a testimonial dinner last night in New York for Phillips but yesterday morning received a telegram from Baltimore saying:

"It is with sincere regret that must inform you that dinner will be cancelled Wednesday evening due to sudden death of Edward James Phillips from heart attack in Baltimore."

The wire was signed "Robert Ritter."

Hotel records showed Phillips called his wife in New York from his room at 12:42 a.m.

Lt. Klemmick reported Mrs. Phillips said her husband called her to tell her the testimonial dinner might have to be cancelled because of the death of the guest speaker.

Dr. Gutenstein said it was her understanding a retired Army colonel by the name of Robert Ritter was to be the guest speaker at the dinner.

Dr. Gutenstein said she had known Phillips and his wife about two years and Phillips was a brigadier general in the Army stationed at Ft. Jay in New York harbor.

Officials at Ft. Jay and at the Pentagon in Washington said they had no record of an officer by that name. New York medical directories list no Dr. Edward James Phillips.

Soviet Military Budget Boosted

Forecast Defense Outlay 12 Per Cent Above Last Year's

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Russian government presented to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) today a 1955 budget which keyed a 12 per cent increase in military expenditures to the tense international situation.

The forecast defense outlay for 1955 is 112 billion rubles. This does not represent a record. It is almost two billion rubles below the 1952 peacetime high. But the total estimated budget expenditures of almost 563 billion rubles is a new high.

Western diplomats point out it is difficult to break down the Soviet budget and determine just what is and what is not military expenditure, since the state owns all means of production. Many items which would be charged off to military expense in the United States are listed differently in a Soviet budget.

In the presence of top-ranking members of the Communist party and the Soviet government, deputies of the Supreme Soviet applauded at the announcement of the sharp increase in military outlay. The two houses of the Parliament usually approve quickly and unanimously the budgets presented them.

The ruble is quoted officially at 25 cents, which would mean a Soviet defense outlay of 28 billion dollars, an increase of three billion dollars over last year.

(The U.S. defense budget for the next fiscal year is 34 billion dollars.)

Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev, speaking under the glare of television lights, announced the total national revenue for 1955 was estimated at 589½ billion rubles and total expenditures would be 563 billion rubles, leaving a surplus of about 26¾ billion.

Of this, he said, 112 billion rubles would go for defense purposes, or 20 per cent of the total budget. This was an increase of about 12 billion rubles over last year.

The finance minister also announced that state borrowing from the people would be increased this year, but he gave no figure.

Peiping May Seek Talks Outside U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 3 (AP) — Red China's Chou En-lai appears to have made a bid to Prime Minister Nehru or some other third party to intervene and organize a conference outside the U.N. on the Formosan question.

That was the consensus of key delegates today after Chou rejected an invitation to send a representative to debate in the Security Council on a Formosan cease-fire.

They based their reactions on versions broadcast by Peiping radio and issued by news agencies in early afternoon.

Six Escape Death As Freight Cars Smash Into Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 3 (AP)—A sleeping family of six narrowly escaped death today in one of two widely separated train derailments in Ohio.

At 4 a.m., 19 cars of a New York Central 62-car freight piled up at a street crossing in London, a town of 5,300 people 24 miles west of Columbus on the Cincinnati-to-Cleveland division of the road.

Two of the freight cars smashed into a small frame dwelling beside the tracks, all but demolishing it. The cars wrecked the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scurry, pinning the husband, 43, to the bed. The couple and their four children, who were sleeping in another room, were treated for minor bruises and abrasions.

At 7:50 a.m., five sleeping cars and a mail express car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's eastbound "Gotham Limited" derailed at Leetonia, five miles east of Salem. Salem, a community of 12,700, is 40 miles east of Canton and about 65 miles west of Pittsburgh.

Only person injured in the passenger train accident was Mrs. Mollie Gladstone of Pittsburgh. She was taken to a Pittsburgh hospital with a back injury. None of the passenger cars overturned.

Woman Pays $7,000 For Portrait She Detests

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — A society woman today reluctantly forked over $7,000 for a portrait she can't stand the sight of—by surrealist Salvador Dali.

Mrs. William Woodward patiently sat for Dali in his studio for a year, and, as agreed in advance, never peeked until the portrait was finished April 1953.

She took one look, turned her back and refused to look at it again, her lawyer said.

Dali sued for his fee as "the reasonable value of his services." The lawyer, Theodore Miller, said a check for $7,000 has been sent Dali, who has agreed to withdraw the suit.

His Story Paid Off

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Charles Hornback, 46, told police last night he was beaten and robbed of $113 and a topcoat by "Little Red Riding Hood."

Hornback was arrested as a drunk. But he stuck to his story and accompanied police on a tour of taverns. It paid off.

Richard Hood, 54, whose nickname is "Little Red Riding Hood," was arrested on a robbery charge.

Demos May Dare Veto By Passing Statehood Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — Daring a possible presidential veto, House Democrats are considering sending President Eisenhower a bill to admit both Hawaii and Alaska to statehood.

The bill may hit the House floor later this month. It is the subject of current hearings before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Originally, separate statehood bills were planned for the two territories, but some influential Democrats suspect that the President would sign the Hawaii measure and veto the Alaska bill.

By including the two areas in one measure, Congress would put the President on somewhat of a spot, since he has urged statehood for Hawaii only.

In his state-of-the union message last month, the President said there was "no justification" for further delay in bringing Hawaii into the union," while Alaska "should expect to achieve statehood" when its "complex problems" are solved.

That, in the opinion of many Democrats, was a thinly veiled hint by the President that he would not approve an Alaska bill. Moreover, the Democrats have been tipped by top Republicans to expect a veto.

Alaska usually votes Democratic while Hawaii is usually Republican.

Top Coal Firm Backs Minimum Pay Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — The country's biggest coal company joined John L. Lewis today in calling for a minimum wage on coal dug for the government, predicting that otherwise rising federal purchases will "seriously disturb" the industry's wage scales.

George A. Lamb, speaking for the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., Pittsburgh, told a Labor Department hearing that the government now buys 12 per cent of the commercial coal output and will approximately treble its purchases by 1959.

His testimony came after opponents of the proposed wage floor, representing hundreds of small mines in Virginia, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, asked for a postponement until April 1 to give them time to amass evidence.

Preserved Body Of Woman Buried In 1814 Is Dug Up

MONROE, La., Feb. 3 (AP)—Workmen today dug up the preserved body of a woman who may have been buried more than 140 years ago.

Her clearly defined features were visible through a glass plate in a cast iron casket. Magnolia blossoms and cypress leaves lay under the glass.

The inscription on the casket was dated Sept. 7, 1814. Officials of the Hixon Bros. funeral home, which is holding the casket, said they could not make out her name on the inscription.

Demo Conclave Set For Chicago

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Chicago was chosen today as the scene of the 1956 Democratic national convention, subject to formal approval of the party's full National Committee.

Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler announced that a site-choosing subcommittee unanimously voted to recommend Chicago. Philadelphia was the only other city bidding for the convention.

Butler said the National Committee will vote on the subcommittee's recommendation by mail ballot. The selection was made, he said, after Chicago representatives agreed to certain suggestions made by subcommittee members.

The Democrats tentatively have selected Aug. 13 as their 1956 convention date.

The Republican National Committee will meet here Feb. 17 to decide on a date and place for the GOP convention. The last three national conventions of both parties have been held in the same cities.

Flier's Trial Halted By Mental Condition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Air Force said today that the mental condition of Col. Robert H. Orr has halted court-martial proceedings against the much-decorated flier on charges of burglary and failure to safeguard classified documents.

A board of medical officers at Walter Reed Army Medical Center told the Air Force that Orr's condition is such that he "cannot participate in his own defense."

Orr was arrested last July as a burglary suspect in a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel. He then held a responsible post at the Pentagon.

Orr told Las Vegas officers that he burglarized fashionable hotels "just for kicks."

Las Vegas authorities dropped the charges against Orr and they were taken up by the Air Force, which added the charge related to secret papers.

Aunt To Stand Trial For Fatal Beating Of Boy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 3 (AP)—A plucky, 5-year-old boy, beaten, stomped and horribly burned, died today of multiple injuries which a frail, childless aunt said she administered because the boy "was possessed of the devil."

The aunt, Mrs. Virginia Thompson, 29, and her husband, Lawrence, 32-year-old unemployed oil field worker, were charged with murder at Pauls Valley, the victim's home.

Prosecutors said they would seek the death penalty for Mrs. Thompson in the fatal beating of blond Lloyd George Stanley Jr. Lloyd and a 3-year-old brother, James Edward, who was less seriously beaten, had been in the care of the Thompsons along with a sister since the parents became estranged in November. James is still in the hospital.

Mrs. Thompson, of Whitebead, near Pauls Valley, admitted whipping James and abusing Lloyd over a two-week period before their rescue nine days ago. She said Lloyd "bothered us and wouldn't eat."

The Thompsons pleaded innocent. They were returned to Garvin County jail pending preliminary hearing Feb. 10.

Thompson was accused of "concealing his knowledge of the crime."

The beatings came to light Jan. 25 after a Ringling woman notified authorities Mrs. Thompson tried to give Lloyd to her.

The tragedy quickly reunited Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George Stanley Sr. They were at the boy's bedside when he died at 2:30 a.m.

New Envoy To India Persuasive, Stands Mighty Firm On Principle

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Mild mannered John Sherman Cooper is going to New Delhi to deal with a type of neutralism which some of his Republican colleagues abhor almost as much as communism.

President Eisenhower has nominated the tall, graying Kentuckian as ambassador to India.

For the soft-spoken, school teacherism Cooper it will be a new adventure in a field into which he has plunged intermittently in the periods when Kentucky voters decided they would rather be represented by a Democrat in the Senate than by him.

The last of these decisions came last November in the return to public life of former Vice President Alben W. Barkley. Many of Barkley's friends said it was a shame that Cooper was the man he had to beat because they would like to have had both of them in the Senate.

But President Eisenhower, who helped all he could politically, had his eye on Cooper for a diplomatic job and named him to succeed George V. Allen, who was made assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern, South Asian and African affairs.

To the Senate colleagues who know him best, Cooper was an outstanding choice for the job. They know from experience that the Kentuckian is a very persuasive sort of fellow, that he can oppose without making enemies but that he stands mighty firm on principle.

He is pretty much the sort of man they would pick to deal with India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, whose motives and actions are regarded with some suspicion by a number of senators.

A somewhat aloof and always a quiet man, Cooper was never a ball of fire in the Senate. He made his imprint by intensive study of subjects in which he was vitally interested, often wrestled with his soul for days before coming to a decision.

Once it was made, however, he stood up under such withering fire as that the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio directed at him when Taft inquired caustically if Cooper were a Democrat or a Republican. This was after Cooper had voted with the Democrats on the first two tests after he was sworn in as a senator.

Cooper, 53, a native of Somerset in the Cumberland Hills, first was elected to the Senate in 1946 to fill the unexpired term of Sen. A. B. "Happy" Chandler. He was beaten in 1948 but was re-elected in 1952 to complete the unexpired term of the late Sen. Virgil Chapman, a Democrat.

A basketball player at Yale, Cooper gives the impression of a rugged physique which belies the bouts with ill health he has had in recent years.

A graduate of the Harvard Law School, Cooper got into politics with his election to the State Legislature in 1928 and went up the ladder to state circuit judge before he enlisted in the Army in 1942. As a second lieutenant, he won the Bronze Star in the Normandy campaign and served after the war in reorganization of the German judicial system.

Cooper's international affairs experience includes service as a delegate and alternate to United Nations sessions in 1949-50-51 and as an adviser to the secretary of State at NATO council meetings in Brussels and London in 1950.

Even prior to his appointment, Cooper had been boning up on Far Eastern problems. He never collected enough seniority in the Senate to get on the coveted Foreign Relations Committee. But he learned a lot about the area from his vantage point as a member of the Armed Services Committee.

Baltimore To Up Fines For Traffic Law Violations

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP) — Chief Traffic Court Magistrate Stanley Scherr warned violators yesterday their cost of living dangerously is going up steeply.

The fine for exceeding the speed limit in 25 and 30 mile an hour zones is going up from $5.25 to $10.95. The same increase will take effect in the penalties for running a traffic light or a stop sign.

No exact date for the higher penalties has been determined. They will go into effect as soon as a new supply of traffic tickets can be printed up for policemen.

The standard fine for exceeding 35 miles an hour will climb from $10.25 to $15.95.

Illegal parking in the residential area will jump from $1.25 to $2.95. The downtown area in which a $5.95 fine is applied, will be greatly expanded.

All of these are fines which a violator may pay without appearing in court and contesting the charge. Fines on more serious offenses in cases brought to trial are stiffer.

Md. House Backs Assessment Bill

Bill Advancing Date One Year Receives Tentative Approval

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — The House gave tentative approval today to a bill to begin annual real estate assessments in Maryland this year instead of next.

The unanimous voice vote on the proposal came after a State official told the Ways and Means Committee that the assessment situation is now "pretty much of a mess."

Albert W. Ward, secretary to the State Tax Commission, said approval of the bill would "break a deadlock" in the assessment program.

He explained that assessors had been checking property under the old three-year cycle plan. Under this plan a third of each county or Baltimore legislative district is reassessed every year but the new assessments do not become effective until the end of the three-year cycle.

The cycle will end in most counties in the fall of 1956, but a bill passed last year provides for annual assessments to begin July 1 of that year—or before the cycle is completed. This means the assessments on all but new property have been frozen for the last two years and those made under the cycle system theoretically will never go into effect.

Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th) showed how the State and subdivisions could pick up needed revenues for the next fiscal year if the date for annual assessments were advanced.

He said Baltimore City's assessable basis would be boosted by 50-million dollars if those assessments which have been suspended under the three-year plan—and in practically every case are higher than present ones—went into effect next July instead of a year later.

Since the city's tax rate is $3 per $100 valuation, this would provide Baltimore with 1½-million in additional revenues, said Robinson. Under an 11-cent State property tax rate, Maryland would net about $55,000 more from Baltimore City alone, he added.

Ward said the commission, in preparing to being annual assessments in July of 1956 as originally planned, was compiling maps to streamline the job. Each map will show every piece of property within a 12-square-mile area, he said.

Although the compilation of maps will not be finished until about the fall of 1956, Ward said, he still favors going ahead with the one-year program this July.

In response to a question by Del. Bloom (D-Washington), Ward said "some progress" had been made toward putting assessments in the various counties on an "equitable" percentage basis.

A survey made for the commission in late 1953 showed assessments in Calvert County were about 25 per cent of market value, compared with 60 per cent in Baltimore City, 45 per cent in Baltimore County, and 50 per cent in Allegany, Montgomery, Talbot and Washington counties.

The new annual assessment bill was sponsored by Majority leader Boone(D-Balto County), Minority Leader Derr (R-Frederick), Robinson and Dels. Hanna (D-Wicomico) and Kirkland (D-Anne Arundel).

Del. See (D-Allegany) proposed changing the day of the week for primary elections in Maryland from Monday to Tuesday. Some election machinery.

The House also received a bill which would permit persons buying property under land installment contracts to demand conveyance after paying 30 per cent of the purchase price instead of 40 per cent.

A bill to ban fireworks and other explosive plants in Kent County communities was introduced by Sen. Jewell of Chestertown, scene of a fireworks explosion which claimed 11 lives last summer. It would require all such plants to be located at least one mile from the limits of any town or village.

The House Judiciary Committee gave its approval to the "drunkometer bill," a measure which would allow the introduction of chemical test results as evidence in drunken driving cases.

After long discussion the judiciary group also decided to ask for an opportunity to reconsider a measure changing the procedure for adopting children in Maryland.

Del. Cardin (D-Balto 5th) expressed anxiety over a section which would put the General Assembly in the position of advocating that adopting parents be of the same religion as the child or his parents "whenever possible."

Cardin said he believed this provision was inspired "by an individual" who uses religion as a weapon in political campaigns. He did not officially identify the individual.

The Senate Judiciary Committee was told that increases in workmen's compensation proposed by Sen. Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) would cost Maryland businessmen two million dollars a year.

William S. Wilson Jr., lobbyist for the Baltimore Assn. of Commerce and the Maryland Self-Insurers group, made the estimate.

Dempsey is proposing higher weekly and total payments to injured workers as well as extend the time of their eligibility.

Canada's herds of caribou are being cut down by wolves, hunters, disease and scarcity of forage faster than nature can replace the losses.

Building Inspector Sues Lewis For Libel

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Harry B. House, a Howard County building inspector, has filed a $100,000 libel suit against John Fulton Lewis and his newsletter, Maryland Report.

House complained of an article in the newsletter last Dec. 9 which dealt with the number of miles travelled by the inspector on his job.

Bus Suspension Hearings Slated

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 3 (AP)—West Virginia Transportation Co's. proposal to abandon some of its bus schedules was set for hearing today on Feb. 15.

The suspension proposal would involve 30 trips service such cities as Clarksburg, Charleston, Parkersburg, Wheeling, Fairmont and Grafton.

The Public Service Commission fixed the February date after notice of the company's intentions had been furnished in a letter from company president Carl A. Boe.

The commission earlier had indicated it would require more formal notice than Boe's letter. Such matters usually are submitted on petition.

Boe's letter of Jan. 26 said the company suffered an operating loss of $25,602 in January of last year, and the deficit last month might exceed $20,000.

Boe took over the company, formerly a Baltimore and Ohio railroad property, on Jan. 1 of this year. He said he already had effected economies which would save the company $60,000 a year.

Harbor Tunnel Bids Requested

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today asked for bids on the first and biggest of about 25 projects connected with the building of a 130-million-dollar tunnel under Baltimore harbor.

The bids are scheduled to be opened March 10 in the commission's offices here.

The first contract advertised covers construction of the tunnel itself, 1.7 miles in length, plus ventilation shafts at each end.

The job is expected to go for about 36½ million dollars.

The tunnel is supposed to be open to traffic by Dec. 1, 1957. Other bids will be advertised at various times through the year.

The proposed crossing will run 50 feet below the Patapsco River surface from Fairfield on the south shore to Canton on the north.

It is designed to link Ritche Highway, U. S. 301, the new Washington-Baltimore Parkway and U. S. 1 on the south and southwest edges of Baltimore with U. S. 40 on the northeast.

The link would provide more than 15 miles of high speed expressway from one corner of the city to the other without stoplights or grade crossings.

The toll is expected to be 35 cents for passenger cars. Advance estimates are it will take it about $3,736,000 in 1958.

The tunnel will be composed of twin tubes, each carrying two lanes of traffic.

The tubing will be constructed ashore in sections 300 feet long. The sections will be sunk into a trench gouged out of the river bottom and fastened together.

There will be about 21 sections to the tunnel.

9-Year-Old Boy Dies In Sledding Accident

BLADENSBURG, Md., Feb. 3 (AP)—Kenneth Young, 9, of Rogers Heights, died last night from injuries apparently suffered in a sledding accident.

He was found unconscious beside his sled yesterday morning. He died without regaining consciousness.

Police said no one saw the accident, but he apparently fell from the sled and struck his head.

Carroll Birthplace Given To Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—Historic Annapolis announced today it is receiving as a gift the Davis House, birthplace of Revolutionary patriot Charles Carroll the Barrister, which was bought by an Annapolis merchant at public auction.

Joseph D. Lazenby, president of the society, said Joseph G. Greenfield, owner of the Peerless Uniform Co., had given Historic Annapolis the 233-year-old house provided it be moved to another site.

He also offered to contribute $150 as a start on a fund-raising campaign for this purpose, Lazenby said.

Lazenby said the non-profit society will need to raise an estimated $25,000 to $30,000 to dismantle the house in downtown Annapolis, relocate it and partially restore it.

Gettysburg Apple Hearing Postponed

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Bad weather today forced postponement of a hearing by the Federal Trade Commission on alleged price fixing by apple growers.

The hearing, scheduled for today in Gettysburg, will be held Monday at the Federal Trade Commission building in Washington. Yesterday's heavy snow kept an FTC examiner from traveling to Gettysburg.

The commission held hearings this week in Winchester, Va., when FTC Examiner Abner E. Lipscombs heard testimony from L. V. Brown, president of the National Fruit Co., and Delmer Robinson, a grower.

The FTC charges that apple prices were fixed Aug. 26, 1950, at a grower-processor meeting in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Salk Polio Vaccine Creates Fewer Antibodies In Babies

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 3 (AP)—A University of Michigan doctor said today a miniature test of the Salk polio vaccine shows it produces fewer antibodies in babies than it does in older children.

It appears that booster shots, the doctor said, will be required for babies "if a satisfactory response is to be obtained."

Dr. James L. Wilson, chairman of pediatrics and communicable diseases, said the tests on 187 infants and pre-school children were "apart from an independent of" the main evaluation tests at the university.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. is heading a vaccine evaluation center which is compiling a report as to the worth of Dr. Jonas Salk's vaccine in relation to tests involving two million grade school children. The results are to be announced this spring.

Dr. Wilson's little publicized project is being carried out on a small group of infants in the university hospital and has been under way since July of last year.

A letter is being sent to the parents of the 187 children, notifying them that doctors are ready to administer a fourth, or booster shot.

'Copter Rescues Carrier Pilot

WITH U.S. 7TH FLEET, In Formosan Waters, Feb. 3 (AP)—Fighter pilot Don E. Johnson was plucked from three-foot waves yesterday less than 10 minutes after he ditched his explosion-wracked, burning Pantherjet.

Johnson, a Naval Reserve pilot from Pasadena, Calif., was returning to his carrier after a combat air patrol—one of scores of training missions flown daily to maintain top combat proficiency while the 7th Fleet awaits possible action in the Tachens evacuation.

Johnson was rescued by a helicopter.

Johnson's first warning of trouble was smoke seeping into the cockpit. Seconds later an explosion in the rear half of the plane rocked the Pantherjet. Fire broke out in the tailpipe section. He said he was flying at about only 300 feet.

"The plane sank in about 20 seconds but that was enough time to get out all my essential survival gear," Johnson said.

Johnson was uninjured in the ditching and rescue. The helicopter reached him within five minutes after the plane sank.

"The water was fairly warm—about 70 degrees—and I was not uncomfortable but it sure was good to look up and see the helio and sling coming down to pick me up," Johnson said.

Fabric Trend Challenges Homemakers

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Drapery fabrics now in the third-dimensional technique offer a challenge to the homemaker. Windows are so pretty with draperies drawn that it may be a temptation to shut out the daylight.

One cotton handprint just introduced follows the effect of an architectural room-divider with fruit and plants drawn in a photographic-like technique. It is available in the popular pink and avocado, honey yellow and brown, blue with plum, mauve with grey as well as other color combinations.

There is a trend to fabric design such as this which will be all things to all homemakers. It is modern enough to satisfy lovers of contemporary furnishings and at the same time suggests roots that traditionalists cherish.

The international theme still goes strong with motif reminiscent of other countries, lending depth even to small quarters and offering patterns that will satisfy home decorators no matter what the decor.

Washable fabrics are particularly popular this year. In this group solid and print corduroy combinations are very smart. One fiberglass casement cloth is said to have non-sag qualities and may be washed, rinsed and hung without ironing.

Announcement was made that the Nominating committee will report its slate at the March 2 meeting, when members will vote for a president, vice president and recording secretary. The committee is composed of Mrs. Richard Winer, Mrs. A. L. Rogers and Mrs. William Harrison.

Plans for College Night were announced. It will be held at Fort Hill High School February 16 and at Allegany High School February 21, under the cochairmanship of Mrs. Milton Granet and Mrs. William Van Newkirk. A Valentine supper party also was announced. It will be held February 13 at Frostburg State Teachers College, beginning at 6:30. Husbands and friends of members will be guests. It is under the chairmanship of Miss Nan Livingston.

Preceding the business session a program was presented under the direction of the Great Books Group. Mrs. John A. Cupler II introduced it, explaining there would be three dramatic skits of works studied by the group. It was entitled, "Sketches of Great Moments in Literature."

The first scene was from the play, "Medea." Taking part in it were Mrs. Ralph Webster, Mrs. G. Morgan Smith, Mrs. John Hafer and the children were portrayed by Susan Hafer and Marjorie Smith.

The second act was from "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Mrs. Carolyn Dunlap introduced this part of the program. Players were Miss Sara Wright, and Mrs. Albert Rogers.

The third sketch was from "Crime and Punishment," and was introduced by Dr. Leila Stevens. Players were Mrs. Harold Reese, Dr. Stevens, Mrs. Van Newkirk, Mrs. C. A. Suter Jr. and Mrs. Howard Briggs.

President Uses Many Pens; Cost Taxpayers Few Cents

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—While eager legislators and cabinet officers look on, President Eisenhower signs a bill into law. He uses several pens and when he finishes he passes them out as souvenirs to those who have watched the historic moment.

Last Saturday, for example, Eisenhower used 15 pens to sign the Formosa security resolution. He gave away 12 of these to assembled dignitaries, and, having three left over, he frugally returned them to the box for future signings.

Maybe you've wondered, who's paying for these pens?

Hundreds of bills are signed each year. Are there big profits in the White House pen concession?

Murray Snyder, Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, says the answer to these questions is simple.

The taxpayers pay.

But, Snyder said, although they look like fountain pens in the news pictures, they're actually old fashioned dip pens and cost only a few cents each.

"If you look at the pictures closely," Snyder said, "you'll notice the open ink bottle the President uses, right in front."

Even though a President's home work includes a lot of bill signing, few are important enough to rate an audience.

"The Formosa signing," Snyder said, "is the only one we've had this year. Last year, I'd say, we didn't have more than a dozen to which congressmen were invited."

Eisenhower actually uses each pen in the signing, writing a bit with one, a smidgen more with the next.

The Formosa resolution, a 15-pen job, taxed his literary ingenuity. He wrote: "Approved by Dwight D. Eisenhower, Washington, D.C., 29 January, 1955." And then added the precise moment it all took place, "8:42 a.m." Everything but the weather report, but each person getting one can say truthfully, "this is the pen he used to sign it."

Occasionally congressmen fetch their own pens for the President to use.

Clerk Wasn't Joking About Investments

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—A $60-per-week shipping clerk, whose fellow employes thought he was joking about "big investments," left an estate valued at more than $300,000.

An inventory filed in Probate Court today listed the value of Armin H. Schmidt's estate at $60,251, but it included 10,085 shares of stock listed at only $1 a share. Some of the shares are worth more than $100 each.

Schmidt had worked for the Letterhead and Check Corp. of America here for about 15 years and previously worked as a shipping clerk for a lumber firm and bakery.

Under terms of his will, three-fourths of the estate goes to his daughter with the remainder left in trust for his widow.

Australia Seen Winning Battle To Save Water

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Australia is slowly winning its battle against one of its worst enemies—evaporation of the little water it has.

For nearly two years scientists have experimented with various means to find a sealer that would prevent the sun and other natural influences from causing water evaporation.

Oils were one means, but most of them proved successful only in laboratory tests. Scientists wanted a sealer so harmless the protected water could be used for both irrigation and human consumption.

The scientists believe they are on the right track today. They have conducted small-scale tests with a sealer that looks like bath salts. Its crystals are of cetyl alcohol, which is taken from the sperm whale in small quantities, but could be synthetically produced if need be.

These crystals, added to water, form a film on its surface protecting it to a great extent from evaporating influences. A film only about one-tenth of a millionth of an inch in thickness effectively seals off large areas of water surfaces. And the scientists say this minute quantity of cetyl alcohol, even if used with the water when it is consumed, will not harm man, beast or soil.

Tests are being conducted over various sizes of water areas from Western Australia to the Gulf of Carpentaria which lies in the tropics and where evaporation is particularly high.

Dr. K. L. Sutherland, a leader in the testing, said:

"The greatest test will be the town reservoir serving Broken Hill, the mining center in western New South Wales. They have been pumping water from the Darling River, about 70 miles away, at a cost of more than a pound ($2.24) per 1,000 gallons. If we can reduce evaporation by only 20 per cent there will be no need for the pumping from the Darling River to this storage. And the cost of sealing and thus saving that water will be less than a halfpenny (about half a U.S. cent) per 1,000 gallons."

The declaration signed by President Antonin Zapotocky and broadcast by Radio Prague, thus follows the recent example set by the Soviet Union and Poland.

Better Late Than Never

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Police located a stolen car on a parking lot today.

They notified Vincent E. Knittle of West Hempstead, N. Y., that his car would have been found sooner had the parking lot attendant been a more inquisitive man.

The car was parked on the lot 114 days ago.

VISA TROUBLES — German-born Mrs. Paul Barclay, Fort Wayne, Ind., shows her 16-month-old daughter, Ingrid, the two-year visiting visa which is up March 4, 1955. A victim of tuberculosis four years ago, Mrs. Barclay, wife of an American citizen, has been cleared of any contagious symptoms by Canadian doctors, but medical men at the American consul in Windsor, Ont., refuse to issue her a permanent visa, terming her a "health hazard." If she does not get a permanent visa, she will be deported. (AP Wirephoto)

Author Hails Love Under Communism

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—Women in capitalist countries have been enslaved by men and consequently married women hate their husbands. Love between men and women is only possible under communism where women have gained complete equality.

These are the twin themes of an article in the magazine Questions of Philosophy by A. G. Kharchev. He concludes that the family unit is falling apart and the birth rate declining catastrophically in capitalist countries and especially the United States. He says:

"In capitalist society a woman is supposed to stick to the kitchen, her children, church and clothes. A woman is not considered a whole human being capable of carrying on fruitful labor, political and cultural activities. This brings about an unavoidable mutual hatred between married couples. Unfaithfulness and prostitution are growing from year to year. The crisis of the family is symbolized in the citadel of modern capitalism—the United States."

More people in the United States play the piano than all the other muscial instruments lumped together.

More Wealthy American Businessmen Making Large Gifts To Nation's Religious Enterprises

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Wealthy Americans are investing big sums in God's business.

There used to be only a scattered few religious-minded millionaires who chipped in to support the work of their churches, but today, this is becoming a more common practice.

"Many more businessmen who have made big fortunes seem inclined these days to make large gifts to the religious enterprises of the nation," said veteran philanthropy expert Arnaud C. Marts.

Beyond the inevitable "You can't take it with you," why are they doing it?

"It's a desire to make a better world," said Marts, president of Marts and Lundy, fund - raising counselors. "There's a greater social conscience among businessmen, an increase in social responsibility."

Although John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s 20 - million - dollar gift last month to strengthen Protestant theological education is the biggest single religious donation ever made it came as part of a growing trend.

Records kept by the John Price Jones fund-raising agency of religious gifts of $1,000 or more by individuals, foundations or corporations in 10 major cities, show a sharp climb since World War II.

While such gifts totaled only $145,000 back in the early 1940s. they jumped to nearly two-million in 1945, to 6½ million in 1946, sagged to the three-million-plus bracket through 1949, then shot up again.

In 1950, these big-lump gifts passed the eight-million mark, soared in 1951 to 19 million, then to 29½ million in 1952, down to 9½ million in 1953, then sharply up again in 1954 to nearly 14 million.

The cities where researcher Gladys F. MacGee kept a check are New York, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Washington.

Although the cycle fluctuates from year to year, the over-all picture is one of phenomenal increase in contributions by the rich.

"Some wealthy people have always given something to religion, like the Rockefellers and Carnegies," said the Rev. Thomas K. Thompson, head of the Stewardship Department of the National Council of Churches.

"But the number has increased very noticeably."

He attributed this to a general rise in religious interest, to a growing disillusionment with material things alone, and a belief that only religion can stave off the threat of atomic annihilation.

During the last few years, newspaper files from around the country are sprinkled with reports of big gifts to religious purposes.

Industrialist Myron C. Taylor, former presidential envoy to the Vatican, last month gave a million-dollar gift to the Protestant Episcopal Church for a center on Long Island.

Here are a few other gifts of recent times:

For the fifth straight year, businessman Frank J. Lewis, of Chicago gave $100,000 to the Roman Catholic Church Extension Society, a half million dollars since 1949.

Sportsman Edward J. Baker, of St. Charles, Mo., gave $1,220,000 to the Methodist Church there.

Lea M. Feagin, east Texas oilman and banker, turned over a million-dollar trust fund to the Baptist Foundation of Texas.

J. J. Lynn, Kansas City insurance executive, gave more than a million dollars to the self-realization fellowship of all religions.

An anonymous "Chinese Christian businessman" gave a million to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

A. M. Ellis, Philadelphia hosiery manufacturer, gave $100,000 for Hebrew studies at the University of Pennsylvania because of his "lifelong interest" in the Bible.

Mrs. J. P. Corcoran, of Tucson, Ariz., former wife of the late financier John J. Raskob, $615,000 to the Tucson Catholic diocese.

Lumberman Clyde Harris, of Pendleton, Ore., turned over a seven - million - dollar business to the Seventh Day Adventists. He said:

"We heard a lot about those young missionaries going out in the foreign fields and giving their lives to the Lord. We felt that our money could help."

Many more could be cited, in addition to big bequests to religious groups made in the wills of wealthy people upon death, and major gifts to numerous church-founded colleges.

Marts cited figures showing that in the average year in the 1920's the 747 taxpayers with incomes over $500,000 gave 34 million to charity out of a total income of 999 million.

In 1950, the 842 people in this high income bracket gave 55 million out of a total income of 852 million. The obvious conclusion:

"They are more generous," Marts said.

Venice is slowly settling into the waves of the Adriatic sea from which she rose 1,500 years ago.

British Advertising Firms Look To Commercial TV

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Cameras are grinding out experimental commercials for Britain's new television network, which hopes to get started in September.

A score of advertising firms readily will tell you how excellent these advertising spiels will be—but no one so far cares to give a demonstration. The reason is a somewhat unhappy occurrence some months ago in New York.

"Samples" were displayed there and the critics laughed.

Many of the advertising firms here are counterparts of American firms. They say the early films were not the kind of mature, intelligent commercials British viewers have in store.

"Opposite from the hammer-blow type," an advertising firm executive promised. "They have to be better than in America because they have to come off by themselves."

To explain: The British commercial television setup is markedly different from America's. The Independent Television Authority (ITA) will have separate stations in London, Birmingham and Lancashire.

The British government is making a loan of two million pounds ($5,600,000 dollars) to ITA for its first five years of operation.

The ITA has rented time on its stations to four program contractors. These contractors will sell advertising space and put on entertainment or otherwise fill up their program time.

Spot advertisements must not total more than 10 per cent of the program time — and they must not be tied up with the scheduled programs. They can be spotted any moment the contractor deems valuable. Thus there will be no "sponsored programs."

As for the commercials, one firm has set up what it describes as a "unique operations board" to produce them. It announced: "The public need have no fears about good taste."

This remark was in answer to oft-voiced British fears that commercials might be too aggressive.

"Sexiness and other forms of vulgarity which so many people say they fear may occur in British commercial television will have no place in the commercials produced by this company," one agency said.

This much is known: The commercials will appear in the form of jingles, demonstrations, animations (cartoons), and, above all, pretty girls.

North Rhodesia Has Divorce Law Mixup

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Hundreds of Northern Rhodesian couples who believed themselves divorced may still be legally married as the result of a high court ruling yesterday.

The court found the only ground for divorce in the territory is adultery and that English divorce law after 1923 has never applied here. Thus divorces granted on the grounds of cruelty, insanity or desertion may be invalid.

The court added that it was not even certain whether the 1923 act is valid here. If not, then the divorce law applicable in Northern Rhodesia would be the English law of 1857. Under that act, a wife had to prove both cruelty and adultery to obtain a divorce.

PHASE II, "EXERCISE SNOWBIRD" — One soldier of the 503rd airborne R.C.T. watches buddies drop at Talkeetna, Alaska, during a mass parachute jump signalling the start of phase II of the joint Army-Air Force maneuver, "Exercise Snowbird." Col. Charles W. Davis, commanding officer, led 2,500 paratroopers of the 503rd in the leap.

Two Areas In Colombia Entering Period Of Rapid Economic Growth

By MAX HARRELSON

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—In Colombia today everybody is talking about two regions where big things are expected to happen in the next few years.

These are the great eastern plains, known as Los Llanos Orientales, and the Cauca Valley, which runs down from the western slope of the Andes to the Pacific Ocean.

The only similarity is that both areas are entering a period of rapid economic expansion which will have a lasting effect on Colombia's future.

The Llanos region with its millions of acres of fine grazing lands comprises more than half the total area of Colombia. It is like the great plains of the United States in the days of the covered wagon. Its development has been delayed by two major factors: lack of transportation and four years of destructive guerrilla warfare.

But now the guerrillas have surrendered their arms and the plains are peaceful. The government has promised a new network of roads leading to both the Pacific and Caribbean coasts and to major populated areas of the interior.

This reporter accompanied a presidential party which toured part of this area. For 3½ days we flew from airstrip to airstrip, visiting village after village, yet we barely touched the fringe of the plains.

Traveling with us were some of the pioneer cattlemen of the region. One has 30,000 cattle, another 20,000. Although the land appears suited primarily for cattle raising, Colombia's Minister of Agriculture Juan Guillermo Restrepo Jaramillo said it had great possibilities for farming, especially for rice growing.

President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla is looking for homesteaders to take the land free of charge. He said his government would welcome North Americans, as well as Colombians, to settle the region and help develop it.

Homesteaders can have as much land as they can farm or as much as they can stock with cattle. They will get full title to the land after five years of occupancy.

In the well-populated Cauca Valley on the other side of the country, the chief thought is economic development. This valley is one of the most prosperous parts of Colombia, but business and political leaders are convinced they can double or triple their agricultural and industrial production by scientific development.

Despite the fertility of the land, about two-thirds of it is either flooded part of the year or is too dry at times.

Cali, the leading city of the valley, has increased its population five-fold since 1920 and now with 300,000 is the third largest city in Colombia. New industries are going up on the outskirts of the city, many of them branches of American companies, such as Goodyear Rubber, Goodrich, U.S. Royal and the Celanese Corp.

The main preoccupation of the moment, however, is the newly organized Regional Development Corp., patterned after the Tennessee Valley Authority, which has been created to coordinate development of the whole valley as a unit.

The development corporation was based upon recommendations by David E. Lilienthal, former head of TVA, who made a survey of the country and recommended concentration of the Cauca Valley as an initial project.

The corporation hopes to build a series of dams for flood control, irrigation and electric power. Three engineering firms in the United States have been retained to help train engineering personnel and to help plan the projects to be undertaken. The International Bank has a special mission in the Cauca Valley to assist in planning the financial and economic aspects of the program.

The leaders are thinking in terms of a 10-year program which may cost as much as 500 million dollars—providing, of course, that this much can be raised from international loans and other sources. But in the Cauca Valley, everybody is optimistic for the future.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

William Lindner Service Planned Here Saturday

Former Fire Chief Dies At His Home

William Louis Lindner, 62, retired chief of the Cumberland Fire Department, died Wednesday night at his home, 512 Forester Avenue, following an extended illness.

Chief Lindner had retired February 24, 1951, after completing more than 30 years in the Fire Department. He was appointed chief a month before his retirement, being forced to leave that position due to ill health.

His career as a firefighter began July 1, 1920, shortly after he returned to civilian life following a tour of Army duty overseas in World War 1. He was promoted to lieutenant in 1925 when the two-platoon system was inaugurated in the Fire Department, named captain in 1934, promoted to assistant chief in 1947 and served as acting chief during the illness of John E. Brennan, whom he succeeded.

Chief Lindner was forced to retire before reaching the compulsory age limit of 60 years, which he would have reached on March 26, 1951. Curiously enough, that same date would have marked the 45th anniversary of the department becoming a paid unit.

Known by his fellow-workers as a fearless firefighter, Chief Lindner's last big action was the four-alarm fire which razed a Wineow Street tenement on Christmas Day, 1950. Cited many times for his work at fires, his retirement was accepted with regret by then Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long.

The commissioner said "Chief Lindner was an excellent firefighter and devoted his entire life to the profession. The department will miss his efficient service and devotion."

A native of Cumberland, he was a son of the late Joseph and Mary (Ready) Lindner. His Army service was with the 313th Infantry of the famed 79th Division.

Chief Lindner was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church; Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks; Cumberland Lodge 271, LOO Moose; Cumberland Aerie 245, FO Eagles; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret V. (Rohman) Lindner; a son, Captain Thomas W. Lindner of the Fire Department; three sisters, Mrs. Josephine Rice, this city, and Mrs. Gretchen Fletcher and Mrs. Catherine Shuck, both of Bedford, Pa., and a grandson, Thomas G. Lindner, city.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated Saturday at 10 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Church and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, will conduct a service at the funeral home today at 7:30 p. m.

A ritualistic service by Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles, will follow at 8 p. m. and the Holy Name Society of SS. Peter and Paul Church will recite the Rosary at 8:30 p. m.

MARSHALL SIGEL

HANCOCK—Marshall Sigel, 65, died yesterday at his home in Amaranth, Pa., following a heart attack. He was born December 23, 1889, in Amaranth where he lived all his life.

He was a retired rural mail carrier of Fulton County, Pa., and was very active in community affairs.

Mr. Sigel is survived by his widow, Mrs. Orintha Fay (Akers) Sigel, two brothers, Floyd Sigel, York, Pa.; and Charles Sigel, Amaranth, a number of nieces including Mrs. Virginia Shanholtz of Cumberland, who was reared by the Sigels.

The body is at the Grove Funeral Home in Hancock and will be at the residence in Amaranth after noon today.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 11 a. m. at the Buck Valley Methodist Church with Rev. Walter Twigg officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

The Warfordsburg IOOF and the Amaranth American Legion post will conduct graveside services.

Interesting "Extra" For Simple Meals Is Broiled Banana Apple Rings

Broiled Banana Apple Rings, combining the flavors of cooked bananas and sliced, candied apples, spiced with cinnamon. You'll find this makes a delicious broiled accompaniment to serve with meat, poultry or fish, or top it with whipped cream to make a fine dessert.

Broiled Banana Apple Rings

1 cup sugar
½ cup water
2 apples, unpeeled
3 firm bananas*
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Salt
Cinnamon, ground
*Use all-yellow bananas

Mix together sugar and water in large frying pan. Bring to boiling temperature and cook until sugar is dissolved. Wash and core apples and cut crosswise into 3 thick slices. Add to syrup. Cook apple slices until tender, but still firm, about 5 minutes. Remove apples from syrup. Place on broiler rack or into pan containing rack. Peel bananas. Cut crosswise into slices about ¼-inch thick. Cover each apple ring with overlapping slices of bananas. Brush with butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with salt and cinnamon. Place in preheated broiler about 3 or 4 inches from heat and broil about 5 minutes, or until bananas are brown and tender . . . easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with meat, poultry or fish, or top with whipped cream and serve as a dessert.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Suggestion: One cup of white or dark corn syrup may be used in place of sugar and water.

Baked Bananas An Easy Dish

An even easier dish is whole Baked Bananas. These are made by peeling firm bananas, those that have all-yellow or slightly green-tinged peel, and placing the whole bananas into a well-greased shallow baking dish. The bananas are brushed well with melted butter or margarine, and sprinkled lightly with salt. Then they are baked in a very hot oven (450°F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until tender. The test for doneness is that the bananas can be pierced easily with a fork. These baked bananas are delicious to serve hot as a vegetable with almost any meal combination, or as a dessert, topped with cream, syrup or hot fruit sauce.

Bananas have important nutrition in their well-rounded supply of vitamins, essential minerals and their high food energy. You'll find them an easy asset for your winter meals.

Easy Casserole For Leftovers

Place a layer of coarsely grated potatoes in a greased baking dish; top with ground cooked meat. Pour a thin white sauce, seasoned with grated onion and cheese, over all. Cover and bake in a slow oven (300°F.) for 45 minutes.

Flavor Twist For Liver

Next time you have liver on the menu, let it marinate in French dressing (in the refrigerator, of course) about an hour before you cook it.

DIRECT ACTION . . . Sometimes it's best simply to pick up your child and take him in the house when it's time for a nap or a meal, instead of coaxing him.

Glazing Smoked Butt

Glaze smoked shoulder butt like a whole ham. If simmering in water, remove the butt 30 minutes before the scheduled end of cooking. Place it on a rack in an open roasting pan and spread with honey, orange marmalade or jelly. Then place in a hot oven to set the glaze and to finish cooking.

Good Tasting Pork Suey Makes Economy Main Dish

A Chinese pork dish which long has been popular is chop suey. If it's a favorite at your house, you'll like this chop suey version, with its delicious, somewhat out-of-the-ordinary flavor. It's not the usual bean sprout, pork and celery combination; green beans and a little sherry are used in the rich tasting mixture.

With pork plentiful at most meat markets, chop suey type dishes are economical to serve these days.

Glorified Pork Suey

1½ pounds pork shoulder
½ cup cut up celery leaves
¼ cup soy sauce
2 teaspoons sugar
1 package frozen cut beans
1 cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons sherry (optional)

Trim fat from pork; cut pork into 1-inch cubes. Brown in 2 tablespoons hot fat. Drain off excess fat, add celery leaves, soy sauce, sugar and 1 cup hot water. (No salt is needed because of the saltiness of the soy sauce.) Cover and cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 1½ hours. Add green beans and sliced celery and continue cooking, covered, until vegetables are tender, about 1½ hours. Add green beans and sliced celery and continue cooking, covered, until vegetables are tender, about 1½ hours. Add sherry and thicken, if necessary, with a cornstarch and water paste. Season to taste and serve on hot boiled rice. 4 to 6 servings.

Other Pork Shoulder Uses

Pork Balls On Fruited Noodles

1 pound ground pork
½ cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup minced onion
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Salt, pepper, flour, fat
3 cups bouillon or water
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup raisins
4 oz. noodles (half an 8 oz. package)

Combine first five ingredients, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Shape into 16 firm balls, roll in flour and brown in 2 tablespoons hot fat. Remove balls from skillet, add 4 tablespoons flour and blend well. Stir in bouillon or water and add onion salt, Worcestershire sauce and a dash of pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add balls, cover and simmer over low heat for 30 minutes. Soak raisins in warm water. Cook in boiling, salted water until tender. Mix drained raisins with drained noodles and serve topped with meat balls and gravy. 4 servings.

Sweet-Sour Pork

1 pound lean pork shoulder
Fat, salt, pepper
1 cup bouillon
2 medium green peppers
3 tablespoons chopped onion
4 slices canned pineapple
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup vinegar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
½ cup pineapple sirup (from canned pineapple)
4 cups boiled rice

Heat a little fat in a skillet and in it thoroughly brown the pork which has been cut in ½ inch cubes. Sprinkle well with salt and pepper. Add bouillon and cook, covered, over low heat for 20 minutes. Add green peppers cut into 1-inch pieces, onion, and pineapple slices cut into eighths. Cook another 10 minutes. Blend cornstarch with next four ingredients and add to mixture. Stir constantly until thickened. Cook 5 minutes longer, and add extra salt, and pepper, if necessary. Serve in individual rice rings or nests of boiled rice. 4 servings.

Meat Patties Set Theme For Valentine Meal

Menu

Valentine Meat Loaves

Cherry Pie
Beverage

Just when mid-winter morale needs a boost, along comes February. Here's a little month full of big excuses for doing something special for family meals.

Valentine's Day offers a perfect opportunity to dress up a meal. You can take your cue from the day—it's romantic with hearts and flowers. Home economist Reba Staggs suggests setting the scene with the main course, Valentine Meat Loaves. The only difference between these and the usual ground meat patties is that they're baked in heart-shaped salad molds instead of shaped into round patties and broiled. When they have baked, they are unmolded and "pierced" with pimiento strip "arrows."

VALENTINE MEAT LOAVES

1½ pounds ground beef
½ pound pork sausage
½ cup grated carrots
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup chopped onion
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Pimiento, if desired

Combine ground beef, pork sausage, carrots, seasonings, Worcestershire sauce, onion and beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Pack into heart-shaped molds or a 5 x 9-inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 25 minutes for the small molds or 1½ hours for a loaf. Garnish with pimiento "arrows" if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Fruit Kebab Garnishes

Fruit kebabs are good company for broiled meats. Use any combination of pineapple, apples, pears, oranges, bananas and cherries. Thread chunks of the fruit on skewers. Brush the fruit with melted butter or margarine. Broil the kebabs during the last few minutes the meat is broiling until they're slightly browned and heated through.

Steaks For Broiling

Barley Is Good Company For Lamb Shanks

Barley is stuffed into these lamb shanks for a novel twist your family will applaud. Serve tomato salad, green beans, whole wheat bread, butter or margarine, prune whip and a beverage with the stuffed lamb shanks.

Stuffed Lamb Shanks

6 lamb shanks
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups water
¼ cup barley

Brown the lamb shanks in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover and simmer until tender, about 1½ to 2 hours. Remove meat from broth. Cool and remove bones. Cook barley in lamb broth adding water if necessary. Stuff lamb shanks with cooked barley. Thicken remaining lamb broth with flour for gravy. Pour gravy over stuffed shanks, cover and cook on top of range or in a moderate oven (350° F.) until heated through. 6 servings.

Perk-Up For White Sauce

Perk up the flavor of white sauce by adding chipped beef to it. This sauce will accent vegetables and it can be served over opened baked potatoes for a pleasant change.

Don't Sear Meat

Molded Apple Juice-Cranberry Jelly

This Apple Juice-Cranberry Jelly, cool and tart and fruity, is cheer and comfort to any hostess because it can be served in such a variety of ways, and is delicious in all of them.

By itself, it's a beautiful and crunchy relish to accompany turkey, duck or chicken.

Garnished with greens or served on watercress, is stars as a pretty, gay salad to serve with cold sliced turkey or meat. Or, made in a ring, the center filled with parsley — sprinkled cottage cheese, it's the important dish at an informal luncheon, along with sandwiches and glasses of apple juice.

The jelly is a dessert, too — forked gently into glinting ruby fragments, spooned into individual dishes and crested with whipped cream.

However, wherever, whenever you serve it, the bright lively flavor of apple juice and canned apple slices play a big part in its success. They give those delicious overtones of good tart apple. And the apple juice adds richness to the color and a brilliant shimmer that makes the jelly look as good as it tastes.

You'll find the jelly easy to make, and quick — a big plus in its flavor in this busy holiday season. Put it together in the morning, set in the refrigerator and there it is, ready to serve when you need it.

Molded Apple Juice-Cranberry Jelly

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
2 cups apple juice
1 cup canned apple slices, well drained
1 cup home-made cranberry sauce
* ½ cup chopped celery
½ cup broken walnut meats
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Watercress

Soften gelatine in ¼ cup apple juice. Heat remaining 1½ cups apple juice; add gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Chop apples, mash or break up cranberry sauce. Combine apples, cranberries, celery, walnut meats, sugar and cinnamon. Add apple juice gelatine mixture; mix well. Pour into mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on watercress; garnish with whole fresh cranberries, if desired. Yields 8-10 servings.

* Substitute canned pineapple bits for the celery, if jelly is to be used as a dessert.

(This is an original recipe kitchen tested by Gertrude Lynn, nationally known Home Economist.)

Apple Sauce Cookies

½ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 cup seedless raisins
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup canned apple sauce

Cream together shortening and sugar; add egg. Beat well. Add raisins. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda, baking powder, nutmeg and cinnamon. Add alternately with apple sauce to creamed mixture. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven, 400° F., 12-15 minutes. Makes 7 dozen.

Late Evening Snack

Coarsely chop 8 frankfurters. Mix with 1 cup grated sharp cheese, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons chopped pickle and 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion. Cut 8 frankfurters buns almost through and fill with the frankfurter mixture. Wrap each roll in aluminum foil, sealing ends carefully. Place in refrigerator to chill. Just before serving time, heat the wrapped rolls in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes or until cheese is melted Serve immediately.

Here's a sauce that will turn leftover loaf cake into a delicious new dessert: Heat apple juice, thicken with cornstarch, sweeten to taste and add a shake or two of nutmeg. This sauce is also fine with puddings and baked custard.

Mix Soups For 'Soup Mates'

Sometimes it's a game of hearts. And sometimes it's a kitchen game, because many cooks enjoy matchmaking with soups, mixing one with another for special new "Soup Mates."

You probably are an "old hand" at whipping up special soups from the standard kinds in cans. Which "soup mates" are your very own favorites? When you fix them, just think how many other "soup surprises" you can dream up. The possibilities are countless—almost. With the 24 regular soups in the canned line, you can match up many a new twosome to tantalize appetites.

By mixing soups, you can quickly make an exact one to suit your liking, anytime. It may be as dainty as chicken rice mixed with cream of chicken. Or it may be as he-man as beef noodle with vegetable soup. Put this one with that one. Go this way; go that way. You'll be rewarded with soups that taste like a million, and have your own touch of genius.

Full-Of-Chicken Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 soup can water
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed chicken with rice soup
Stir chicken soup until smooth; blend in water and chicken with rice soup. Heat but do not boil. 4 servings.

Country Kitchen Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed beef noodle soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetable soup
1½ soup cans water
Blend soups and water; heat. 4 servings.

Vegetable Soup—Peasant Style
1 can (1¼ cups) Bean with Bacon Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Vegetable Soup

Quick Meals Can Be Easy On Budget

Combining a career with homemaking presents some meal preparation problems. For instance, how can you plan quick-to-prepare meals and still be on friendly terms with your food budget?

There are many meats which are both time and money-savers. They can be prepared in several ways, so you won't have a monotony problem.

Even though roasts and pot-roasts usually take more than an hour to cook, they can appear in your weekday meals — you can cook them the night before. Their preparation will not tie you to the kitchen all evening. The next night you can take your choice of the way you serve the meat. The cooked meat can be combined in endless variety with sauces, seasonings, quick breads, cooked vegetables and starchy foods such as potatoes and macaroni.

If you've been yearning for a stew, there's no reason why you can't prepare stews and other braised meats the night before. Then they can be cooled, stored in the refrigerator and re-heated the next night.

Ground meat is a handy standby. There's an imposing variety of canned meats and ready-to-serve meats which can save you time, too. It's wise to keep some on hand all the time.

Sour Cream Cake Has Versatile Ways

If a cake is as light as down and is rich and delicately flavored, too, then it's a pleasure to serve it for almost any occasion. Sour Cream Cake is just such a cake, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

Swirl it with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting for a weekday dinner or for a school lunch. Top it with soft mounds of pink-tinted seven-minute frosting for a birthday party. For a shower, spread the cake with a lemon butter frosting and sprinkle green-tinted coconut over it.

Sour Cream Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; ¼ teaspoon baking soda; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ cup lard; 1½ cups sugar; 2 eggs yolks, beaten; 1 cup sour cream; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 3 egg whites.

Line two 9-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together. Cream the lard and 1 cup sugar until light and fluffy. Add well beaten egg yolks. Add sour cream and flour mixture alternately. Add the vanilla. Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry and then beat in the remaining ½ cup sugar until it barely disappears. Fold egg whites into cake batter. Pour batter into pans and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Top with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting.

Fluffy Chocolate Frosting

¼ cup butter or margarine; 1½ cups confectioners' sugar; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 2½ squares melted chocolate; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon milk; 2 egg whites

Cream butter and half the confectioners' sugar; add vanilla, melted chocolate, salt and milk. Mix well. In another bowl beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; then beat in remaining ¾ cup confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, and continue beating until the mixture stands in peaks. Carefully fold the chocolate mixture into the egg whites. Spread on cake.

Prices Irregularly Lower In Quiet Market Session

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — The stock market was irregular today with the tendency toward lower prices.

The day as a whole was a rather quiet affair with volume relatively low and price movements generally narrow. Steels were lower and most motors were down. Railroads were higher on balance. Textiles did well in a minor way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents at $156.00. The fall of Standard Oil (NJ) off 3⅛ at 114⅛ was reflected in the drop of 50 cents in the industrial component of the average. Railroads were up 20 cents and utilities were ahead 20 cents.

Volume was the lowest in nearly two weeks at 2,890,000 shares. That compares with 3,210,000 shares traded yesterday when the market was lower.

Bell Aircraft was at the head of the most active list up 4 at 31⅝ on 97,000 shares. The strength resulted from introduction of the company's new vertical take-off jet. Demand for the stock was great.

It was followed in the most active list by Hupp Corp. up ⅞ at 5⅝, Fairchild Engine up 1⅛ at 19⅝, Sunray Oil up ⅝ at 24½, and commercial Solvents up 2 at 25½.

Three Escapees From Penal Farm In W. Va. Sought

An automobile in which four West Virginia State Penitentiary trustees escaped from a work detail at Weston State Hospital has been recovered in Oakland.

Authorities said the convicts abandoned the car of maintenance superintendent R. B. Barbrow in Garrett County and are presumed to be in Maryland.

One escapee, Paul James Huffman, 21, of Walton, W. Va., was captured Monday near Charleston. He was serving one to ten years for breaking and entering.

Still at large are David M. Mason, 24, near Beckley, two to ten years for forgery; James Shears, 21, Mt. Claire, one to ten years for grand larceny, and Thruman Maynard, 23, Omar, one to ten years for grand larceny.

D. W. Simmons, captain of guards, said Mason was on duty in the boiler room, under which the escape auto was parked. The car was observed rounding the rear of the building and it was assumed that Barbrow was driving.

Mason apparently took the vehicle from its parking place and drove to the rear of a barracks to pick up his three comrades.

The four were originally sentenced to the State Penitentiary at Moundsville, then transferred to the Medium Security Prison at Huttonsville and later assigned to the Weston hospital, located at the intersection of U. S. Routes 19 and 119.

All State Police detachments and county sheriffs offices in Maryland and West Virginia have been alerted to be on the lookout for the remaining three escapees.

10 Area Men Join Air Force

Ten area men have been accepted for enlistment in the United States Air Force, according to M/Sgt. Ralph J. Stewart, local recruiter.

The group includes Theodore L. Welsh, 477 Central Avenue; Hobert E. Smith, RFD 2, and William H. Clayton, 528 Columbia Avenue, all this city; Frank C. Winterstein, 59 Blocker Street, Ridgeley; Homer M. Shanholtz, Great Cacapon, W. Va.; James R. Conner, Corriganville; William G. Conner, Mt. Savage; Cecil Hileary Bridges, RFD 1, Hyndman; Charles Dennis Marker, Cresaptown; and John Edward Richards, RFD 6, Cumberland.

Democrat Central Committee Meets

The Democrat State Central Committee of Allegany County last night endorsed plans of the Young Democrat Club for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, and outlined several other programs of party interest.

Meeting in the offices of the chairman, Attorney Thomas B. Finan, the committee also endorsed candidates for appointment to the offices of board of election of supervisors, and an assistant. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin had requested the committee to make recommendations so he can complete appointments to the election board.

Kaye Trumpet Player Visits Cousin Here

Gene Lorello, trumpet player with Sammy Kaye's orchestra, dropped in on a first cousin last night when the Kaye band played at the Maryland Theatre.

Lorello stopped in at the home of Eugene Scaletta, Park Heights, between shows, then left after the band's one-night stop here. Lorello formerly visited Cumberland with the Xavier Cugat band a few years ago.

Inter-Racial Marriage Is Performed Here

An inter-racial marriage between a native of the Philippines and a Pennsylvania woman was performed here in January, according to records in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Flour And Potatoes For Western Maryland

As so often happens in cases of this type, reports of unemployment and the need for food in Garrett County have been "greatly exaggerated," on the basis of inquiries conducted by American Legion posts at Oakland and Grantsville.

That there is unemployment in Western Maryland obviously cannot be denied. Neither can the fact that some families are hungry and without food.

Nonetheless the ugly spotlight of wide publicity again has been focused on this area.

The Garrett County Commissioners were only fulfilling their responsibility when they asked the state welfare board for additional funds to help alleviate the situation and it is unfortunate they had to be turned down, at least until the middle of this month.

Now George P. Mahoney, the bridesmaid but never the bride in three statewide election contests, has announced that he personally will distribute food in the form of flour and potatoes in both Allegany and Garrett counties.

There is an old adage about not looking a gift horse in the mouth, and we feel certain that the recipients of these gifts from Mr. Mahoney will be deeply appreciative of his generosity.

Doubtless they already are saying what a wonderful man Mr. Mahoney is for coming to their help.

If we were convinced that helping the less fortunate were his sole aim, we could do nothing but heap praise upon him. But there happens to be a photographer along with Mr. Mahoney in his food-giving trip and that raises in our minds some conjecture as to his sincerity.

Of course, we have no way of knowing what purpose Mr. Mahoney has in mind with his photographer. Maybe he won't even take any pictures but we scarcely believe he would be along on the trip if that wasn't in mind.

Now, as we said, we imagine the recipients of this food will be very grateful, but we wonder how willing they will be to have their pictures taken for posterity as the recipients of charity.

It could be that Mr. Mahoney has in mind trying again to get elected to some state office and he believes these pictures and his gifts of food will make good campaign material.

But perhaps that is not his purpose either since, when Mr. Mahoney was campaigning for governor in 1950, when the economic picture and outlook here were much darker than they are now, he did not volunteer to give away any food to the hungry. That was at a time when he had the advantage of being on the spot and observing firsthand just what conditions were. Perhaps he thought then that gifts of food would be taken as a political maneuver inasmuch as he then was running for office.

This time, he is not an announced candidate for anything and his purpose may be entirely genuine.

But we can't overlook that photographer. His presence makes Mr. Mahoney's intentions questionable to say the least and raises the thought, Is he doing all this for personal and political gain? The fanfare attached to it certainly makes it seem so.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Cease-Fire Plan

The argument for the cease-fire plan is that any shooting can lead to universal shooting, that is, to World War III. The efforts of Great Britain are designed to avoid, one might almost say evade, World War III. The British do not argue that they know what the advantage of a delayed war might be; they do know the disadvantages of an immediate war, namely, that the British Isles could be wiped clean because of the ferocity of current weapons.

Sir Anthony Eden has stated the British intention in one paragraph:

"In this situation the first concern of Her Majesty's Government is to stop the fighting. They have therefore continued to urge on all concerned the importance of doing this and of preventing a wider conflagration. A solution of these delicate and difficult problems is not to be reached by force. A settlement can only be arrived at by the peaceful processes of patient negotiation."

The argument against the cease-fire and United Nations mediation is that the Red Chinese want Formosa, they want it particularly before the April conference of Asiatic-African nations. It is not so much a matter of reason as of "face." If Chou En-lai can defeat the United States on this issue, he could elbow Nehru aside and become the dominant individual in Asia.

It is apparent that Soviet Russia is beginning to wonder about Chou En-lai's Napoleonism but whatever decisions concerning Formosa are made in the Soviet Universal State, the Kremlin will make them, possibly at the Supreme Soviet meeting which began February 3. However, the Russians probably will not decline the role of mediator with the hope that they can hand Formosa and the Pescadores to Red China, thus proving that the junior partner in the Soviet Universal State cannot do as well as the senior partner. That would deprive Chou En-lai of "face" while getting the benefits of the mediation.

Whichever way it is done, through the United Nations or by Russian intervention, the cease-fire can only lead to prolonged negotiations for the abandonment of Formosa by the United States. Recognition of Red China by the United States or a seat in the United Nations for Red China, or the division of China into two, the People's Republic of China and the Republic of Formosa, will not be enough. What Chou En-lai wants is Formosa, neither for its strategic value nor as an act of irredentism but to strengthen his position among the Asiatic nations, to give him "face" by another defeat of the United States, to prove to the Asiatic world that he is the smartest and ablest man in Asia, not excepting the moralistic busybody, Nehru.

This view of the situation is well understood on both sides and is frightening for all the Europeans and Asiatics, except Red China, because it can lead to an hysterical act committed for public opinion rather than for a sound goal. The comments on the cease-fire in the Red Chinese press would indicate that there is little mood for mediation. It is suggested in this country that the Red Chinese press adopted a similar tone before the cease-fire in Korea. The situation was altogether different; the stakes were smaller; the peril to Red China was not as great. If Chou En-lai fails in his current objectives, his own position in the Soviet Universal State will be considerably reduced; he will have lost "face" in China; he will not be the cock-of-the-walk at the Bandung conference. His greatest ambition, which is to succeed Mao Tze-tung, may become unachievable. It is Formosa or bust—for him.

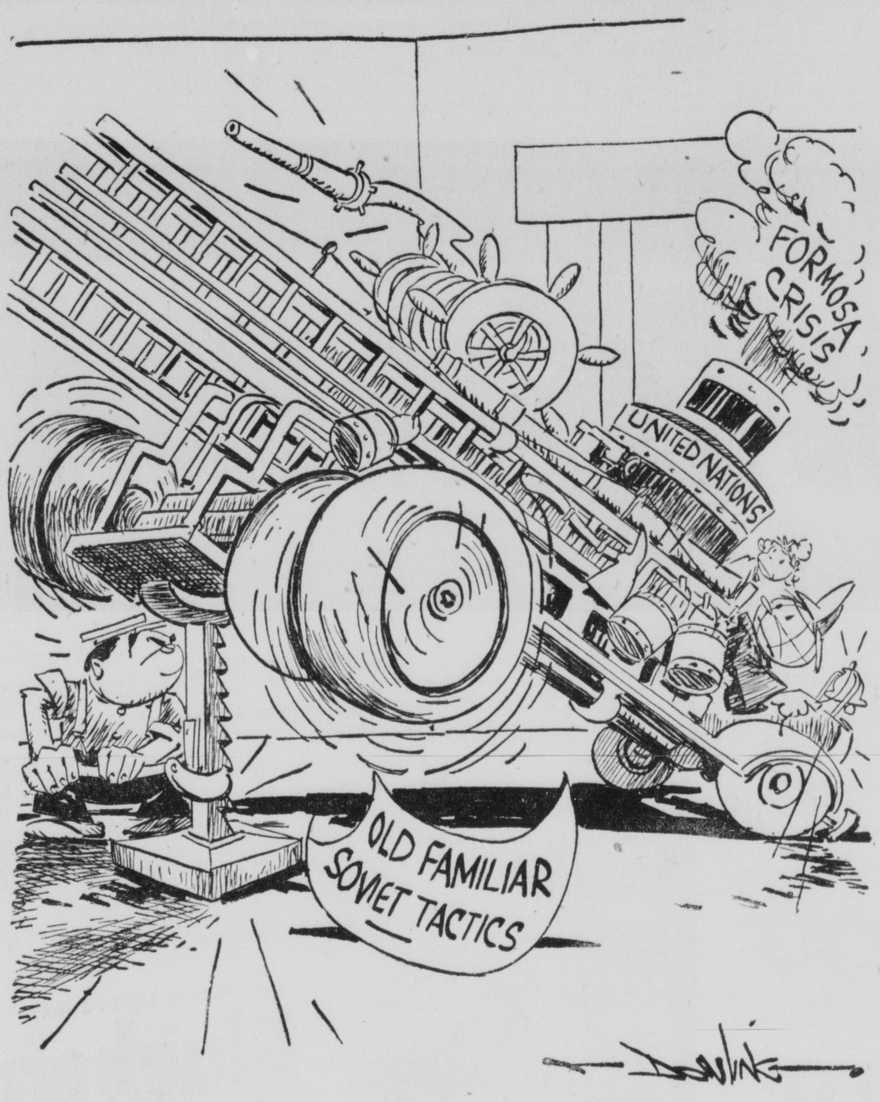
The Security Council Goes Into Action



Dictatorship Will Continue In Spain, According To U. S. Ambassador Dunn

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Ambassador James C. Dunn, long-time envoy to Spain, has given some amazing secret testimony to a congressional committee regarding the chief Fascist nation in the world. His praise of Dictator Franco dripped almost like syrup as he told the congressional representatives of the country with the most representative government in the world the advantages of fascism.

So far, his remarks have not been made public.

Dunn, who was transferred to Brazil only this month, is a career diplomat and croquet partner of Cordell Hull. Dunn was a vigorous advocate of recognition of Dictator Franco and also urged an arms embargo against the Spanish Loyalist government to help Franco.

His testimony was given to investigating congressmen when they visited Spain in September. Dunn reported that Dictator Franco was sitting solid with the Spanish people except for a certain amount of labor opposition; that relations between the United States and Spain were rosy, and he confidently predicted Franco would be able to carry on for 10 years while his dictatorship would continue for 25 years. Dunn even praised Franco's regimentation of women.

Congresswoman Katharine St. George of New York, the Republican who defeated isolationist Congressman Ham Fish, was skeptical.

Franco's Health

"Suppose in the normal course of events Franco should get out of the picture," she asked. "Who would take over?"

"We have given a great deal of thought to that," Ambassador Dunn replied. "General Franco is about 61 years old and in very good health. I think he is good for another 10 years or so because he takes very good care of himself. If anything should happen to him, I am convinced that there is someone here in Spain in the higher levels of the government who would be selected to carry on in his place. He has set up an arrangement already to name the successor. . . .

"We have to face the fact," Dunn concluded, "that we will have this sort of regime here — a nonrepresentative regime; but this type, which is fairly mild — for at least 10 years and possibly 25 before you would begin to have a return to a representative government."

"That is one of the troubles with these dictatorships," commented Congresswoman St. George. "You cannot tell when the one man may get out of the picture."

"They have to watch that very carefully, because if there's any interim this whole thing might flare up again," said Dunn.

"Are there any personal differences between our administrators and the Spanish government?" asked Congressman Charles Brownson, Republican, of Indiana.

"No," replied Dunn. "It's just too good to be true. To me it is a new sensation, because I have been in other countries where there have been such arguments, but not here."

The ambassador at this point obviously omitted the manner in which Franco has hiked certain U. S. military costs at the last moment and the unpleasant wrangle that the Air Force has had over the right of Protestant American GIs to marry Spanish girls unless they join the Catholic Church or the church gives approval.

Regimentation of Women

Ambassador Dunn was also enthusiastic over the Communistlike regimentation of Spanish women.

"The women's organization is very interesting," he explained, "because they have the women all organized, and every young girl from about 17 to 18 or 19 has to serve at least six months in some social service — not military, but some social service — either helping in a hospital or producing something. They have a very fine school in which they train the leaders of those girls."

The American ambassador's conclusion was uncomfortably like the apologies Nazi leaders made for the Hitler youth movement.

"I have seen it in operation," he said, "and it certainly does not do them any harm. It does them probably a lot of good. They learn a certain amount of discipline and order, and in this whole movement they are always inculcating the doctrine of patriotism.

"It isn't a bad idea," he concluded, unmindful of how closely the Fascist system resembled the same training methods we are opposing in Russia.

Franco's Strength

Describing the reasons for Franco's support, the American ambassador testified:

"The reason this present form of government and General Franco are carrying on and being supported and maintaining hold on the people here is because, in the first place, he has the support of the army. . . . who are extremely loyal to him. He also has the respect of the Catholic Church, which is very strong because the country is practically 100 per cent Catholic.

"The third element is this political group which is called the National Movement, which is deliberately whipping up a certain amount of patriotic sentiment."

"Are there any economic controls?" asked Congressman George Meader, Republican, of Michigan.

"Yes, every kind of control," replied the ambassador. "You will find some new ones you could not think up even."

Dunn then told how it was necessary to have a license to buy almost anything, even a typewriter.

Censorship Report Could Change Press Conferences

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Maybe President Eisenhower will have to give consideration soon to the idea of two separate press conferences—one for the television cameras and one for the newspapermen who are not interested in dramatic effects but solely in news.

With characteristic good nature and sense of fairness, the President, through his able press secretary, James Hagerty, arranged to have certain sections of his regular press conference released for the films. So unfamiliar are the cameramen with the customs and traditions of newspapermen that immediately a hue and cry was set up that the White House was "censoring" the news. On Capitol Hill it was even whispered by partisans as a consequence that the President was releasing only the stuff that would make good political propaganda.

Unfortunate Report

What was overlooked by the cameramen was that "censorship" is a word used to describe suppression. Because certain sections of the conference were not released for TV didn't mean that what the President said was withheld. All the newsmen—and they represent every press wire service—and all the commentators who give news broadcasts on TV or radio were still permitted to write everything they heard but not, of course, in first-person quotations. Because a stenographic record is kept of these conferences and is available a few hours afterward, the news writers can paraphrase in the third person and give it all to the public the same day. It was most unfortunate that any of the cameramen spread the idea that some kind of censorship was being introduced.

Actually, for many years it has been customary for presidents to speak off the cuff and then later on, if they liked, to release for first-person quotation various sections of the transcript which the newspapers might have requested for use without the paraphrase. It so happens that, with the TV cameras and film machines recording the transcript for the first time all that the White House did was to use the same rule that had been applied previously—it selected certain sections for first-person quotation. For, after all, it would not be possible to have the TV Cameras carry on their networks any quotations that were denied to the news writers.

Within Its Rights

Even if the White House were disposed to release certain sections of the transcript of a presidential press conference to the newspapers and radio and not to TV, it would be within its rights. For there are times when a president stumbles in giving an answer, and this could produce an adverse impression to the eye. But thus far anything that has been released for first-person quotation to the press has been given to the cameramen to use in the newsreels or the TV.

It is, of course, questionable whether in the long run the coverage of the press conferences by films will rebound to the political advantage of the President or will be good for TV, either. This is because in a prepared speech the President can speak more effectively than in an impromptu talk. The public also may get bored with the press conferences on TV because most of the time the camera is focused on the President and there is little of the atmosphere of being present at a conference. The face of none of the questioners was shown, for instance, in the first press conference that was filmed on TV. If the entire conference were shown on the screen, then the President would appear distant from the eye because it takes place in a large room with a couple hundred correspondents in it.

Present Method Unsatisfactory

Many of the questions and answers at a press conference may be important to those familiar with the subject matter, but a mass audience will not long take an interest in a rambling discourse on the number of kilowatt hours that needs to be furnished through a Dixon-Yates contract or the fine points of a security-problem check-up. If the TV folks want a theatrical showing, they could get a better one by having a separate filming in which the President carefully acted out for their benefit certain parts of his conference with the press or if the TV men themselves staged something more dramatic. But the present arrangement can only in the end prove less and less valuable as a means of getting information needed as background.

For a president who feels he is going to be checked up and called a suppressor or censor of news because he hesitates to release everything he says at a press conference is likely to wind up with a "no comment" habit on vital matters. What's important is not the development of the press conference into a show but its continuance as a serious institution wherein the people, represented by the press, can get a maximum amount of information from the President in any way he chooses to give it—off the record or on the record, in the third-person paraphrase of in first-person quotes.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like all this trouble started when the Chinese stopped walking single-file.

There was a time when the Orient was as peaceful as a day nursery in the night time.

But somebody pulled the string on the figure-4 trap and school was out.

Ike has asked everybody to dummy up and let the U.N. handle it. Seems to us that those bird-watchers have been eating crow under glass.

We agree that a blockade is an act of war if it's only a picket line around Paddy's market.

It would have no more effect on China than petting a porcupine. And would get all the nations in the world sore as hammer toes.

We put in a bid for diplomacy at top-sergeant level because the old-timers knew their China. They were the lads who fought the Boxer Rebellion around 1900. There are no more left in official circles.

I got the story of beef bone reef from surgeon Kaveney of the Navy. The side-paddler Baltimore built for the Civil War was anchored off Hong Kong so long she ran aground on her own soup-bones.

That's one Ripley didn't believe. But Kaveney squared it with the story of the Chinese light house which was true. He was brigaded up the Yellow River with the English gunboats. And brought back an authentic prophecy of accumulating events.

In 1920, I was official bootlegger for the New Mexico in San Francisco harbor. Josephus Daniels could have told you about that. He was the fellow who dessicated the Navy. I shook hands with him while a bottle under my arm gurgled like Tennyson's pet brook.

That night in the wardroom of the New Mexico Kaveney told Runyon and myself we had to fight Japan. You know the rest, in the books you have read about the liver pill ads on the farmyard walls.

We Are Not They

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEH, Formosa

Here is one point, at any rate, on which President Eisenhower and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek appear to be in agreement.

Judging by the soothing statements emanating from Washington, the American administration is convinced that the Chinese Communists will not press the Formosa crisis to a warlike conclusion. The generalissimo also believes that the Communists will even refrain from attacking Quemoy and the Matsu Islands if they are firmly and clearly told that this will mean war with the United States.

Thus high level judgment may be said to be all on one side. It is at least worth noting, however, that the visible hard facts of the situation are all on the other side.

No single piece of tangible evidence discoverable by this reporter supports the official judgment in Washington and Taipeh. This judgment of the Formosa crisis has been reached very evidently, by calculating what we would do if we were the Chinese Communists ruling in Peking. But it is always well to remember that we are not they.

Forgotten In 1941

This was forgotten in 1941, for instance. The American leaders were then chiefly conscious of the strong opposition at home to any involvement in the war. Therefore they could not believe the Japanese would commit the folly of forcing America into the war. But the Japanese were chiefly conscious of the American naval threat on their Pacific flank. They could not believe they could move southward with safety without eliminating this American threat. And here, and not in any silly talk of plots, was the real explanation of Pearl Harbor.

Other disastrous examples might be cited of the same error, such as Gen. MacArthur's "home by Christmas" attack toward the Yalu. And in the present instance, the conviction that the Chinese Communists will not risk war over Formosa is based on what we think will best serve Red China's interests. But those who hold this conviction somehow manage to overlook both Red China's warlike preparations and warlike declarations.

These preparations and declarations are the hard facts—what the Marxists call "the objective evidence." The preparations have been going on apace for at least two years.

Secondary Airbase Too

By extending existing airfields and building new ones, the Chinese Communists have built up one great jet airbase complex in the Yangtsze River delta, in Chekiang and Kiangsu provinces, within easy range of the Tachen Islands and Okinawa. They have also built up a secondary but wholly adequate airbase complex in the region directly across the Formosa Strait, within easy range of Quemoy, the Matsus and Formosa and the Pescadores.

Great efforts have been made to stock these airbase complexes with large reserves of all kinds of supplies. At present the main Communist air force has already moved from Manchuria and the Peking area into the Yangtsze delta airbase complex. It can move south again at will.

Meanwhile, an army of 200,000 men has been assembled at the jump-off point for an attack on the Tachens. An equally large force threatens Quemoy and the Matsus, which are held by less than 40,000 Chinese combat troops. And the assault on Yikiangshan has already revealed careful Chinese Communist training for triphibious operations.

Thus the forces for an attack are in place. Meanwhile, the Peking government has been promising its people to take Formosa this year at the top of its voice. The Peking leaders have also been assuring leaders of neutral nations, like Burma and India, that they mean every word they say about taking Formosa.

Should Have Removed Doubts

Finally, there are excellent reasons to believe that Chou En-lai had exact advance knowledge of the contents of President Eisenhower's message to Congress on the Formosa treaty. If there was any lingering doubt about the American military guaranty of Formosa that message should have removed it. Yet the Chinese Communist Prime Minister having this knowledge, at once reaffirmed the Chinese purpose to take Formosa this year.

It is really hard to see why the brilliant Chou En-lai should thus engage Peking's prestige to the very hilt if the threat to Formosa is a mere vainglorious maneuver intended to extract some other concession from the West. In fact if Washington and Taipeh are right about the real Communist intentions, you have to conclude that Chou En-lai is a mere boastful muddler.

Such is the conflict of evidence. This reporter's opinion, which is worth little, is that the thing is an even bet either way for this year. But a Communist grab for Formosa is a virtual certainty next year or the year after that, if we do not strengthen our shockingly weakened defenses on this side of the Pacific and if we fail to find some better Asian policy than piece-meal retreat.

Growing Old? It Depends Upon How You Look At It

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Growing old is a relative process. The youngster regards anyone as ancient who has gray hair, baldness, wrinkles, crow's feet, or feebleness. But the individual who reaches this stage of life has different ideas, especially when active and young at heart. This may explain the popular saying that an old person is anyone 10 years older than yourself.

Doctors Jacob Tuckman and Irving Lorge, Columbia University psychologists, sent out a questionnaire to 982 men and women of varied age, education, and socio-economic levels, asking them to specify whether they considered themselves young, middleaged, or old. Subjects under 30 invariably classified themselves as young whereas less than one per cent in the 30-59 age group regarded themselves as old.

Only 17 per cent of men and women in the 60s thought they were old but 38 per cent in the 70s and 53 per cent in the 80s placed themselves in this class. A few long past the 60th birthday encircled the word young on the chart because they felt and behaved like youthful persons, in their estimation.

It is well known that people age at different rates. A man of 60 may be as young as the average at 40, or as old as a man of 80. According to Dr. C. Ward Crampton, there are seven kinds of age. Most of us are familiar with chronological age, which represents the actual milestones.

The anatomical age refers to the occurrence of certain important events in the body. All cells, tissues, and organs grow, mature, and decline. Anatomical epochs include the appearance of the first tooth, puberty, gray hair, wrinkles, hardening of the arteries, shrinking of the kindneys, or other alterations. All these changes imply that a certain stage of development has been reached.

Physiological aging enters the picture with waning function of various tissues and organs. Testing in this field is concerned with reaction time of the nervous system, diminution of vision and hearing, the menopause, decline of the sex glands, and loss of skin elasticity.

Psychological aging is concerned with how the person feels and acts. Many oldsters have made great contributions to science, industry, politics, and literature. Experience and a storehouse of knowledge compensate for declines in motor and sensory capacities.

Pathological aging stems from the injury done through repeated infections, strain, and dissipation. Damage of this nature may age a man 10 years or more. Conversely, adequate treatment will de-age him by 10 years.

The sixth and seventh forms of aging are statistical and hereditary. Hereditary aging is dependent upon our parents and grandparents; the members of some families are old at 50, regardless of living habits.

ACID ASH AND STONES

H. L. writes: Why is an acid ash diet given to a person with kidney stones?

REPLY

Diet is important because some renal stones are prone to form in urine that is acid; others develop when the reaction is alkaline. The initial stone is analyzed after its removal to determine its ingredients and if it is composed of phosphates, an acid diet may prevent the formation of additional stones.

BOUTS OF BURSITIS

P. L. writes: Does bursitis of the shoulder tend to recur?

REPLY

One attack does not immunize the individual against another bout, but the same conditions that produced the first attack will bring others if the cause is not corrected or if it recurs.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

I never quite believe the stories I hear about boners pulled on high school examination papers, but even if this one isn't quite true, it bears repetition:

"One beautiful evening in 1852 Queen Elizabeth entered Coventry, and after removing all her clothes, rode through the streets astride a snow-white stallion.

"On her way, she bumped into Sir Walter Raleigh who was embarrassed by her appearance and threw his cloak around her, crying, 'Honi soit qui mal y pense' which means 'Thy need is greater than mine.'

"The Queen graciously responded, 'Dieu et mon droit' ('My God, you're right').

W. Va. Senate Favors Opening Public Assistance Records

Bill Makes General Inspection Possible

By CHARLES R. LEWIS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 3 (AP)—The West Virginia Senate passed 30-2 and sent to the House today a bill to open public assistance rolls for public inspection.

The measure provides that lists of relief clients shall be filed monthly in the offices of county clerks, where they would be available for anyone to examine them.

In a busy afternoon, the Senate passed three minor measures and sent them to the governor for his signature.

Both Senate and House received from bi - partisan sponsors a resolution to form an 8-member citizens' advisory commission to survey and study the state's mining laws, and report back to the 53rd Legislature.

Sens. Marchand D-Monongalia) and Reed (R-Preston) sent in the resolution, in the Senate, while the House sponsors were Dels. Lloyd (D-Monongalia) and Seibert (R-Ohio). It would project a study of the mining code and suggest revisions.

"The nice thing about it," Marchand commented to newsmen, "it wouldn't cost the state a penny."

He explained that the interested groups from which the commission members would be chosen could be expected to bear any expenses incurred by the study.

Tomorrow's forenoon session indicated another long weekend recess. Word went around the legislature halls that Gov. William C. Marland could be expected back for another speech early next week, possibly Monday, this time to outline his revenue proposals for the general fund.

The governor has already held three speaking engagements before joint sessions of the House and Senate.

The resolution to revamp the mining laws referred to "pressing demands for a greater simplification and modernization of the present mining laws."

The three bills passed by the Senate and sent to the governor said:

Provide for nomination of justices of the peace and constables at party primaries instead of district conventions, in instances where vacancies occur more than 30 days before the August primary.

Broaden the law dealing with resignation and removal of National Guard officers to include federal laws and regulations pertaining to the National Guard and Air National Guard. Such removals and resignations are now covered only by state laws.

Permit the governor to confer the rank of brigadier general, or higher rating, upon the state adjutant general. This would enable the adjutant general to hold a rank equivalent to that which he would have if called into active duty. The measure also provides a new stipulation that the adjutant general, to qualify for appointment, must have had at least six years of commissioned service in the National Guard.

AFL Unions Picket School Projects In Bedford Area

BEDFORD — Two Cumberland AFL craft unions are affiliated with the Altoona Building Trades Council in picketing five school building projects in the Bedford School district.

They are Teamsters and Chauffeurs Local 453, and International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers Local 568, officials of these locals said today.

The officials said while picket lines have been established by the Altoona Building Trades Council no members of the Cumberland locals are participating.

Schools affected are Bedford High School and four elementary schools — Bedford South Elementary, Manns Choice-Harrison, Colerain and Snake Spring.

Pickets carry signs saying the work is not being done by 100 per cent union labor. The AFL workers walked out Monday in the dispute involving three non-union contractors on the projects.

Cumberland Valley School, also being picketed by AFL workers, is not affected since no union contractors are engaged there and non-union employes have ignored the picket line.

$1,000 Awarded In Auto Suit

KEYSER — A Mineral County jury deliberating a damage suit, returned a verdict last night awarding Oria Murphy $600 on her $15,000 claim and her husband, Frank Murphy, $400 on his $5,000 claim.

The case had been filed by Mr. and Mrs. Murphy against William T. Dixon and John L. Kline, as the result of a traffic mishap, in 1951 at Hedgesville near Martinsburg.

The accident occurred following a snow storm and the State Roads Commission's truck was cindering the highway. Road signs were erected to warn motorists of a 15-mile per hour speed zone, and the plaintiff charges that the truck, driven by Kline, was traveling at 20 miles per hour, and crashed into his auto.

Dixon testified yesterday that he had sold the truck prior to the accident and that he was not responsible for the damages.

Henry Whiting and N. Howard Rogers, attorneys for Murphy, said that the auto was pulled to the side of the road when the truck approached, and that the truck hit the car. Mrs. Murphy suffered a broken arm and serious injury to one ear.

Westernport Council Moves Toward Filtration Plant

Survey Authorized; Land To Be Bought

WESTERNPORT — Plans are being set in motion towards the erection of a filtration plant here. It was ordered at the meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and Town Commissioners Wednesday night that Horace P. Whitworth, the town attorney be requested to contact the owner of land adjacent to the town's reservoir relative to the purchasing of the portion of land.

This strip of ground is 126 by 445 feet.

The mayor was authorized to contact Glace and Glace, Harrisburg, Pa., for a survey for the proposed filtration plant.

Mayor Michael read an offer of free ground to install a storage tank in the vicinity of Greene's Addition to give a better water supply to people of that area and for the new Westernport High School.

It was indicated they would accept the ground if the engineer recommended that the tank be built in that particular place.

Commissioner Maurice Brundige stated that a Mrs. Maphis is contemplating building a house in the vicinity of the dead end on Cromer Street if she is provided with city water and the barrier across the street is removed.

Water would be supplied for her and city officials decided to remove the barrier.

Robert Abe Sellars, a street employe, who is being called for military duty will be granted a leave of absence and will be given his vacation pay.

Mineral County Delegate Wants New Game Bill

Sponsors Bill To Halt Hunting Of Doe Deer

KEYSER — Delegate Joseph W. Kessel, Mineral County representative in the state legislature is trying to check "indiscriminate killing of does, which threatens extinction of our deer herds in West Virginia." He has been fighting for a change in deer seasons, and has introduced a bill in the house that would permit counties to rescind doe seasons in their respective areas.

The measure, identified as HB 249, is designed to permit any county to abolish doe hunting upon the receipt of a petition bearing the signatures of a majority of the county's registered voters. The form would be submitted to the Conservation commission.

The commission now recommends a six-day season, known as "hunters' choice," which actually amounts to indiscriminate shooting of deer, from fawns on up, the solon asserted.

Continuing, he said:

"The consensus of opinion in my region is that such a season would wipe out our rapidly diminishing deer herd. The declining herds seem to prevail in counties of the eastern and central parts of West Virginia.

"The bill would have no effect on killing of bucks," Kessel claims.

Westernport Faces Water Shortage

WESTERNPORT — During the cold snap the water in the town's reservoir dropped six inches a day, Mayor Okey E. Michael stated. This occurred in spite of running the pumps 24 hours a day.

This condition is particularly due to many people leaving their faucets open running the water to keep water pipes from freezing.

The mayor stated at the regular meeting of the Town Council Wednesday night that if a long cold spell were experienced and this practice continues there will be a shortage of water.

Frostburg Teachers Sweep Potomac State Series, 76-63

Dave Marple Racks Up 26 For Bobcats

Holds Gene Guarilia To One Goal; 500 See Battle In Frostburg

FROSTBURG, Feb. 13 — Frostburg State Teachers College, playing the first game in its new gymnasium, celebrated the gala occasion by whipping Potomac State College's Catamounts tonight by the score of 76-63. Five hundred persons witnessed the contest.

It marked the first time in many years that the Bobcats had swept a basketball series with their Keyser rival. Frostburg won the opening game in Keyser, December 4, by the score of 80-76.

Highlight of tonight's game was the stellar all-around performance of Dave Marple, of Frostburg, who led the attack with 10 field goals and 26 points and held the high-scoring Gene Guarilia, usually good for 20 or more points, to a single field goal and eight tallies. The Potomac State ace fouled out six minutes before the final whistle. E. Smith, of Potomac also made his exit on fouls in the final period.

For the first time this season Frostburg played without the services of its star guard, Mike Nofsinger, who quit the squad to join the Air Force. Bill Kirk turned in a commendable game as Nofsinger's replacement.

Potomac State took a 2-0 lead at the outset but never was in front thereafter. After the score had been knotted at 4, 8, 10 and 12, the Bobcats took over and held a 37-30 advantage at halftime.

E. Smith headed the Potomac State scorers with seven baskets and 17 points.

Voigts Resigns As Grid Coach At Northwestern

"N" Club's Criticism Causes Bob To Quit

Bob Voigts

Ranking behind only Illinois' Ray Eliot in point of Big Ten coaching service, the 39-year-old Voigts said that because of criticism of his coaching he was quitting "for the good of the university."

His contract was to expire September, 1956.

The criticism came from Northwestern's lettermen group, the "N" Club, which as long as a month ago began hunting for Voigts' scalp. One "N" Club officer had predicted then, "We'll have a new coach by spring football practice."

Voigts' eight season stay at Northwestern is matched in the Big Ten only by Stu Holcomb at Purdue and surpassed by Illinois' Eliot, who has been boss since 1942.

It was reliably reported the "N" Club had boosted Voigts for the Dartmouth coaching job, now filled, to ease his resignation.

Although Voigts' teams had a 33-39-1 record since he succeeded his former coach, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, in 1947, the Wildcats won only 1 of their last 12 Big Ten games. Northwestern defeated Illinois 28-26 in the finale of the 1952 season and then didn't win again in conference play until last fall's windup against Illinois, 20-7.

St. Michael Cops Fourth Straight

SS. Peter-Paul Tops St. Patrick's, 57-33

St. Michael's, of Frostburg, notched its fourth straight win of the second half race in the Catholic Youth Basketball League by defeating St. Mary's on the latter's court last night by the score of 53-24.

SS. Peter and Paul, first half champions, downed St. Patrick's in the opener of a twin bill on SS. Peter and Paul court by the score of 57-33.

St. Patrick's held their West Side rivals to an 18-18 draw in the first half but did a fadeout in the third stanza when SS. Peter and Paul rallied for 20 points to grab the long end of a 38-25 score.

Bernard Barbe dumped in 21 points for the winners. Mickey Scaletta and Vincent Lepore scored 11 of the 12 baskets and 28 of the 33 points credited to St. Patrick's.

St. Peter's of Westernport took the measure of St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage in the nightcap affair here by the score of 43-30.

Kalbaugh, Ternent and DiBuono had 14, 12 and 10 points for St. Peter's while Carter headed Mt. Savage with an even dozen tallies.

FRANK THOMAS

Thomas, Conn Will Attend D. D. Dinner

Pirates' Star, Boxer Will Be Here Sunday

Frank Thomas, home run belter of the Pittsburgh Pirates, definitely will appear here Sunday at the seventh annual dinner of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Club, officials of the local organization were advised last night by Al Abrams, Pittsburgh, national president of the Dapper Dans.

Abrams also assured the local committee that Billy Conn, former light-heavyweight champion of the world, who fought Joe Louis twice, has accepted an invitation to appear at the dinner set for the local K. of C. Home at 6 p.m.

Bob Prince, Pittsburgh radio sports announcer, will act as master of ceremonies.

Thomas and Conn will head a long list of sport celebrities coming here for the annual event, proceeds of which go to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The advance sale of tickets is reported to be good, 155 pasteboards having been sold. At least 100 more tickets are expected to be purchased. They may be obtained at 13 different local agencies, also at the K. of C. Home prior to the dinner.

Fisher & Robinette's String Snapped At 22

Campers Visit Mt. Savage, Fort Hill At Valley High

Ridgeley Seeks 11th PVC Win Over Romney; Jackets At Piedmont

Allegany and Valley, deadlocked leaders in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Basketball League, resume firing tonight in games at Mt. Savage and Lonaconing.

Coach Walter L. Bowers' Campers (3-1) journey to Mt. Savage to face Johnny Thomas' Mt. Savage High Indians, recent upset victor over Beall, while Fort Hill will test the Black Knights on the Valley High court.

Allegany defeated Mt. Savage here by the score of 49-41 and the Injuns would like nothing better than to dump the Campers in Mt. Savage. Valley trimmed the Sentinels on the latter's floor, 54-43, and figures on making it two straight tonight.

The Campers and Valley have 4-1 records in the league. Mt. Savage and Fort Hill have identical marks of two wins and three losses.

Carver Aims For .500

The only game scheduled in Cumberland tonight is that between Hyndman High School's Hornets and Carver High School. Carver gave the Pennsylvanians a hot battle before bowing 51-49 on January 21 in Hyndman and needs a win tonight to crash the .500 circle for the first time this season. The Frederick Street quint has won six and lost seven. Hyndman has won 14 out of 18 engagements and has eight more games on its slate including tonight's game here.

Hawks Seek 11th In Row

Ridgeley goes after its 11th in a row when it meets Romney High's Pioneers on the Ridgeley court. The Blackhawks are the only unbeaten quint in the 14-club PVC. Romney was crushed by Ridgeley in the series opener, 51-22.

Moorefield, runner-up with a 10-1 record, goes to Piedmont to play the Lions who gave the Yellow Jackets a real scare before they were finally subdued in the series opener at Moorefield, 45-43. Piedmont is out of the running for the title but could hurt a contender at this stage of the race.

Vikings After Revenge

Jesse Riggleman's Petersburg Vikings, fresh from a 59-43 upset win at Keyser, will be out to avenge a 59-58 setback at the hands of Franklin's Panthers when the teams tangle in their series finale tonight in Petersburg. Fort Ashby is at the West Virginia School for the Deaf in another P. V. C. engagement.

Keyser High plays Coach George Whitacre's Bulldogs at Martinsburg tonight.

Other area games Friday night include Circleville at Thomas, Tygarts Valley at Davis, Northern at Salisbury, Bayard at Southern (Oakland) and Hedgesville at Wardensville.

Thomas will be gunning for its 13th win of the campaign while the Highlanders of Coach Leonard Ritchie hope to make it 10 wins tonight.

The last pitcher to shutout the Yankees in a World Series was Preacher Roe of the Dodgers. He beat them 1-0 in the second game of the 1949 Series.

Ted Atkinson Dumped After Winning Race

Returns To Scales On Pony; Isasmoothie, 63-1 Shot, Is Third

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Dutch Lane, claimed out of his last race a week ago for $14,000 from Brookmeade Stable, sported the silks of his new owner, Sol Rotenberg of Toronto, Can., to a surprise victory in the first division of the $5,000 Indian Creek at Hialeah Park today.

The 7-year-old son of By Jimminy-Dutch Cut was put to a vigorous drive by Ted Atkinson to win by a half-length from L. Mantell's Immense and paid $11.30, $5.00 and $4.00. Immense, who returned $3.00 and $3.40 finished 3½ lengths clear of the 63 to 1 shot Isasmoothie, which was $12.10 third.

Fourth in the field of 10 older horses was Brookmeade's 7 to 10 favorite County Clare, a length behind Isasmoothie. The winner went over the 7 furlongs in 1:24 1/5 on a fast track.

Atkinson was dumped when Dutch Lane wheeled after the race, tossing the veteran jockey near the 6½ furlong pole. After a six-minute delay, Atkinson came back to the scales on a pony owned by the outrider, Dominick Condone.

Hasty House Farms' Torch Of War, with Eldon Nelson in the irons, raced fully to expectations as he outran seven rivals in the second part of the Indian Creek. It was the horse's seventh start of the winter his second win. He paid $4.40, $3.10 and $2.70.

E. K. Bryson's Abbezac, $5.80 and $4.10, was a rapid-closing second, though beaten 2¼ lengths by Torch Of War. W. M. Peavey's Spartan Jett, $4.50, finished third, a short length farther back. Hyphasis, a one-time stakes winner for Belair Stud, now owned by Mrs. Charles Silvers, stopped badly and finished seventh. The time was 1:23 4/5.

Gene Conley of the Milwaukee Braves in his first full season in the major leagues, found the Dodgers his softest touch. He beat Brooklyn five times and lost only once.

Navy-Maryland Game Resolution Ditched

ANNAPOLIS Feb. 3 (AP)—A House of Delegates committee decided today it would be unwise to try to legislate an annual football game between Navy and the University of Maryland.

The Ways and Means Committee voted against a resolution that would have urged the state's U. S. senators to use their influence in having the game scheduled.

Former Sen. Millard Tydings was instrumental in having the teams play in 1950. The series was discontinued after the 1952 game and Navy has declined to renew it.

Heap, Varrichione Signed By Giants

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 3 (AP)—Halfback Joe Heap and tackle Frank Varrichione of Notre Dame have signed contracts with the New York Giants and Pittsburgh Steelers respectively of the National Football League.

This was disclosed today by Julius Tucker, South Bend businessman who served as negotiator for Irish stars turning pro.

Tucker described both contracts as "quite satisfactory." Presumably both were for one year.

Ted Kluszewski Gets Pay Boost

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs today landed the big one in their 1955 contract net.

The pay boost came after a banner 1954 season for the big first baseman in which he:

Led both major leagues in home runs with 49 and in runs batted in with 141.

Led the National League's first basemen in fielding for the fourth consecutive year.

The exact salary to be paid Kluszewski was not disclosed by General Manager Gabe Paul but it was estimated his year's pay checks would total somewhere between $35,000 and $50,000.

Toby Falls In Line

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3 (AP)—Catcher Toby Atwell today returned his signed 1955 contract to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Durando Fights Gavilan Tonight

That's the question tomorrow night when the Cuban Keed, stripped of his welterweight title in his last start Oct. 20, goes back to work after doing the mambo for three months.

If Gavilan's work with a dance troupe has the same effect on his legs that similar hoofing had on Sugar Ray Robinson's, the Keed could be in deep trouble.

Ernie Durando, the guy in the other corner, can hit. He can't do much else but he really can hit. If Gavilan has gone back far enough, Durando will find out.

As one handler of fighters said, "If Carmen Basilio could drop Gavilan, then Durando should put him down for keeps." Basilio floored Gavilan at Syracuse, N. Y., in September, 1953. It was only the second time he had been down in his career and he never has been stopped in 117 fights.

The 10-round match at Madison Square Garden at 10 p.m. (EST) will be carried on network radio and television (NBC).

Gavilan is a 3-1 favorite. The Keed has a 98-15-4 record and Durando has a spotty 39-18-4. The Rock from Bayonne, N.J. has been stopped three times, twice in the last year by Billy Kilgore and Peter Mueller.

Mahoney Arrives With Food For Needy Families

George P. Mahoney, prominent Baltimore County contractor and politician, has arrived in Western Maryland with a photographer to assist in the distribution of flour and potatoes he is donating to needy families.

Truckers unloaded 12,000 pounds of flour yesterday at the Canada Hose House headquarters of the Auxiliary Police. A load of 30,000 pounds of potatoes will be unloaded at the same place today, Mahoney said yesterday.

Shortly before noon the Mahoney party left for Oakland with 6,000 pounds of flour and 15,000 pounds of potatoes for distribution in Garrett County.

Mahoney plans to remain in Garrett and Allegany counties several days conferring with county commissioners and other officials regarding early distribution of the flour and potatoes.

It is planned to distribute the food to 700 families in Allegany County and 300 families in Garrett County. Each family is to receive two 10-pound sacks of flour and 50 pounds of potatoes.

Melvin Harris Is Elected President Of TWUA Local

MELVIN HARRIS

Melvin Harris, 34, of 11 Mill Street, Frostburg, was elected president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), in a runoff vote completed Wednesday night.

Harris defeated John G. Thomas by 34 votes by the 2,100-member union.

Irvin Lewis was elected vice president over Thomas F. Powers and Charles Davis was named secretary-treasurer in a contest with Charles E. "Buck" Jones.

Elected members of the executive board were Floyd Grady, Lindley Dye, Walter Mahaney and Edward Borgman. Two members of the executive board were elected last week in the balloting. They are Vito J. Dormio and Ira McBride.

Results of the election were announced yesterday by George B. Lyons, chairman of the elections committee, following an official tally of ballots. Lyons said the newly-elected officers will be installed February 25.

The new president of the local is a native of Frostburg and is a son of Mrs. Margaret Harris and the late Charles Harris. He attended school in Frostburg and graduated from Beall High School.

In 1939 he entered the service of the Celanese Corporation of America at the Amcelle plant and has been employed there ever since, except for several years service in the Army during World War II. He was in the infantry and served overseas in the European theater of operations.

Harris is married to the former Miss Helen Hargosh. The couple has two children, Melvin Jr., and Cheryl.

From 1948 through 1949 Harris served as sub-chairman of the Textile Engineering Department at the Amcelle and he is currently the business manager of the local. He was also business manager in 1950, 1953 and 1954.

Jury Amends Accident Ruling

A jury in Circuit Court yesterday found in favor of a man who had appealed from a decision of the State Industrial Accident Commission.

The jury found the man, Columbus Bittinger, of Woodlawn, near Frostburg, had been totally disabled from injuries received in a rock fall in a mine operated by the W. and W. Coal Company.

The state agency had previously granted Bittinger only partial disability payment. Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson were attorneys for Bittinger while Earl E. Manges was counsel for the mining firm. Chief Judge George Henderson presided.

County PTA Council To Meet

The third meeting of the Allegany County Council of Parent Teacher Associations will be held Monday at 8 p. m. at West Side School.

The Allegany High School Boys Glee Club will present a musical program under the direction of Miss Dorothy Willison.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, will be moderator for a panel discussion on "How To Provide Better Juvenile Protection for Our County Schools."

Two students, Joel Downey of Beall High in Frostburg, and Ronald Mears, of Fort Hill, will give the viewpoint of youth. Harold Reese, a member of the faculty at Frostburg State Teachers College, and Homer Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for county schools, will discuss youth and the school and youth in Juvenile Court. Rev. John Bailey Jones, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Frostburg, will speak on the family and church.

Five members from each PTA unit in the county must attend the session to qualify the organization they represent in the program of having one delegate sent to the summer conference at the council's expense.

Mrs. Stanley Buckley will be in charge of devotions and Mrs. Brooks Starcher will be chairman of the refreshments committee.

Report Of Public Welfare Shows 24 Cases Are Added

The report of the State Department of Public Welfare for December shows an increase of 24 cases on the rolls of the Allegany County Welfare Department over November, according to Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the board.

She said five persons were added to the old age assistance group, eight cases of aid to dependent children added, eight totally and permanently disabled persons were placed on the rolls and three children placed under foster care.

Mrs. Westerfeld said the report shows that a state-wide increase in aid was given in December over November with the largest increases in the aid to dependent children and foster care of children. This bears out the statistics on the heavy increase in the birth rate in recent years.

Old age assistance, Mrs. Westerfeld said, was rendered to 663 individuals. The total payments amounted to $26,946.69, for an average grant of $40.64, she pointed out, adding that the average individual grant state-wide was $44.82.

Payments for aid to dependent children amounted to $28,664.38, according to Mrs. Westerfeld, who said 916 children in 328 families were benefitted. The average grant per family was $87.39 in comparison to $95.79 state-wide.

There were 301 persons who received aid under the permanently and totally disabled category. The payments totaled $12,684.38, Mrs. Westerfeld explained, for an average individual grant of $42.14. The state-wide average was $52.58.

Payments for foster care amounted to $2,503.67, Mrs. Westerfeld said. The 54 children for whom the payments were made thus received an average payment of $46.36, slightly more than the average state-wide payment of $44.79.

Garrett Area Unemployment Report Termed 'Exaggerated'

The unemployment problem and reported need of food and clothing for Garrett County residents was discussed at a recent meeting of Mountain District, American Legion, at the home of Fort Cumberland Post 13.

Arthur G. Norris, Frostburg, vice president of the Legion's Department of Maryland, said the state group had requested information on the subject in order to determine if it could be of assistance.

Representatives from Proctor-Kildow Post 71, Oakland, termed the reports "greatly exaggerated," while members from Accident Post 208 said conditions there were "not bad." Grantsville Post 214 said the situation there was being "taken care of."

Officials of Garrett County posts were scheduled to meet this week with welfare workers to determine the extent of any needed assistance, and in turn report back to district officials.

The concern of the American Legion Maryland Department results from a report last week by Garrett County officials which termed the unemployment situation "very serious" and "worse than in the depression years."

Norris also announced at the meeting that the present district membership is approximately 200 more than at a similar time last year. There are 13 posts in Mountain District, Norris explained, and seven districts in the state. All posts represented presented reports concerning the distribution of food to needy veterans and child welfare cases at Christmas time.

Radio And Television

parade of 18 heroines of soap operas, singing happy birthday to radio and forming little groups. It looked like something out of your high school Christmas play or maybe the annual potato festival of the Harrisburg Junior League. Endless people like Ed Wynn and Art Linkletter stood up and took bows from the audience. And Vincent Lopez with Paul Whiteman and orchestra played "Nola."

The really great moments of radio were touched on only once by cribbing heavily from Edward R. Murrow's and Fred Friendly's "Hear It Now" album. Once again we heard Lowell Thomas announce the arrival in Paris of Charles A. Lindberg, the Duke of Windsor's renunciation of his throne for "the woman I love," Winston Churchill's "this was their finest hour" speech, John Daly announce that Pearl Harbor had been attacked. These were radio's finest hours, but there was precious little of this.

I liked seeing Paul Whiteman in action again, conducting "When Day Is Done" and Eve Arden doing a bit from "Our Miss Brooks," and Edger Bergen and Charlie McCarthy talking about the old days, and Milton Cross and Harry von Zell telling about their famous fluffs.

But the definitive cavalcade of radio, the era of sound which has now definitely passed, has still to be done. Perhaps it ought to be done on radio.

School Board Stands Pat On Salary Plan

Teachers Association Releases Statement

The Allegany County Board of Education has turned down the request of the Allegany County Teachers Association to reconsider its teacher pay recommendations.

The board had endorsed a raise of $300 for next year and a additional $100 for the following year.

Kenneth R. Malcolm, president, said the five members of the board are standing pat on their original endorsement.

According to action taken at Saturday's meeting of the association, the next step will be to submit the wage increase proposal to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Yesterday another statement was issued by the teachers association in connection with its background for a pay raise.

"One of Maryland's most critical problems is the acute shortage of teachers caused by her rapidly rising birth rate and ever expanding population," states John D. Kelly, chairman of the public relations committee of the Allegany County Teachers Association, which, with the legislative committee, will meet with the commissioners tomorrow to discuss the proposed salary schedule for Allegany County teachers.

"Maryland's school population has increased 140,000 in the past decade," Kelly emphasizes. "Since World War II, this tremendous increase in student population has been felt chiefly in our elementary schools, however, in the next six years as children are promoted, it will be felt at the secondary level."

According to statistics published by the Maryland State Teachers Association, an estimate places the jump in secondary school enrollment at an average of 10,000 pupils yearly until 1959-60, then up to 15,000.

"What has happened to Allegany County school enrollments?" asks Kelly. "Records at the office of the Board of Education show that the enrollment in 1940 was 14,883 students with 490 teachers; in 1950, 15,295 students with 570 teachers, and in 1954, 15,974 students with 625 teachers. This represents an increase of more than a thousand students and of 135 teachers since 1940. Each year the demand for educators is more acute both here and elsewhere in the state," he points out.

"Unless the salary schedule here is commensurate with that of neighboring counties, it will become more difficult to maintain a fully qualified staff as the scarcity of teachers increases," states Kelly.

"In 1954 there were 2,859 new teachers needed in Maryland, yet in June 1953, only 831 were graduated from the five state teachers colleges. Many uncertified teachers were hired as a result. In the state, 43 per cent of the certificates issued to new teachers this year were emergency ones.

In Allegany County, 14 per cent of the teaching personnel is on an emergency basis.

"The obvious solution to this critical problem," says Kelly, "is to attract sufficient numbers of outstanding high school graduates to our state university and teacher colleges.

"In Allegany County, the comparison of teacher earnings with workers who require no professional training after high school will give an insight into the reasons why so few young people decide to enter the teaching profession," Kelly points out.

"The beginning teacher here receives $2700 ($2800 in 1955) after four years of college work with its accompanying expenditures and loss of earning power during those four years, while a Civil Service employe, just out of high school, receives $2750 yearly.

"Several who have completed their teacher training and have entered the profession have left it for better paying positions in industries.

"Teaching hours sound enticing, but add to a day in the classroom the extra hours of work at night and glamour diminishes. Only those in the profession and their families know the heavy load of school work, of inservice training and of community activities which teachers carry.

"In industry or business, the work day is eight hours with time and a half for overtime. Teachers receive no overtime pay for their extra work except in very rare cases, as teaching adult classes in special fields.

"Directors of extra-curricular activities spend many hours after school training students in dramatics, music, publications and recreation, with only one compensation—that of producing worthy citizens.

"The work of a teacher is not measurable in dollars and cents as is that of the employe in the production field. Since the development of a child's mind that will help create and form the thinking and conduct of generation to come is the teacher's responsibility, his profession should not be placed in the 'low income field', thus tending to discourage energetic, intelligent young men and women from entering it," Kelly concludes.

Before entering service, Pfc. Barnes attended Fort Hill High School and was a member of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR. Assigned to active duty last November, he is home on a 10-day leave.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3—(INS)—Jimmy Stewart is going to play a bit in "Picnic," which stars Bill Holden at Columbia. When I first heard this, I could hardly believe it. But it's true.

Stewart, who with his percentage cuts makes millions out of his pictures, has told Josh Logan that he'll do the minor part of the middle-aged businessman in "Picnic" because Josh is one of his best friends and this is his debut as a movie director.

It isn't the first time Jimmy has done a small role out of friendship. Remember he played a clown bit for C. B. DeMille in "The Greatest Show On Earth"

Colleen Miller—who has been honeymooning in Miami with Ted Briskin and his parents (?)—will be here Monday, minus her bridegroom, to play the lead with Tony Curtis in "The Rawhide Years." Arthur Kennedy is also in the line-up for this U-I western in Technicolor.

The bride didn't dare ask for more time off because the studio very nicely permitted her to bow out of "All That Heaven Allows" to marry Briskin in Chicago.

David Wayne, who's been merely a sensation in "Teahouse Of The August Moon" on Broadway, returns to Hollywood over the weekend, and Eli Wallach replaces him in the New York hit.

Don't say I told you, but it's all but signed for David to star in the MGM movie version of this charming play.

John Forsythe, the other top actor in the Broadway show, remains in the cast until July, when he's due to report to Paramount for his new contract

If Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski is in the frame of mind to accept, she can pick up $10,000 a week—not hay even to an heiress—on the same show with the Ritz Brothers at the Flamingo in Las Vegas.

The Ritz Freres' agent has already put Harrison Forman to work on a semi-dramatic skit for Gloria, who is now all-out "dedicated" to a career.

She'll have to make up her mind in a hurry as the Ritzes have a March opening date at the Flamingo.

Ann Sheridan's secretary, Gloria Murphy, was married Sunday to Henry Pena, a cousin of Rudy Acosta, who is the big romantic interest in Ann's life.

Joan Crawford was all over the Red Book awards party touching up everybody's hair with a brush dipped in a little bottle of silver she carried in her purse. Yes, her own hair is silver tipped, too.

Nancy Sinatra Jr., brought her mother back a gray crocodile purse from Australia and lounge suit of tapered black pants and a shirt embroidered in pineapple from Honolulu.

The funniest conversation of the week—Marlon Brando seriously advising James Dean not to be too eccentric!

Roz Russell, who has had one article printed by Readers Digest, has sold the magazine another based on the advice her father gave her when she was in her 'teens.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (INS)—Now, every time I see somebody given a plaque or a silver service for meritorious work in baseball or the parsnip industry, I think of a presentation story I ran across in researching the Las Vegas series.

The late Sen. Tobey, the Kefauver committee's voice of conscience, was questioning Barney Ruditsky, former New York detective who went to work in an assortment of trades in California after retiring from the force. The main topic was Benny Siegel but Tobey veered off to the famous Atlantic City meeting in 1932 at which the top figures in gangland conferred.

Sen. Tobey—Who called it?

Mr. Ruditsky—It was called by Big Frenchie. He was with Owney Madden. He called this meeting and the purpose was to apportion the rackets to the different people. The syndicate was going to maintain it but there wouldn't be any cutting in and they decided to stop killing one another. I don't know what went on at the meeting but they assigned different parts of the country to different men; different parts of the rackets.

The ex-cop then laughed and continued:

"At that time a very funny incident occurred. They presented a watch to Owney Madden. Big Frenchie was to present the watch to him. Now he never had made a speech in his life. He got up to the dais and he said:

" 'Owney, have you got a watch?' Owney said yes and took it off and showed it to Big Frenchie. Big Frenchie didn't quite know what to do. So he dropped Owney's watch on the floor and stepped on it and he said, 'Gee, I'm sorry I broke your watch, but here's another one for you,' and presented him with this watch.

Sen. Tobey—I am not sure that that isn't a better speech than a lot of senators make.

Mr. Halley—Turning now to the Las Vegas area (etc. etc. etc.)

Sen. Tobey's efforts to condemn the long-since-dead Siegel crowd the Kefauver reports. When the committee was questioning Moe Sedway, associate of the extinct gangster, this transpired:

Mr. Halley—Siegel represented a certain amount of muscle from Los Angeles, didn't he?

Sen. Tobey—He was a rat, wasn't he?

Mr. Sedway—A rap?

Sen. Tobey (indignant, no doubt)—Rat. R-a-t.

Mr. Sedway—Maybe. I don't know.

Sen. Tobey—He got what was coming to him, didn't he? Good thing, wasn't it?

Mr. Sedway—I wouldn't comment on it.

Sen. Tobey—If you had your life to live over again, would you play the same kind of a game again?

Mr. Sedway—No, sir.

Sen. Tobey—You are in cahoots with a lot of people like Bugsy Siegel was and I wonder why men do these things. I look upon the people in my state of New Hampshire who till the soil and make $2,000 a year as a lot richer than these people you know. My people have peace of mind and can look everybody in the eye.

Mr. Sedway—Senator, you see what it got for me, three coronaries and ulcers.

Fellow writes from Baltimore, regarding the Las Vegas series, "You left out the prices on food and rooms, etc., which I think is very important to the average reader. Why didn't you quote the average cost of living in Las Vegas by the week, not counting gambling? (Ed. note: I'd say anywhere from $25 to $25,000,000).

"P. S.—Is there any way of winning on dice in Las Vegas? Say, if you bet the dice wrong and then took the odds for the same amount—would that do it?"

Am turning this query over to Joe E. Lewis, prominent threadbare authority on the sport.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Some contend there is no such thing as "good taste" — only taste or lack of it. But no one will deny that certain habits of dress and manner display taste, while others show no sensitivity at all for this mysterious element of charm.

Taste grows with observation of the "rights" and "wrongs" that others practice. If you shudder for those overdressed at an informal function, or sense the discord in a costume combining dress-down accessories with sparking cocktail separates, your thoughts must be attuned to the tasteful in dress.

Simplicity Is Guide

Simple clothes are always best. Even this fine rule, however, can be carried to inappropriate extremes. Let your costume depend more on the time, place and event for which you are dressing than on your mood of the moment. Find out, if you can, what others are wearing (particularly the hostess) before you decide to don slacks for a picnic — or a strapless gown for a party.

Avoid on every occasion such obvious errors of taste as a melange of accessory shades, a shoulder-strap bag with a dressy suit, sandals with a go-to-business outfit, yesterday's party corsage on today's casual tweeds, an after-five dress in the early hours of the day, a kittenish ribbon or posy blooming in a mature hair-style, sportswear (slacks or shorts) on the street, a low-cut dress that requires constant strap adjustment, sequinned glasses with daytime clothes.

Taste in Manners

Extend your sense of the tasteful to manners as well as dress. Loudness of voice is sure evidence that the full measure of taste was not allotted to you. Other acts of circumstantial evidence are the superior attitude, the grand entrance that needs only spotlights to resemble a Broadway premiere, monopolizing of conversation or attention, pushing to be first in any line, frequent exits and entrances that disturb others in a public place, or demanding priority service from a salesperson.

Any show of rudeness whatsoever, in fact, is the ultimate in bad taste . . . comparable to slipshod grooming that detracts from any other tasteful ways by which you strive to present a charming self-portrait.

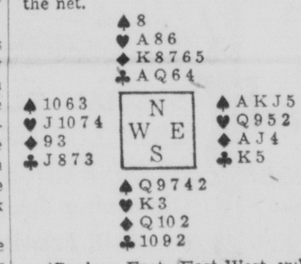
"LITTLE" HANDS ARE FUN

YOU may think that the high contracts produce all the fun and excitement. But, if so, you are wrong. It is great sport to watch some of the tournament deals which wind up in low contracts. Completely contrasting occurrences develop with them, especially since the average player is not too well schooled in his handling of such deals. The lead usually see-saws back and forth from one side to the other in the fashion of a tennis ball bobbing across the net.



(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl.

That bidding developed, with South making a business pass of the double, at two tables of a tournament in which assorted players were competing. Quite a number of different contracts resulted at the various tables, but the most interesting things happened at the 1-Spade doubled arenas. One of the declarers managed to take two more tricks than the other, scoring an extra whereas his opposite was set a trick.

Where the declarer did so well, South's club 10 lead to the A brought the spade 8 return, East and South playing low and the 10 winning. The diamond 9 was sent through to the 10 and the club 2 came back to the Q and K, establishing the J. The diamond A won, the J was ruffed by the spade 3, the club J scored and the heart 4 was led to the K. The heart 3 to the A enabled North to lead the 8 for South to ruff. But there was that poor chap in the lead with only the spade Q-9-7 having to pitch into the A-K-J, giving East his eighth trick.

At the other table the club 10 to the A was followed by the heart 6 to the K, 3 to the A and 8 for a ruff by the spade 2. The club 9 was won by the K, the diamond A scored and the 4 was led to the K. The spade A took the 8 lead, the diamond J was ruffed by the spade 6 and the heart J by the spade 7. The club 2 came back to the Q and the spade 5. East also scored the spade K, then had to give South his side's seventh trick with the spade Q to defeat the contract.

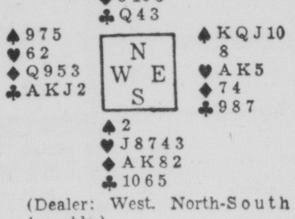
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

If West opens the bidding with 1-Diamond on his dubious hand, how should the rest of the bidding go?

by John Crosby

The Era Of Sound

A cavalcade of radio—its rise and fall, its triumphs and bloopers, its great personalities and great historical moments—is a perfectly splendid idea for a television show. After watching Ed Sullivan attempt it last Sunday on "Toast of the Town," (CBS-TV 8 p. m.) I still think it's a great idea and one that has not yet been done.

The Sullivan show, I must admit, did have its high spots—notably Jack Benny who can apparently do nothing wrong these days, and H. V. Kaltenborn imitating President Truman imitating H. V. Kaltenborn, an inspired bit of nonsense. It had a brief moment of nostalgia when Rudy Vallee sang "My Time Is Your Time," "I'm Just a Vagabond Lover" and "Maine Stein Song," bringing a sentimental ache in the bones of some of the more ancient citizens like myself.

But where was everyone else? Where, for heaven's sake, were Amos 'n Andy, who practically invented network radio and who were the first network stars? How the devil can you have a show billed as a "cavalcade of radio" without mentioning some of the big acts of the early days—the A&P Gypsies, the Clicquot Club Eskimos, Tony Wons, Stoopnagle & Bud who were among the funniest comedy teams that ever got on radio.

In the early dawn of radio, there was the band phase. These were the days of Coon-Sanders and the Kansas City Nighthawks—one of the first remote shows I ever heard—and Ben Bernie, the days when Chevrolet fired Jack Benny and hired Wayne King under the terribly erroneous assumption that nobody would ever listen to a comedian on radio.

And pretty soon there were the early easy-going comedy teams, Amos 'n Andy, the Easy Aces and Lum 'n' Abner. Radio was always a great place for singers. Remember Gene Austen? And how can you do a "cavalcade of radio" without mentioning Bing Crosby? Or the early commentators and sports announcers—Floyd Gibbons, Clem McCarthy, Ted Husing and Walter Winchell? And, unless my ears were playing me tricks, there wasn't a single mention of the late Major Bowes who was the first and just about the only man who ever managed to sell a car on radio.

Remember Seth Parker and his way down east show? And how come Fred Allen didn't rate even a polite nod? Of course, some of these people are dead (but there must be some recordings around) and others are tied hand and foot to NBC which refused to cooperate. (Relations between CBS and NBC at the moment have reached a degree of childishness, the like of which I haven't seen since I was in third grade.)

That is just an incomplete summary of what wasn't on the show. What was on it? Well, there was a

Governor Supports Delay In Fee Hike

Surprises By Saying He Will Sign Bill

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin agreed surprisingly tonight to ride along with a year's postponement of scheduled increases in motor vehicle registration fees.

He had vetoed the same bill last year and was expected by the entire Legislature to do the same thing to another passed last week.

Instead he announced on the eve of the deadline for making up his mind that he will sign it.

The governor in a sense agreed with the majority of the legislators and disagreed with his roads commission in approving the postponement of fees that would have been $5 to $7 higher on passenger cars and correspondingly increased on trucks.

The roads commission had argued before legislative committees that they needed the additional three million dollars as part of the 12-year building program.

Test Is Needed

"While there is no doubt in my mind that this revenue could be used advantageously in advancing and expediting our building program, the fact remains that we still can continue a substantial part of the program through the ensuing year," Gov. McKeldin stated.

He said there is "no doubt that an overwhelming majority of the members of the General Assembly desire this one year test of the program's progress without this additional registration fee revenue."

Referring to his veto of last year, he said "the situation has changed somewhat."

Motor vehicle taxes and fees are approximately the same as estimated in 1953 when the 12-year highway building program was authorized.

"However, the picture has changed somewhat to the State's advantage in regard to federal funds under existing law," he said. It is estimated the State will get $2,882,000 more in federal aid for roads than visualized in 1953.

May Transfer Funds

This same argument for postponement of the higher license fees was advanced by Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester) and other leading proponents.

The extra three million dollars would have gone toward maintaining roads.

However, the roads commission is authorized to transfer two million from other money for building them. This will leave the estimated amount needed for maintenance one million short, "but for a one year period should create no serious problem," McKeldin concluded.

The governor suggested the Legislature might want to raise the two million dollar limit on transfer of road building money to maintenance. Then if revenue for the gasoline and titling taxes produce more than estimated two years from now the surplus could be used to cover entirely the needs of maintenance.

Frigid Weather Continues Grip Throughout Area

Garrett To Expect 20 Below Readings

Garrett County, already in the grip of one of the most frigid winters on record, is expected to bear the brunt of 10-to-20-below-zero temperatures again today as thermometers took another sudden drop last night.

Allegany County experienced low temperatures yesterday and the cold wave is expected to continue today and Saturday. Forecast for Saturday is probable snow in the westernmost regions of the state of Maryland.

Cumberland had a low of 6 degrees and a high of only 17. It was 13 degrees above at 8 p.m. and the mercury was reported dropping. Scattered snowflakes were swirling through the air at nightfall.

The Weather Bureau is anticipating the coldest weather the entire state has had in many winters, and the new snowstorm headed for Maryland is expected to strike some time Saturday.

Garrett County has fair but very cold weather and lows for the day were recorded at Big Savage Mountain, -5, Finzel, -4, Guntertown, -2, Oakland and Accident, both -5.

No new snowfalls in the past 12 hours in the area were reported, although much of the outlying district retained from three to 13 inches of snow on the ground. Skies were sunny and clear throughout most of the day and were expected to remain so today.

The State Roads Commission and State Police urged motorists to drive with caution as many roads were still slippery following Wednesday's downpour of snow, sleet and rain which froze over in yesterday's sub-freezing weather. Chains were recommended in some sections.

From Allegany County eastward through Harford and including Montgomery County the lowest temperatures of the day were ranging from zero to 8 below.

Many of the state high's were recorded in the mid-20's and were expected to drop some today despite the fair weather forecast.

First Equipment For Treatment Plant Due Today

The first piece of equipment which will be used for the construction of the Cumberland Sewage Treatment system will arrive here today, according to William H. Buchholtz, street commissioner.

He said the Moyer Brothers Company of Altoona, Pa., is to move a 16-ton piece of equipment to the site of the plant near Offutt Street today.

Commissioner Buchholtz said the contractor has received permission from Pensylvania and Maryland to move the equipment over the roads, and that he arranged for a police escort through the City of Cumberland.

He said he was told that the firm plans to move other needed machinery here within the next few weeks.

The Altoona firm was awarded the $1,531,006 contract for the construction of the system on January 24 and plans to have the plant in operation by the time the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company begins production at its $34,000,000 plant at North Branch.

Shortest Day Road Right-Of-Way Deeded

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has been deeded a 30-foot right-of-way along Shortest Day Road in LaVale.

Some 10 right-of-way deeds for this road were filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman said the county has no immediate plans for improvement of the three-quarter-mile road which runs in a westerly direction off Cash Valley Road.

Student Is Injured

David Kerns, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan G. Kerns, 626 Frederick Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday at 5:15 p.m. for treatment of a badly injured right arm.

The lad told the hospital he was hurt in a fall on the ice as he was returning home from Allegany High School.

Mayor Praises Legislators In Assembly

Mayor Roy W. Eves got a first hand glimpse of democracy in action this week, and he liked it just fine.

The view of legislators buckling down to two difficult tasks—recodification of Maryland's election laws and enabling legislation for home rule—was received Tuesday during a visit to the General Assembly.

He said he was impressed with the calibre of the people he met at the General Assembly, adding they were "really working hard" and "not there for fun."

Mayor Eves reported committees working on the home rule legislation have received suggestions for about 100 changes in the proposed law.

Legislators in both the Senate and House, he added, are going into the law thoroughly, and the prospects for the home rule enabling legislation "looks good."

He said the joint Senate-House committee studying the recodification of election laws promised careful consideration of suggestions made by William A. Wilson, who represented the Board of Election Supervisors, and by himself.

Action Is Filed In Garrett County

A Westernport man who was struck by an automobile shortly after leaving the Assembly of God Church in Crellin the night of January 23, Wednesday filed a $100,000 damage suit in Garrett County Circuit Court against the motorist.

Paul Richard Roderick, 225 Wood Street Extended, Westernport, filed the big suit against Joseph Carl Frantz, of Hutton, Garrett County. The suit was filed by Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

Miss Mary Fay Harvey of Mountain Lake Park, who was walking with Roderick, was killed almost instantly in the same accident.

The Westernport man contends that he sustained fractures of both legs, injuries about his back, fractured pelvis, concussion about the head, and cuts and bruises. He is still hospitalized in Garrett County Hospital at Oakland and will be confined in a United State Government Hospital near Washington for many months, according to the declaration.

Roderick stated that he was walking west along State Route 39 in Crellin when the accident occurred about 9 p. m. January 23. He was struck in the back by Frantz's automobile, which was traveling west along the highway. The plaintiff asserts that Frantz was driving at an "excessive, dangerous, high and unlawful" rate of speed.

The Westernport man concludes his declaration by stating that his injuries are of a permanent and incurable nature and will impair his future ability to earn his livelihood.

2,014 Families In County Seek Surplus Foods

Frostburg led the list of Red Cross registrants for surplus food commodities as this month's enrollment to certify March recipients was completed yesterday.

The Red Cross reports a total of 1,650 families certified for surplus foods next month. This number is in addition to those still being registered by the Associated Charities (364) and the Salvation Army. The Allegany County Welfare Board also is certifying most of its clients for the commodities.

Frostburg registered 359 families. Lonaconing was in second place with 294, while the Red Cross office in Cumberland listed 288.

Mt. Savage had its record month with 175. Midland reported 160 families on the needy list for the area including Midland, Gilmore and Woodland.

Barton registered 154, and registrars there said some 15 or 20 families, known to register each month, could not get in because bad weather and icy roads intervened.

The Luke-Westernport area reported 135 families and Eckhart listed 85.

The Associated Charities will wind up registration for March distributions for surplus foods today at 5 p. m.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Red Feather agency, said the registration reached the 364 mark yesterday at 3 p. m. and that the total may exceed February's 375 by this afternoon.

City Considers Package Deal For Bond Issues

May Reduce Costs By Single Offering

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday that city officials are considering the possibility of offering a number of bond issues the city must sell within the year as a package deal in order to reduce costs.

He said it is believed the city will be able to sell the bonds at a more favorable rate of interest if all are sold at the same time, since the size of the offering will attract larger investors.

Selling all of the issues at the same time will also reduce legal, advertising and printing costs.

The bond package will include up to $2,000,000 of revenue bonds to finance the Cumberland Sewage Treatment plant, which is getting under way.

It could include all or part of the $400,000 of city Flood Control bonds.

Another $700,000 will be needed to finance the water line the city will build to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's plant at North Branch.

About $100,000 will be needed to finance a number of deferred items not included in the present contract for the modernization of the 12 old filters at the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

This work will include the installation of two contact basins, the mechanization of valves for the units and certain pipe and valve work.

He said the city may have to defer the sale of the water line bonds until the General Assembly passes implementing legislation for home rule, and that the city will probably defer all until they can be sold together.

Holy Name Unit Will Install New Officers

New officers of St. Patrick's Catholic Church Holy Name Society will be installed in a ceremony at the parish social center following the evening service Sunday.

James B. Reinhart will be installed as president, succeeding J. Donald Murray; Joseph Kenney will succeed Reinhart as vice president, and Frank L. Werner and John G. Burke, both re-elected, will be installed as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Very Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's, will install the new officers. A reception will follow.

Appointive officers and committee chairmen for the coming year are John A. Carroll, marshal; John Lindner, program chairman; Joseph Kenney membership; Frank L. Werner, publicity; Norman P. Fearnow, retreats; John G. Burke, sick and vigil, and Harold Shober, youth.

All men of the parish have been asked to attend the ceremony and reception.

Sen. Friend Has Trouble Finding Friends For Bill

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) scarcely could find a friend today.

While campaigning for election last year he got the idea his people wanted to elect their school board rather than have the members appointed by the governor.

Six of his constituents came down today for a hearing on the bill he introduced to make the change. Not one of them was for it.

Right off the bat Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, a Garrett County delegate's wife and PTA leader, got up to oppose it.

"Last summer during the campaign, didn't you say you wanted an elected school board?" asked the surprised Sen. Friend.

She admitted she had. But she added she is a woman and has a right to change her mind.

"I banked on your support and I'm sorry not to have it," said the senator sadly. "I thought I was carrying out your wishes."

William L. Hawkins, school superintendent, Ross Speicher, board vice president, the Rev. John J. Atwell, Mrs. George Hanst and Mrs. Helen Baumgartner all backed up Mrs. Glotfelty.

In the bargain, Glotfelty told Sen. Friend he and the two other Garrett delegates were opposed.

The only friendly voice belonged to a bystander from Anne Arundel County, Dr. William Shields. He is president of the Parents Public Schools Committee and opposed to the present appointed school board members in Anne Arundel.

Sen. Friend asked the Senate Education Committee to take no action on his bill.

LaVale Firemen Extinguish Blaze In Fertilizer Pile

LaVale Volunteer Firemen were called out about 8 o'clock last night to extinguish a blaze in a pile of straw and fertilizer near Welsh's Greenhouse at Woodlawn.

Firemen said children sledding in the area had set the fertilizer afire to keep warm. The greenhouse owner requested the blaze be put out as the mixture, used for the plants in the greenhouse, was valuable to his business.

Three Damage Suits Seeking $92,000 Removed

Former Football Player Defendant

Three suits seeking a total of $92,000 in damages from Charles E. Lattimer, former University of Maryland football player, have been ordered removed to Washington County Circuit Court for trial.

The order was signed by Chief Judge George Henderson after W. Earle Cobey, Lattimer's attorney, had filed a suggestion and affidavit for removal from Allegany County Circuit Court.

All three suits resulted from a two-car collision on West Virginia State Route 28 about four miles south of Cumberland on August 3, 1953.

Lattimer was driving an automobile owned by Alma F. Hose toward Cumberland at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Margaret L. Robinette, 135 Arch Street, who was a passenger in the car Lattimer was driving, has filed a $60,000 suit against him for injuries she contends she sustained in the accident. She said that Lattimer was driving on the wrong side of the road.

Her husband, Earl B. Robinette, has sued for $20,000 for expenses incurred because of his wife's injuries and loss of her services. Both Robinette suits were filed by Attorney Harry I. Stegmaier.

A third suit, for $12,000 was filed against Lattimer by John R. Nichols, Columbus, Ohio, an instructor at Ohio State University. He asks damages for loss of his car, which was involved in the collision, and for his personal injuries. His suit was filed by Attorney William L. Wilson. He was driving toward Fort Ashby at the time of the crash.

Sewage Treatment Plans Approved For New Bruce High

Plans for the sewage treatment system for the new Bruce High School have been approved by the Health Department, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer.

He said the only major change health officials made in the plans was to suggest that sand filters be substituted for leaching wells.

J. B. Dowling, chief of the sanitation staff, said the system will be similar to those installed for Valley High, Mt. Savage and Flintstone high schools.

S. A. Advisory Board Will Meet Feb. 14

Plans will be completed at this luncheon meeting for the annual meeting of the Advisory Board.

The annual meeting will be held March 7 at 6:30 p.m. The site of the meeting has not yet been decided, but Col. V. J. Huffman, Baltimore, divisional commander, has accepted an invitation to speak.

Social Security Information On Domestics Now Available

Social Security information, as it applies to many more household employers since January 1, is given in the new booklet, "Do You Have A Maid?" It describes the first step to be taken by every employer of domestic help who pays an employe $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter of the year for work in a private household.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained by writing, phoning, or visiting the Social Security office, James E. Robertson, district manager of the Social Security Administration, said yesterday.

Because of the broadened coverage of domestic workers, many more household employers are now required to report the cash wages paid their employes. It is no longer necessary that a domestic employe work on 23 or more days in a calendar quarter for a single household employer in order to get Social Security credit for the cash wages paid.

The new booklet, officially designated as OASI-21, contains a cut-out post card which the household employer should use to obtain the form on which the cash wages of domestic workers are reported to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

It is estimated that about 200,000 more household workers were brought under the old age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security law on the first of January. In addition, from 50,000 to 100,000 domestic workers who were covered on some of their domestic jobs are now earning additional Social Security insurance credits from their other employers.

Explosives-Laden Truck Jackknifes On Blind Curve

Disastrous Wreck Is Averted Near McCoole

A disaster was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon with a tractor-trailer truck, loaded with live rocket ammunition and explosives, jackknifed on the highway near McCoole.

Trooper L. C. Clark, Maryland State Police, investigated the mishap and reported no one was injured although there were two occupants in the cab of the truck.

Owen L. Wiltrout, 40, driver of the explosives-laden vehicle, told authorities he was headed north toward Cumberland on U. S. Route 220 when the wheels of his truck locked as the vehicle rounded a sharp curve near the Hi-Rock Theatre just north of McCoole.

The truck, operated with power steering, smashed into a large snow-covered embankment and rock on the side of the highway and jackknifed back into the center of the road about 2:15 p. m.

Trooper Clark said the estimated damage to the diesel cab was about $500. Traffic on U. S. 220 at the dangerous blind curve was tied up for approximately 20 minutes before the trailer was moved to the side of the roadway.

Authorities indicated arrangements had been made with the truck company to send another tractor to the scene of the accident to take the ammunition trailer to its destination in New Jersey.

Meanwhile, the explosives in the trailer were placed near Cook's Service Station on Route 220 where the driver and his helper will keep guard over the contents until the trailer is removed, Clark stated.

No charges were placed in the accident, Clark said.

Garrett County Seeks Man Held Here In Robbery

State's Attorney S. R. Pagenhardt of Garrett County last night said a warrant will be sent to Allegany County authorities asking that Martin Woodrow McKenzie be detained here on charges of breaking and entering.

McKenzie is being held in County Jail here on a charge of robbery at the gas station of the Frostburg Auto Company, and reportedly has admitted two breaking-and-enterings in Garrett County.

Pagenhardt said Garrett County officials wanted McKenzie held pending the outcome of the charges against him in Allegany County, adding he wished to question the man further in the Garrett cases.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, said the 38-year-old McKenzie, who hails from Grantsville, was nabbed in the service station robbery shortly after it occurred January 21, and has admitted breaking into the American Restaurant in Grantsville on January 21 and St. Stephens Church during the Christmas season. He took merchandise from the restaurant, Baker said.

The officer said McKenzie told him that he forced a basement door and gained entrance to the study of Rev. Hillery Lear, O.F.M. Cap., who is pastor of the church. The priest is stationed at SS. Peter and Paul Monastery here.

McKenzie said he took an electric clock, an electric shaver, various articles of clothing and a number of rosaries and prayerbooks. All of the items have been recovered, Cpl. Baker said.

Police, Firemen Tests Planned

The Civil Service Commission of Cumberland yesterday announced plans to hold examinations this month for policeman and fireman.

Applications, which may be secured from Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, will be received until 4 p. m. on February 23.

The examination will be conducted February 28 at 7 p. m. in Fort Hill High School.

Successful applicants will be placed on the eligible list for the departments. At present, only two are available for each department.

Applicants must be between 21 and 35, residents of Cumberland for three years and have at least two years of high school education or its equivalent. Police applicants must be at least five feet, 10 inches tall and weigh 150 pounds, and firemen must be five feet, seven inches and weigh 135 pounds.

Man Is Fined $100 On Motor Charge

Donald Harold Frantz, about 35, of 300 Park Street, yesterday was fined $100 and costs in Trial Magistrates Court here for operating an automobile on a revoked license. He also received a suspended 30-day jail sentence from Magistrate Morris Baron.

Frantz was arrested last month by Trooper C. H. DeWitt of the Maryland State Police following a traffic violation on Route 40 in the Narrows.

Postmasters Will Be Urged To Support Fort Cumberland, David Lewis Stamps

The National Association of Postmasters will be urged to support local pleas for the issuance of two stamps involving the Queen City this year.

Thomas F. Conlon, postmaster, will present resolutions to the Maryland Chapter of the organization this spring, urging support for a commemorative stamp marking the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial and a "Famous American" stamp honoring David J. Lewis.

He said the appeal will be made at the annual convention of the association in Ocean City June 16-18.

Conlon recalled that efforts were made three years ago to secure the stamps and that postal officials, citing the many requests for commemorative stamps, advised patience.

In the resolution, Conlon will point out that the City of Cumberland is holding many special events this year to mark the 200th anniversary of Fort Cumberland, and that it is urgent that immediate action be taken on the request.

He also will renew a 1952 request for a stamp honoring Cumberland's David J. Lewis, father of the parcel post system and of legislation which was broadened to become Social Security.

The former coal miner died here on August 12, 1952, at the age of 83 and was buried on the 17th anniversary of the signing of the federal Social Security Act.

Born in Clearfield County, Pa., he entered the mines in this county at the age of nine, became a member of the Maryland Bar at the age of 23 and in 1901 entered the Maryland Senate, where he sponsored the first workmen's compensation law in the country.

During his five terms in Congress he drafted the law instituting the parcel post system of the United States and in 1930 sponsored an unemployment bill which became the nucleus of today's Social Security legislation.

Weather Forecast

Red China Spurns U. N. Talks

Deadlock Arises Over Evacuating Tachen Islands

Mendes-France Cabinet Totters On Africa Policy

PARIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France, facing what appeared to be almost certain defeat, challenged the French National Assembly tonight to approve his policy in North Africa or throw him out.

The Assembly will vote on the question of confidence in the government probably early Saturday.

Although the Premier, heading France's 20th government in a little over 10 years since liberation, appealed tonight "with all my force and conviction" for the support of the Assembly, he appeared to have helped his cause but little.

The fate of the government has been extremely doubtful for a week because many deputies have grown disgruntled over many things. But it seemed to have been sealed this afternoon when former Premier Rene Mayer, broke with Mendes-France and came out against the government.

Mayer, is the leader of the right wing of the Radical Socialists, and Mendes-France is a spokesman for the left wing of the same party. Many deputies expected 20 or 30 members of the party, which has 76 seats in the Assembly, would follow Mayer. If they did Mendes-France, premier just a little over seven months, would be out.

Although the vote would be on Mendes-France's policy of negotiating for democratic reforms to give North Africans more say in their government and undercut the nationalistic terror campaign there, many deputies hoped for his fall because he has put on pressure for the rearmament of West Germany. Others fear the reforms in economics, taxes, prices and production he is cooking up for France.

He declared tonight he would go ahead with his policies of negotiating with North African nationalists to relax tension there "even if it means reprisals and vengeance" from his political enemies.

Chiang Wants Quemoy, Matsu Defense Pledge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United States is reported urging Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to make a quick final decision on evacuation of his troops from the Tachen Islands since the reinforced 7th Fleet cannot be held in a state of readiness indefinitely.

Diplomatic sources said today the Chinese Nationalist leader is balking at making this decision until he gets a firm American guarantee for the defense of Quemoy and Matsu, coastal islands. He is understood to have taken the position that the morale of Nationalist forces could be severely damaged if the Tachens were abandoned without any offsetting guarantee for Quemoy and the Matsus.

President Eisenhower, on the other hand, is said to have made clear to Chiang through diplomatic contacts that the United States does not intend to make any ironclad, public guarantee to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. Thus a deadlock has arisen.

The Tachens are 200 miles north of Formosa and Eisenhower has decided that they should be evacuated since they are not essential to Formosa's defense. But the troops and the decision are Chiang's.

There is speculation that he might decide to pull all Chinese civilians out of the Tachens but leave his troops—amounting to one division—there for the time being at least to engage in a showdown with the Reds if the Reds want to seek one.

U. S. Reluctance Snags Tachens Evacuation

TAIPEH, Formosa, Friday, Feb. 4 (AP) — A Nationalist withdrawal from the Tachens appeared snagged today in negotiations, but the Reds seemed to be putting no pressure on the islands 200 miles north of Formosa.

There were reports the United States was reluctant to give a clear-cut guarantee to help protect Matsu and Quemoy, the most important Nationalist offshore islands, after a Tachen withdrawal.

For the second straight day there was no report of any Communist activity in the Tachen area except for the usual shuttling of supply ships.

The Defense Ministry said Nationalist bombers caught a Red convoy Wednesday night near Yikiangshan, eight miles north of the Tachens, and in an attack two large Red vessels "were hit and exploded."

Nationalist officials discounted some published reports that the Red ships were an invasion fleet.

There were indications that if the United States gives no guarantees for Matsu and Quemoy, the Nationalists will ask to reconsider the whole Tachen question.

The Nationalists, say sources who should know what is going on, would prefer to make a death stand for the Tachens.

Press Circulation Up

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Total daily newspaper circulation in the United States for the first time in history went over 55 million last year, Editor and Publisher reported today.

MATUSOW TALKS — Harvey Matusow, 28-year-old former Communist who recently repudiated testimony given at the trial in which 13 second-string Communist leaders were convicted, discusses his role as a former FBI informer and "Professional government witness" during a news conference in New York yesterday. Matusow, who has written a book called "False Witness," said he would welcome an investigation of his disclosures about his past activities. (AP Wirephoto)

Coldest Weather In Years Stings Northeast U. S.

[By The Associated Press]

Relief Seen Saturday

Another day of severe cold is forecast for the area Friday with some moderation in prospect for Saturday.

New York City had two deaths attributed to the cold and a low reading of zero. The temperature was the lowest in seven years and the coldest ever for the date. The biting cold followed a 3.7-inch snowfall.

Other readings in the East included Old Forge, N. Y., -40; Saranac Lake, N. Y., -38; Newport, Vt., -30; Lebanon, N. H., -21; Kane, Pa., -21; Albany, N. Y., -18; Hanover Township, N. J., -14; Hartford, Conn., -2 and Boston, -1. Atlantic City had 5 above, lowest in six years, and Philadelphia, 5 above, coldest for the date since 1881.

At midday Thursday the Southern boundary of the belt of freezing weather extended from Virginia westward across southern Kansas and into the northern and central Rockies and Great Basin area.

Ike Urges Support For USO Fund Drives

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — President Eisenhower tonight urged support for USO fund raising drives, saying American servicemen and women stationed overseas are "performing onerous duties that the rest of us may enjoy security."

The President's appeal was in a message to a USO defense fund dinner at the Sheraton-Astor Hotel in New York.

Eisenhower said the work of the United Service Organizations "must go forward for the happiness of the individual man and woman in our armed services, for the furtherance of our country's security."

U. S. Deplores Slap At World Peace Agency

Meeting Of Security Council To Consider Turndown Imminent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United States tonight deplored Red China's rejection of a bid to United Nations cease-fire talks as a "further flouting" of the U.N.

A State Department spokesman, press officer Henry Suydam, announced that the United States will consult with other members of the U.N. Security Council about a Council meeting to consider the Red Chinese turndown.

Suydam made this statement:

"We have seen so far only unofficial reports of Chou En-lai's reply to the secretary general of the United Nations in response to the invitation extended to the Chinese Communists.

Old Pattern Followed

"All those who sincerely work for peace regret this abrupt rejection of an invitation to come to the Security Council to consider the cessation of hostilities along the offshore islands. They regret also this further flouting of the United Nations which is so similar to previous Chinese Communist actions in Korea and at Geneva.

"It is for the Security Council, which is constantly striving for peace, to consider this rejection and we shall be consulting with other members toward a further meeting."

Red China's rejection of the U.N. invitation was criticized meanwhile by senators as ill-tempered and insulting.

Is Cease-Fire Move Dead?

The general reaction in Congress was that the United States must firmly back up its commitment to defend Formosa. There were differences of opinion as to whether the cease-fire move is dead.

"The Chinese Communist appear to think they can either shoot or break their way into the United Nations," said Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He referred to Red Premier Chou En-lai's demand that Nationalist China be ousted from the U.N. Security Council.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, called Chou's answer "ill tempered" and said it now "appears obvious that the Chinese Communists are not prepared to discuss a cease-fire on any honorable terms."

2nd-String Red Gets 1 To 5 Years

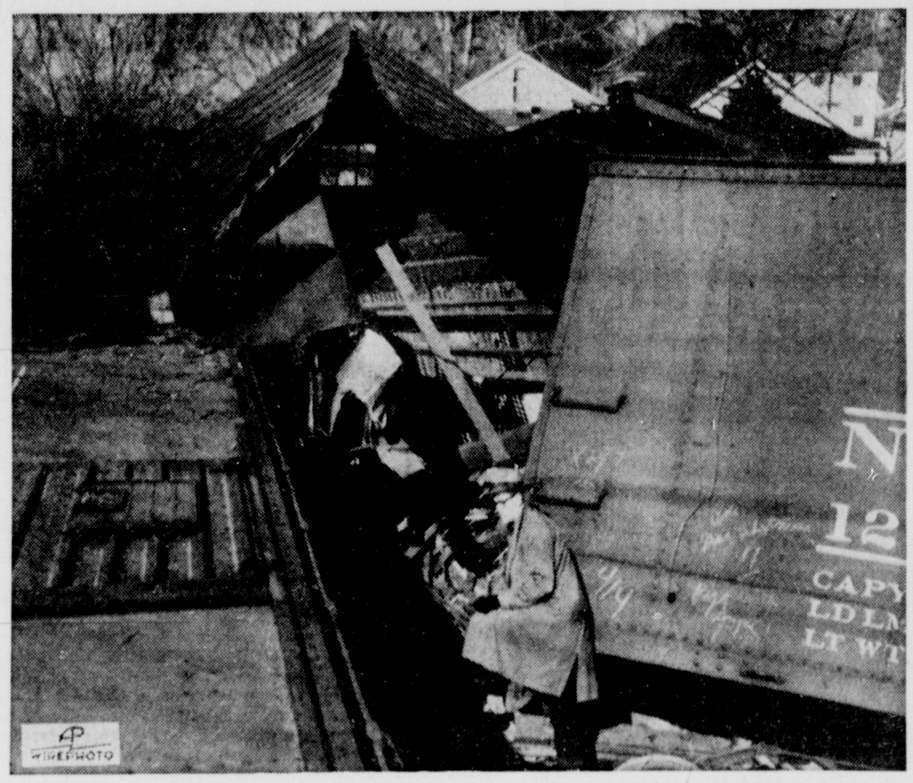
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — Louis Weinstock, 51-year-old Hungarian-born Communist, was sentenced to one to five years in prison today for lying in an affidavit to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Federal Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut imposed the sentence after defense attorneys waived the probation report which is usually received in advance of sentencing.

Weinstock was convicted yesterday of swearing falsely to the SACB that there has been no committee or organization known as the "United May Day Committee" since 1948. He was acquitted today on a second count.

His 1-to-5-year sentence is to run concurrently with a 3-year sentence given him in New York in January of last year. He was one of 13 "second string" Communists convicted then of conspiring to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

Weinstock came to this country in 1924 and became a naturalized citizen in 1930.



Train Smashes Home; Six Cheat Death

The six occupants of this house escaped with only minor injuries yesterday when two freight cars of a New York Central train crashed into the dwelling at London, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scurry and their four children were sleeping when the cars smashed into their home. Eighteen other freight cars were piled up nearby.

Guaranteed Pay Drive Is Spread To Rail Industry

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. Feb. 1 (AP)—Organized labor today spread to the railroad industry its drive to win the guaranteed annual wage in 1955.

Six AFL unions comprising the railway employes department announced they will make the guaranteed annual wage their "main objective" in contract demands this year for 350,000 shop workers on the nation's railroads.

The CIO Auto Workers Union is seeking the GAW as a prime goal in auto industry bargaining this year, seeking assurance of continued pay for as long as a year for workers becoming unemployed.

President Michael Fox of the AFL railway employes department said details of the GAW plan still remained to be worked out but he pointed out that the Seaboard Airline Railroad has had a form of the GAW in effect since 1929.

Fox said the Seaboard plan does not represent what the AFL wants in the way of GAW but shows "it can be done." Under the Seaboard arrangement, he said, rail shop maintenance work is spread out on a year-around basis so most workers are assured of steady employment.

"Critical unemployment among shopmen compels us to take this protective step," Fox declared. "Layoffs have been widespread and heavy, particularly during the latter months of 1954. Decisive action must be taken to prevent further suffering among the men.

"We believe that the drastic and extreme fluctuations in railway employment could have been avoided had a guaranteed wage program been in effect in the industry."

Airman Is Crushed By Hangar Doors

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Air Force said an airman apparently pressed the wrong button and died today when his head was crushed between two hangar doors at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

The base public information office said Airman 3.C. Michael David Smyser, 21, of Manchester, Pa., was killed while trying to align two 22-ton, electrically operated hangar doors which failed to close tightly. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Call By Voluptua Ends Police Hunt

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3 (AP) — Voluptua, a 6-foot blonde from Brooklyn with a flair for getting herself talked about, ended a police search today by calling officers and informing them she had spent the night with a friend.

The statuesque showgirl, nee Gloria Pall, didn't say where she was calling from, but said she was safe and would "be right in to pick up the car" she left parked on Pacific Coast Highway last night.

"I was upset," she was quoted by Lt. A. R. Trout. Voluptua was fired two days ago from her television program reportedly because of complaints she was too sexy.

Americans Had More Spending Money In 1954

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Despite the business downturn which lasted most of 1954, the public had more income and more spending money last year than ever before, the Commerce Department reported today.

In the last two months of the year, the department said, the income of individuals—personal income—sailed above the peak rate achieved in the business boom of 1953.

Disposable, or spendable, income—which is total personal income minus personal taxes—amounted to 254 billion dollars in 1954, or about 3½ billions above the previous record in 1953, the report said. This increase in purchasing power, despite a rise in unemployment, was described as chiefly the result of the approximately 10 per cent reduction in federal income taxes which went into effect Jan. 1, 1954.

Total personal income in 1954 was computed at 286½ billion compared with the previous high of 286 billion in 1953.

Ex-N. H. Governor Dies

SOMERSWORTH, N. H., Feb. 3 (AP)—Fred H. Brown, 75, the last Democratic governor of New Hampshire and a U. S. senator during the early days of the New Deal, died today at his home.

Four-Year Draft Extension Voted By House Group

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — A bill extending the draft law for four more years after June 30 was approved 32-0 today by the House Armed Services Committee.

Pentagon officials estimate that if Congress passes the bill 674,000 young men between the ages of 18½ and 26 will be tapped for two years of military service during the extension period. They will also be required to spend six years in the reserve.

Two Changes Approved

Two changes in the Selective Service system were approved by the committee after hearings lasting two days.

One would exempt from the draft any man joining the National Guard before he is 18½ and remaining in it until he is 26.

The other would provide that anyone who served for six months or more in the Army, Air Force, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, or 24 months in the Public Health Service, after Sept. 16, 1940, is not liable for induction except in the event of a declaration of war or a national emergency proclaimed by Congress.

Insurance Against Re-Draft

The purpose of the second amendment, John R. Blandford, committee counsel, explained, is to make sure that men who serve in the armed forces but who are discharged after less than two years' service will not be liable for a second tour of duty in peacetime. He said that at one time there were about 144,000 veterans serving second tours.

The House is expected to debate the draft extension next week, with passage almost a certainty.

Would Discuss Formosa Only On Own Terms

Nationalists' Ouster By Security Council Demanded By Chou

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 4 (AP)—Red China today rejected the United Nations' invitation to participate in talks on a cease-fire for the Formosa Strait.

Premier Chou En-lai informed the U. N. he will not send a spokesman to New York unless Nationalist China is ousted from the U. N. Security Council. And in any case, Chou said, he would send a representative only to discuss Soviet charges that the United States is guilty of aggression against China.

Votes in the U. N. have shown it is not prepared to pay such a price for Red China's participation in discussions. Only last Monday the Security Council overwhelmingly voted down a Soviet demand that Chiang Kai-shek's ambassador be excluded from the Formosan debate.

Two Proposals Offered

Two questions are before the council:

1. A New Zealand proposal that the U. N. seek to end hostilities on certain islands off the Chinese mainland. This refers to the Tachens and other islands in Formosa, Strait, but not to Formosa itself.

2. A Soviet proposal which charges the United States with aggression against China and calls for withdrawal of all U. S. forces from the China area.

The Council has agreed to give priority to New Zealand's proposal, but the Western powers still have not put forward a formal resolution for a cease-fire.

In his message today Chou contended that the Council's decision to consider the New Zealand move was "intervention in China's internal affairs" that is no concern of the U. N.

U.N. Delegates Disappointed

(At U. N. headquarters, the news of Chou's stand was received with disappointment. Many delegates had hoped that the Peiping regime would send a representative in view of the Council's agreement to take up the Soviet charges of aggression after cease-fire talks are concluded. An influential delegate said the members would want time to reflect and also to consult their governments.)

Chou's decision, broadcast by Peiping radio, was in reply to an invitation sent by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Monday on instructions from the Security Council. Under the invitation, the Chinese Communist representative would have been permitted to take part in the Council discussions but would not have had a vote. Once before, in 1950, Red China sent a representative to the U. N. for debate on alleged U. S. aggression against China, but the Council threw out the charges.

Apparently No Loophole

Chou's message said:

"The government of the People's Republic of China hold that only for the purpose of discussing the resolution of the Soviet Union, and only when the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek's clique have been driven out from the Security Council and the representatives of the People's Republic of China attend in the name of China, can the People's Republic of China agree to send a representative to take part in the discussions of the Security Council."

There appeared to be no loophole in this which would permit a compromise.

Stevens Rebuffs Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens has rebuffed a demand from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that a dishonorable discharge be given an Army private who invoked the Fifth Amendment last year before the Senate Investigation Committee then headed by McCarthy.

The Pentagon gave reporters today a letter from the Army secretary dated Feb. 1, telling McCarthy that such action as to Pfc Marvin S. Belsky would be both illegal and damaging to Army morale in the absence of "information to establish subversive conduct."

Stevens noted that Belsky is due for discharge tomorrow and told McCarthy: "Therefore, I again earnestly request that you submit before that date any evidence or information upon which evidence can be developed with reference to any alleged subversive conduct on the part of Belsky."

The senator had written Stevens Jan. 24 suggesting a dishonorable discharge for Belsky.

USS Constellation To Be Retired To Reserve Fleet

BOSTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — The battered old frigate USS Constellation, the Navy's oldest ship, will be decommissioned and retired to the reserve fleet tomorrow for the fourth time in her 157 years.

The Navy announced tonight that the Constellation's commission pennant will be hauled down at 11:30 a.m. and custody of the historic vessel will be transferred to the Boston Naval Shipyard where she is berthed.

The action is being taken to allow her token complement of sailors under Lt. Charles W. Morris to be released for other duty. The shipyard will maintain the craft in minimum repair pending possible transfer to civilian interest for restoration as a national memorial.

The Constellation was launched at Baltimore Sept. 7, 1797, six weeks before her more famed sister ship, the Constitution. The latter vessel also is at the Boston shipyard, restored as a naval memorial by contributions from the nation's schoolchildren.

The Constellation fought through five American wars and police actions, opening her career as a fighting vessel with the capture of the French ship Insurgente in the West Indies during the "shadow war" with France in 1799.

Baltimore Police Check New York Doctor's Mystery Death

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Police are checking into the death here of a New Yorker who apparently called his wife 17 minutes after a telegram was sent announcing he was dead.

The body of a man who registered as Dr. Edward James Phillips was found yesterday afternoon sprawled across the bed in a room at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

An autopsy late today showed he died of "barbiturate poisoning," instead of a heart attack as had been previously suspected.

However, Dr. Russell S. Fisher, city medical examiner, said it would be about two days before he'd be able to tell whether death was caused by "a potent-acting group of barbiturates" or a simple overdose phenobarbital.

Detective Lt. George Klemmick said he apparently died of a heart attack. There were no signs of violence. Investigators found $24.83 in cash, a railroad ticket from Baltimore to New York, several insulin bottles, a hypodermic syringe and other paraphernalia a doctor might carry.

The hotel found the body after getting a call from Dr. Erna Gutenstein, a New York dentist.

She said she had been invited to a testimonial dinner last night in New York for Phillips but yesterday morning received a telegram from Baltimore saying:

"It is with sincere regret that must inform you that dinner will be cancelled Wednesday evening due to sudden death of Edward James Phillips from heart attack in Baltimore."

The wire was signed "Robert Ritter."

Hotel records showed Phillips called his wife in New York from his room at 12:42 a.m.

Lt. Klemmick reported Mrs. Phillips said her husband called her to tell her the testimonial dinner might have to be cancelled because of the death of the guest speaker.

Dr. Gutenstein said it was her understanding a retired Army colonel by the name of Robert Ritter was to be the guest speaker at the dinner.

Dr. Gutenstein said she had known Phillips and his wife about two years and Phillips was a brigadier general in the Army stationed at Ft. Jay in New York harbor.

Officials at Ft. Jay and at the Pentagon in Washington said they had no record of an officer by that name. New York medical directories list no Dr. Edward James Phillips.

Ex-Red Says M'Carthy Staff Knew Of Election 'Trickery'

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — Ex-Communist Harvey Matusow said today he campaigned against several Western Democratic senators in 1952 using what he described as "false documents and materials" he said were supplied by the office of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Matusow, who has sworn he lied in helping convict 13 second rank Communist leaders, was asked how reporters could tell whether he was now telling the truth.

"There is no way you can be sure," Matusow said. But he repeatedly declared he was now telling the truth and was not a "plant" of the Communist party to discredit congressional investigating committees.

Matusow, 28, spoke at a news conference held in connection with publication of a book he has written, "False Witness."

Matusow, as an example of what he called false documents used by him in the 1952 campaign, said that in campaign speeches he cited publication of an article by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) in the left-wing magazine New Masses.

Actually, Matusow declared, the article was a reprint of a Senate speech by Mansfield published in the Congressional Record and available to anyone.

Matusow said he used the New Masses article in speeches "leaving the implication that (Mansfield) had knowingly written the story for the magazine."

Asked if McCarthy knew of his use of the article, Matusow replied: "Jean Kerr was in on it and Don Surine." Jean Kerr, now McCarthy's wife, and Surine were on McCarthy's staff.

Soviet Military Budget Boosted

Forecast Defense Outlay 12 Per Cent Above Last Year's

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Russian government presented to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) today a 1955 budget which keyed a 12 per cent increase in military expenditures to the tense international situation.

The forecast defense outlay for 1955 is 112 billion rubles. This does not represent a record. It is almost two billion rubles below the 1952 peacetime high. But the total estimated budget expenditures of almost 563 billion rubles is a new high.

Western diplomats point out it is difficult to break down the Soviet budget and determine just what is and what is not military expenditure, since the state owns all means of production. Many items which would be charged off to military expense in the United States are listed differently in a Soviet budget.

In the presence of top-ranking members of the Communist party and the Soviet government, deputies of the Supreme Soviet applauded at the announcement of the sharp increase in military outlay. The two houses of the Parliament usually approve quickly and unanimously the budgets presented them.

The ruble is quoted officially at 25 cents, which would mean a Soviet defense outlay of 28 billion dollars, an increase of three billion dollars over last year.

(The U.S. defense budget for the next fiscal year is 34 billion dollars.)

Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev, speaking under the glare of television lights, announced the total national revenue for 1955 was estimated at 589½ billion rubles and total expenditures would be 563 billion rubles, leaving a surplus of about 26¾ billion.

Of this, he said, 112 billion rubles would go for defense purposes, or 20 per cent of the total budget. This was an increase of about 12 billion rubles over last year.

The finance minister also announced that state borrowing from the people would be increased this year, but he gave no figure.

Woman Pays $7,000 For Portrait She Detests

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — A society woman today reluctantly forked over $7,000 for a portrait she can't stand the sight of—by surrealist Salvador Dali.

Mrs. William Woodward patiently sat for Dali in his studio for a year, and, as agreed in advance, never peeked until the portrait was finished April 1953.

She took one look, turned her back and refused to look at it again, her lawyer said.

Dali sued for his fee as "the reasonable value of his services." The lawyer, Theodore Miller, said a check for $7,000 has been sent Dali, who has agreed to withdraw the suit.

His Story Paid Off

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Charles Hornback, 46, told police last night he was beaten and robbed of $113 and a topcoat by "Little Red Riding Hood."

Hornback was arrested as a drunk. But he stuck to his story and accompanied police on a tour of taverns. It paid off.

Peiping May Seek Talks Outside U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 3 (AP) — Red China's Chou En-lai appears to have made a bid to Prime Minister Nehru or some other third party to intervene and organize a conference outside the U.N. on the Formosan question.

That was the consensus of key delegates today after Chou rejected an invitation to send a representative to debate in the Security Council on a Formosan cease-fire.

They based their reactions on versions broadcast by Peiping radio and issued by news agencies in early afternoon.

Six Escape Death As Freight Cars Smash Into Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 3 (AP)—A sleeping family of six narrowly escaped death today in one of two widely separated train derailments in Ohio.

At 4 a.m., 19 cars of a New York Central 62-car freight piled up at a street crossing in London, a town of 5,300 people 24 miles west of Columbus on the Cincinnati-to-Cleveland division of the road.

Two of the freight cars smashed into a small frame dwelling beside the tracks, all but demolishing it. The cars wrecked the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scurry, pinning the husband, 43, to the bed. The couple and their four children, who were sleeping in another room, were treated for minor bruises and abrasions.

At 7:50 a.m., five sleeping cars and a mail express car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's eastbound "Gotham Limited" derailed at Leetonia, five miles east of Salem. Salem, a community of 12,700, is 40 miles east of Canton and about 65 miles west of Pittsburgh.

Only person injured in the passenger train accident was Mrs. Mollie Gladstone of Pittsburgh. She was taken to a Pittsburgh hospital with a back injury. None of the passenger cars overturned.

Demos May Dare Veto By Passing Statehood Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — Daring a possible presidential veto, House Democrats are considering sending President Eisenhower a bill to admit both Hawaii and Alaska to statehood.

The bill may hit the House floor later this month. It is the subject of current hearings before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Originally, separate statehood bills were planned for the two territories, but some influential Democrats suspect that the President would sign the Hawaii measure and veto the Alaska bill.

By including the two areas in one measure, Congress would put the President on somewhat of a spot, since he has urged statehood for Hawaii only.

In his state-of-the union message last month, the President said there was "no justification" for further delay in bringing Hawaii into the union," while Alaska "should expect to achieve statehood" when its "complex problems" are solved.

That, in the opinion of many Democrats, was a thinly veiled hint by the President that he would not approve an Alaska bill. Moreover, the Democrats have been tipped by top Republicans to expect a veto.

Alaska usually votes Democratic while Hawaii is usually Republican.

Top Coal Firm Backs Minimum Pay Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — The country's biggest coal company joined John L. Lewis today in calling for a minimum wage on coal dug for the government, predicting that otherwise rising federal purchases will "seriously disturb" the industry's wage scales.

George A. Lamb, speaking for the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., Pittsburgh, told a Labor Department hearing that the government now buys 12 per cent of the commercial coal output and will approximately treble its purchases by 1959.

His testimony came after opponents of the proposed wage floor, representing hundreds of small mines in Virginia, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, asked for a postponement until April 1 to give them time to amass evidence.

Preserved Body Of Woman Buried In 1814 Is Dug Up

MONROE, La., Feb. 3 (AP)—Workmen today dug up the preserved body of a woman who may have been buried more than 140 years ago.

Her clearly defined features were visible through a glass plate in a cast iron casket. Magnolia blossoms and cypress leaves lay under the glass.

The inscription on the casket was dated Sept. 7, 1814. Officials of the Hixon Bros. funeral home, which is holding the casket, said they could not make out her name on the inscription.

Demo Conclave Set For Chicago

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Chicago was chosen today as the scene of the 1956 Democratic national convention, subject to formal approval of the party's full National Committee.

Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler announced that a site-choosing subcommittee unanimously voted to recommend Chicago. Philadelphia was the only other city bidding for the convention.

Butler said the National Committee will vote on the subcommittee's recommendation by mail ballot. The selection was made, he said, after Chicago representatives agreed to certain suggestions made by subcommittee members.

The Democrats tentatively have selected Aug. 13 as their 1956 convention date.

The Republican National Committee will meet here Feb. 17 to decide on a date and place for the GOP convention. The last three national conventions of both parties have been held in the same cities.

Flier's Trial Halted By Mental Condition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Air Force said today that the mental condition of Col. Robert H. Orr has halted court-martial proceedings against the much-decorated flier on charges of burglary and failure to safeguard classified documents.

A board of medical officers at Walter Reed Army Medical Center told the Air Force that Orr's condition is such that he "cannot participate in his own defense."

Orr was arrested last July as a burglary suspect in a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel. He then held a responsible post at the Pentagon.

Orr told Las Vegas officers that he burglarized fashionable hotels "just for kicks."

Las Vegas authorities dropped the charges against Orr and they were taken up by the Air Force, which added the charge related to secret papers.

Aunt To Stand Trial For Fatal Beating Of Boy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 3 (AP)—A plucky, 5-year-old boy, beaten, stomped and horribly burned, died today of multiple injuries which a frail, childless aunt said she administered because the boy "was possessed of the devil."

The aunt, Mrs. Virginia Thompson, 29, and her husband, Lawrence, 32-year-old unemployed oil field worker, were charged with murder at Pauls Valley, the victim's home.

Prosecutors said they would seek the death penalty for Mrs. Thompson in the fatal beating of blond Lloyd George Stanley Jr. Lloyd and a 3-year-old brother, James Edward, who was less seriously beaten, had been in the care of the Thompsons along with a sister since the parents became estranged in November. James is still in the hospital.

Mrs. Thompson, of Whitebead, near Pauls Valley, admitted whipping James and abusing Lloyd over a two-week period before their rescue nine days ago. She said Lloyd "bothered us and wouldn't eat."

The Thompsons pleaded innocent. They were returned to Garvin County jail pending preliminary hearing Feb. 10.

The beatings came to light Jan. 25 after a Ringling woman notified authorities Mrs. Thompson tried to give Lloyd to her.

The tragedy quickly reunited Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George Stanley Sr. They were at the boy's bedside when he died at 2:30 a.m.

New Envoy To India Persuasive, Stands Mighty Firm On Principle

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Mild mannered John Sherman Cooper is going to New Delhi to deal with a type of neutralism which some of his Republican colleagues abhor almost as much as communism.

President Eisenhower has nominated the tall, graying Kentuckian as ambassador to India.

For the soft-spoken, school teacherism Cooper it will be a new adventure in a field into which he has plunged intermittently in the periods when Kentucky voters decided they would rather be represented by a Democrat in the Senate than by him.

The last of these decisions came last November in the return to public life of former Vice President Alben W. Barkley. Many of Barkley's friends said it was a shame that Cooper was the man he had to beat because they would like to have had both of them in the Senate.

But President Eisenhower, who helped all he could politically, had his eye on Cooper for a diplomatic job and named him to succeed George V. Allen, who was made assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern, South Asian and African affairs.

To the Senate colleagues who know him best, Cooper was an outstanding choice for the job. They know from experience that the Kentuckian is a very persuasive sort of fellow, that he can oppose without making enemies but that he stands mighty firm on principle.

He is pretty much the sort of man they would pick to deal with India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, whose motives and actions are regarded with some suspicion by a number of senators.

A somewhat aloof and always a quiet man, Cooper was never a ball of fire in the Senate. He made his imprint by intensive study of subjects in which he was vitally interested, often wrestled with his soul for days before coming to a decision.

Once it was made, however, he stood up under such withering fire as that the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio directed at him when Taft inquired caustically if Cooper were a Democrat or a Republican. This was after Cooper had voted with the Democrats on the first two tests after he was sworn in as a senator.

Cooper, 53, a native of Somerset in the Cumberland Hills, first was elected to the Senate in 1946 to fill the unexpired term of Sen. A. B. "Happy" Chandler. He was beaten in 1948 but was re-elected in 1952 to complete the unexpired term of the late Sen. Virgil Chapman, a Democrat.

A basketball player at Yale, Cooper gives the impression of a rugged physique which belies the bouts with ill health he has had in recent years.

A graduate of the Harvard Law School, Cooper got into politics with his election to the State Legislature in 1928 and went up the ladder to state circuit judge before he enlisted in the Army in 1942. As a second lieutenant, he won the Bronze Star in the Normandy campaign and served after the war in reorganization of the German judicial system.

Cooper's international affairs experience includes service as a delegate and alternate to United Nations sessions in 1949-50-51 and as an adviser to the secretary of State at NATO council meetings in Brussels and London in 1950.

Even prior to his appointment, Cooper had been boning up on Far Eastern problems. He never collected enough seniority in the Senate to get on the coveted Foreign Relations Committee. But he learned a lot about the area from his vantage point as a member of the Armed Services Committee.

Baltimore To Up Fines For Traffic Law Violations

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP) — Chief Traffic Court Magistrate Stanley Scherr warned violators yesterday their cost of living dangerously is going up steeply.

The fine for exceeding the speed limit in 25 and 30 mile an hour zones is going up from $5.25 to $10.95. The same increase will take effect in the penalties for running a traffic light or a stop sign.

No exact date for the higher penalties has been determined. They will go into effect as soon as a new supply of traffic tickets can be printed up for policemen.

The standard fine for exceeding 35 miles an hour will climb from $10.25 to $15.95.

Illegal parking in the residential area will jump from $1.25 to $2.95. The downtown area in which a $5.95 fine is applied, will be greatly expanded.

All of these are fines which a violator may pay without appearing in court and contesting the charge. Fines on more serious offenses in cases brought to trial are stiffer.

Md. House Backs Assessment Bill

Bill Advancing Date One Year Receives Tentative Approval

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — The House gave tentative approval today to a bill to begin annual real estate assessments in Maryland this year instead of next.

The unanimous voice vote on the proposal came after a State official told the Ways and Means Committee that the assessment situation is now "pretty much of a mess."

Albert W. Ward, secretary to the State Tax Commission, said approval of the bill would "break a deadlock" in the assessment program.

He explained that assessors had been checking property under the old three-year cycle plan. Under this plan a third of each county or Baltimore legislative district is reassessed every year but the new assessments do not become effective until the end of the three-year cycle.

The cycle will end in most counties in the fall of 1956, but a bill passed last year provides for annual assessments to begin July 1 of that year—or before the cycle is completed. This means the assessments on all but new property have been frozen for the last two years and those made under the cycle system theoretically will never go into effect.

Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th) showed how the State and subdivisions could pick up needed revenues for the next fiscal year if the date for annual assessments were advanced.

He said Baltimore City's assessable basis would be boosted by 50-million dollars if those assessments which have been suspended under the three-year plan—and in practically every case are higher than present ones—went into effect next July instead of a year later.

Since the city's tax rate is $3 per $100 valuation, this would provide Baltimore with 1½-million in additional revenues, said Robinson. Under an 11-cent State property tax rate, Maryland would net about $55,000 more from Baltimore City alone, he added.

Ward said the commission, in preparing to being annual assessments in July of 1956 as originally planned, was compiling maps to streamline the job. Each map will show every piece of property within a 12-square-mile area, he said.

Although the compilation of maps will not be finished until about the fall of 1956, Ward said, he still favors going ahead with the one-year program this July.

In response to a question by Del. Bloom (D-Washington), Ward said "some progress" had been made toward putting assessments in the various counties on an "equitable" percentage basis.

A survey made for the commission in late 1953 showed assessments in Calvert County were about 25 per cent of market value, compared with 60 per cent in Baltimore City, 45 per cent in Baltimore County, and 50 per cent in Allegany, Montgomery, Talbot and Washington counties.

The new annual assessment bill was sponsored by Majority leader Boone (D-Balto County), Minority Leader Derr (R-Frederick), Robinson and Dels. Hanna (D-Wicomico) and Kirkland (D-Anne Arundel).

Del. See (D-Allegany) proposed changing the day of the week for primary elections in Maryland from Monday to Tuesday. Some election machinery.

The House also received a bill which would permit persons buying property under land installment contracts to demand conveyance after paying 30 per cent of the purchase price instead of 40 per cent.

A bill to ban fireworks and other explosive plants in Kent County communities was introduced by Sen. Jewell of Chestertown, scene of a fireworks explosion which claimed 11 lives last summer. It would require all such plants to be located at least one mile from the limits of any town or village.

The House Judiciary Committee gave its approval to the "drunkometer bill," a measure which would allow the introduction of chemical test results as evidence in drunken driving cases.

After long discussion the judiciary group also decided to ask for an opportunity to reconsider a measure changing the procedure for adopting children in Maryland.

Del. Cardin (D-Balto 5th) expressed anxiety over a section which would put the General Assembly in the position of advocating that adopting parents be of the same religion as the child or his parents "whenever possible."

Cardin said he believed this provision was inspired "by an individual" who uses religion as a weapon in political campaigns. He did not officially identify the individual.

The Senate Judiciary Committee was told that increases in workmen's compensation proposed by Sen. Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) would cost Maryland businessmen two million dollars a year.

William S. Wilson Jr., lobbyist for the Baltimore Assn. of Commerce and the Maryland Self-Insurers group, made the estimate.

Dempsey is proposing higher weekly and total payments to injured workers as well as extend the time of their eligibility.

Building Inspector Sues Lewis For Libel

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Harry B. House, a Howard County building inspector, has filed a $100,000 libel suit against John Fulton Lewis and his newsletter, Maryland Report.

House complained of an article in the newsletter last Dec. 9 which dealt with the number of miles travelled by the inspector on his job.

Bus Suspension Hearings Slated

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 3 (AP)—West Virginia Transportation Co's. proposal to abandon some of its bus schedules was set for hearing today on Feb. 15.

The suspension proposal would involve 30 trips service such cities as Clarksburg, Charleston, Parkersburg, Wheeling, Fairmont and Grafton.

The Public Service Commission fixed the February date after notice of the company's intentions had been furnished in a letter from company president Carl A. Boe.

The commission earlier had indicated it would require more formal notice than Boe's letter. Such matters usually are submitted on petition.

Boe's letter of Jan. 26 said the company suffered an operating loss of $25,602 in January of last year, and the deficit last month might exceed $20,000.

Boe took over the company, formerly a Baltimore and Ohio railroad property, on Jan. 1 of this year. He said he already had effected economies which would save the company $60,000 a year.

Harbor Tunnel Bids Requested

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today asked for bids on the first and biggest of about 25 projects connected with the building of a 130-million-dollar tunnel under Baltimore harbor.

The bids are scheduled to be opened March 10 in the commission's offices here.

The job is expected to go for about 36½ million dollars.

The tunnel is supposed to be open to traffic by Dec. 1, 1957. Other bids will be advertised at various times through the year.

The proposed crossing will run 50 feet below the Patapsco River surface from Fairfield on the south shore to Canton on the north.

It is designed to link Ritche Highway, U. S. 301, the new Washington-Baltimore Parkway and U. S. 1 on the south and southwest edges of Baltimore with U. S. 40 on the northeast.

The link would provide more than 15 miles of high speed expressway from one corner of the city to the other without stoplights or grade crossings.

The toll is expected to be 35 cents for passenger cars. Advance estimates are it will take it about $3,736,000 in 1958.

The tunnel will be composed of twin tubes, each carrying two lanes of traffic.

The tubing will be constructed ashore in sections 300 feet long. The sections will be sunk into a trench gouged out of the river bottom and fastened together.

There will be about 21 sections to the tunnel.

Police said no one saw the accident, but he apparently fell from the sled and struck his head.

Carroll Birthplace Given To Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—Historic Annapolis announced today it is receiving as a gift the Davis House, birthplace of Revolutionary patriot Charles Carroll the Barrister, which was bought by an Annapolis merchant at public auction.

Joseph D. Lazenby, president of the society, said Joseph G. Greenfield, owner of the Peerless Uniform Co., had given Historic Annapolis the 233-year-old house provided it be moved to another site.

He also offered to contribute $150 as a start on a fund-raising campaign for this purpose, Lazenby said.

Lazenby said the non-profit society will need to raise an estimated $25,000 to $30,000 to dismantle the house in downtown Annapolis, relocate it and partially restore it.

Gettysburg Apple Hearing Postponed

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Bad weather today forced postponement of a hearing by the Federal Trade Commission on alleged price fixing by apple growers.

The hearing, scheduled for today in Gettysburg, will be held Monday at the Federal Trade Commission building in Washington. Yesterday's heavy snow kept an FTC examiner from traveling to Gettysburg.

The commission held hearings this week in Winchester, Va., when FTC Examiner Abner E. Lipscombs heard testimony from L. V. Brown, president of the National Fruit Co., and Delmer Robinson, a grower.

The FTC charges that apple prices were fixed Aug. 26, 1950, at a grower-processor meeting in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Salk Polio Vaccine Creates Fewer Antibodies In Babies

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 3 (AP)—A University of Michigan doctor said today a miniature test of the Salk polio vaccine shows it produces fewer antibodies in babies than it does in older children.

It appears that booster shots, the doctor said, will be required for babies "if a satisfactory response is to be obtained."

Dr. James L. Wilson, chairman of pediatrics and communicable diseases, said the tests on 187 infants and pre-school children were "apart from an independent of" the main evaluation tests at the university.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. is heading a vaccine evaluation center which is compiling a report as to the worth of Dr. Jonas Salk's vaccine in relation to tests involving two million grade school children. The results are to be announced this spring.

Dr. Wilson's little publicized project is being carried out on a small group of infants in the university hospital and has been under way since July of last year.

A letter is being sent to the parents of the 187 children, notifying them that doctors are ready to administer a fourth, or booster shot.

'Copter Rescues Carrier Pilot

WITH U.S. 7TH FLEET, In Formosan Waters, Feb. 3 (AP)—Fighter pilot Don E. Johnson was plucked from three-foot waves yesterday less than 10 minutes after he ditched his explosion-wracked, burning Pantherjet.

Johnson, a Naval Reserve pilot from Pasadena, Calif., was returning to his carrier after a combat air patrol—one of scores of training missions flown daily to maintain top combat proficiency while the 7th Fleet awaits possible action in the Tachens evacuation.

Johnson's first warning of trouble was smoke seeping into the cockpit. Seconds later an explosion in the rear half of the plane rocked the Pantherjet. Fire broke out in the tailpipe section. He said he was flying at about only 300 feet.

"The plane sank in about 20 seconds but that was enough time to get out all my essential survival gear," Johnson said.

Johnson was uninjured in the ditching and rescue. The helicopter reached him within five minutes after the plane sank.

"The water was fairly warm—about 70 degrees—and I was not uncomfortable but it sure was good to look up and see the helio and sling coming down to pick me up," Johnson said.

Fabric Trend Challenges Homemakers

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Drapery fabrics now in the third-dimensional technique offer a challenge to the homemaker. Windows are so pretty with draperies drawn that it may be a temptation to shut out the daylight.

One cotton handprint just introduced follows the effect of an architectural room-divider with fruit and plants drawn in a photographic-like technique. It is available in the popular pink and avocado, honey yellow and brown, blue with plum, mauve with grey as well as other color combinations.

There is a trend to fabric design such as this which will be all things to all homemakers. It is modern enough to satisfy lovers of contemporary furnishings and at the same time suggests roots that traditionalists cherish.

The international theme still goes strong with motif reminiscent of other countries, lending depth even to small quarters and offering patterns that will satisfy home decorators no matter what the decor.

Washable fabrics are particularly popular this year. In this group solid and print corduroy combinations are very smart. One fiberglass casement cloth is said to have non-sag qualities and may be washed, rinsed and hung without ironing.

President Uses Many Pens; Cost Taxpayers Few Cents

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—While eager legislators and cabinet officers look on, President Eisenhower signs a bill into law. He uses several pens and when he finishes he passes them out as souvenirs to those who have watched the historic moment.

Last Saturday, for example, Eisenhower used 15 pens to sign the Formosa security resolution. He gave away 12 of these to assembled dignitaries, and, having three left over, he frugally returned them to the box for future signings.

Maybe you've wondered, who's paying for these pens?

Hundreds of bills are signed each year. Are there big profits in the White House pen concession?

Murray Snyder, Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, says the answer to these questions is simple.

The taxpayers pay.

But, Snyder said, although they look like fountain pens in the news pictures, they're actually old fashioned dip pens and cost only a few cents each.

Even though a President's home work includes a lot of bill signing, few are important enough to rate an audience.

"The Formosa signing," Snyder said, "is the only one we've had this year. Last year, I'd say, we didn't have more than a dozen to which congressmen were invited."

Eisenhower actually uses each pen in the signing, writing a bit with one, a smidgen more with the next.

The Formosa resolution, a 15-pen job, taxed his literary ingenuity. He wrote: "Approved by Dwight D. Eisenhower, Washington, D.C., 29 January, 1955." And then added the precise moment it all took place, "8:42 a.m." Everything but the weather report, but each person getting one can say truthfully, "this is the pen he used to sign it."

Occasionally congressmen fetch their own pens for the President to use.

Clerk Wasn't Joking About Investments

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—A $60-per-week shipping clerk, whose fellow employes thought he was joking about "big investments," left an estate valued at more than $300,000.

An inventory filed in Probate Court today listed the value of Armin H. Schmidt's estate at $60,251, but it included 10,085 shares of stock listed at only $1 a share. Some of the shares are worth more than $100 each.

Schmidt had worked for the Letterhead and Check Corp. of America here for about 15 years and previously worked as a shipping clerk for a lumber firm and bakery.

Australia Seen Winning Battle To Save Water

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Australia is slowly winning its battle against one of its worst enemies—evaporation of the little water it has.

For nearly two years scientists have experimented with various means to find a sealer that would prevent the sun and other natural influences from causing water evaporation.

Oils were one means, but most of them proved successful only in laboratory tests. Scientists wanted a sealer so harmless the protected water could be used for both irrigation and human consumption.

The scientists believe they are on the right track today. They have conducted small-scale tests with a sealer that looks like bath salts. Its crystals are of cetyl alcohol, which is taken from the sperm whale in small quantities, but could be synthetically produced if need be.

These crystals, added to water, form a film on its surface protecting it to a great extent from evaporating influences. A film only about one-tenth of a millionth of an inch in thickness effectively seals off large areas of water surfaces. And the scientists say this minute quantity of cetyl alcohol, even if used with the water when it is consumed, will not harm man, beast or soil.

Tests are being conducted over various sizes of water areas from Western Australia to the Gulf of Carpentaria which lies in the tropics and where evaporation is particularly high.

Dr. K. L. Sutherland, a leader in the testing, said:

"The greatest test will be the town reservoir serving Broken Hill, the mining center in western New South Wales. They have been pumping water from the Darling River, about 70 miles away, at a cost of more than a pound ($2.24) per 1,000 gallons. If we can reduce evaporation by only 20 per cent there will be no need for the pumping from the Darling River to this storage. And the cost of sealing and thus saving that water will be less than a halfpenny (about half a U.S. cent) per 1,000 gallons."

Czechs End State Of War

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 3 (AP)—Czechoslovakia today ended the state of war with Germany.

Better Late Than Never

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Police located a stolen car on a parking lot today.

They notified Vincent E. Knittle of West Hempstead, N. Y., that his car would have been found sooner had the parking lot attendant been a more inquisitive man.

The car was parked on the lot 114 days ago.

VISA TROUBLES — German-born Mrs. Paul Barclay, Fort Wayne, Ind., shows her 16-month-old daughter, Ingrid, the two-year visiting visa which is up March 4, 1955. A victim of tuberculosis four years ago, Mrs. Barclay, wife of an American citizen, has been cleared of any contagious symptoms by Canadian doctors, but medical men at the American consul in Windsor, Ont., refuse to issue her a permanent visa, terming her a "health hazard." If she does not get a permanent visa, she will be deported. (AP Wirephoto)

Author Hails Love Under Communism

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—Women in capitalist countries have been enslaved by men and consequently married women hate their husbands. Love between men and women is only possible under communism where women have gained complete equality.

These are the twin themes of an article in the magazine Questions of Philosophy by A. G. Kharchev. He concludes that the family unit is falling apart and the birth rate declining catastrophically in capitalist countries and especially the United States. He says:

"In capitalist society a woman is supposed to stick to the kitchen, her children, church and clothes. A woman is not considered a whole human being capable of carrying on fruitful labor, political and cultural activities. This brings about an unavoidable mutual hatred between married couples. Unfaithfulness and prostitution are growing from year to year. The crisis of the family is symbolized in the citadel of modern capitalism—the United States."

More people in the United States play the piano than all the other muscial instruments lumped together.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Wealthy Americans are investing big sums in God's business.

There used to be only a scattered few religious-minded millionaires who chipped in to support the work of their churches, but today, this is becoming a more common practice.

"Many more businessmen who have made big fortunes seem inclined these days to make large gifts to the religious enterprises of the nation," said veteran philanthropy expert Arnaud C. Marts.

Beyond the inevitable "You can't take it with you," why are they doing it?

"It's a desire to make a better world," said Marts, president of Marts and Lundy, fund - raising counselors. "There's a greater social conscience among businessmen, an increase in social responsibility."

Although John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s 20 - million - dollar gift last month to strengthen Protestant theological education is the biggest single religious donation ever made it came as part of a growing trend.

Records kept by the John Price Jones fund-raising agency of religious gifts of $1,000 or more by individuals, foundations or corporations in 10 major cities, show a sharp climb since World War II.

While such gifts totaled only $145,000 back in the early 1940s, they jumped to nearly two-million in 1945, to 6½ million in 1946, sagged to the three-million-plus bracket through 1949, then shot up again.

In 1950, these big-lump gifts passed the eight-million mark, soared in 1951 to 19 million, then to 29½ million in 1952, down to 9½ million in 1953, then sharply up again in 1954 to nearly 14 million.

The cities where researcher Gladys F. MacGee kept a check are New York, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Washington.

"Some wealthy people have always given something to religion, like the Rockefellers and Carnegies," said the Rev. Thomas K. Thompson, head of the Stewardship Department of the National Council of Churches.

"But the number has increased very noticeably."

He attributed this to a general rise in religious interest, to a growing disillusionment with material things alone, and a belief that only religion can stave off the threat of atomic annihilation.

During the last few years, newspaper files from around the country are sprinkled with reports of big gifts to religious purposes.

Industrialist Myron C. Taylor, former presidential envoy to the Vatican, last month gave a million-dollar gift to the Protestant Episcopal Church for a center on Long Island.

Here are a few other gifts of recent times:

For the fifth straight year, businessman Frank J. Lewis, of Chicago gave $100,000 to the Roman Catholic Church Extension Society, a half million dollars since 1949.

Sportsman Edward J. Baker, of St. Charles, Mo., gave $1,220,000 to the Methodist Church there.

Lea M. Feagin, east Texas oilman and banker, turned over a million-dollar trust fund to the Baptist Foundation of Texas.

J. J. Lynn, Kansas City insurance executive, gave more than a million dollars to the self-realization fellowship of all religions.

An anonymous "Chinese Christian businessman" gave a million to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

A. M. Ellis, Philadelphia hosiery manufacturer, gave $100,000 for Hebrew studies at the University of Pennsylvania because of his "lifelong interest" in the Bible.

Mrs. J. P. Corcoran, of Tucson, Ariz., former wife of the late financier John J. Raskob, $615,000 to the Tucson Catholic diocese.

Lumberman Clyde Harris, of Pendleton, Ore., turned over a seven - million - dollar business to the Seventh Day Adventists. He said:

"We heard a lot about those young missionaries going out in the foreign fields and giving their lives to the Lord. We felt that our money could help."

Many more could be cited, in addition to big bequests to religious groups made in the wills of wealthy people upon death, and major gifts to numerous church-founded colleges.

Marts cited figures showing that in the average year in the 1920's the 747 taxpayers with incomes over $500,000 gave 34 million to charity out of a total income of 999 million.

In 1950, the 842 people in this high income bracket gave 55 million out of a total income of 852 million. The obvious conclusion:

"They are more generous," Marts said.

Venice is slowly settling into the waves of the Adriatic sea from which she rose 1,500 years ago.

British Advertising Firms Look To Commercial TV

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Cameras are grinding out experimental commercials for Britain's new television network, which hopes to get started in September.

A score of advertising firms readily will tell you how excellent these advertising spiels will be—but no one so far cares to give a demonstration. The reason is a somewhat unhappy occurrence some months ago in New York.

"Samples" were displayed there and the critics laughed.

Many of the advertising firms here are counterparts of American firms. They say the early films were not the kind of mature, intelligent commercials British viewers have in store.

"Opposite from the hammer-blow type," an advertising firm executive promised. "They have to be better than in America because they have to come off by themselves."

To explain: The British commercial television setup is markedly different from America's. The Independent Television Authority (ITA) will have separate stations in London, Birmingham and Lancashire.

The British government is making a loan of two million pounds ($5,600,000 dollars) to ITA for its first five years of operation.

The ITA has rented time on its stations to four program contractors. These contractors will sell advertising space and put on entertainment or otherwise fill up their program time.

Spot advertisements must not total more than 10 per cent of the program time — and they must not be tied up with the scheduled programs. They can be spotted any moment the contractor deems valuable. Thus there will be no "sponsored programs."

As for the commercials, one firm has set up what it describes as a "unique operations board" to produce them. It announced: "The public need have no fears about good taste."

This remark was in answer to oft-voiced British fears that commercials might be too aggressive.

"Sexiness and other forms of vulgarity which so many people say they fear may occur in British commercial television will have no place in the commercials produced by this company," one agency said.

This much is known: The commercials will appear in the form of jingles, demonstrations, animations (cartoons), and, above all, pretty girls.

North Rhodesia Has Divorce Law Mixup

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Hundreds of Northern Rhodesian couples who believed themselves divorced may still be legally married as the result of a high court ruling yesterday.

The court found the only ground for divorce in the territory is adultery and that English divorce law after 1923 has never applied here. Thus divorces granted on the grounds of cruelty, insanity or desertion may be invalid.

The court added that it was not even certain whether the 1923 act is valid here. If not, then the divorce law applicable in Northern Rhodesia would be the English law of 1857. Under that act, a wife had to prove both cruelty and adultery to obtain a divorce.

Two Areas In Colombia Entering Period Of Rapid Economic Growth

By MAX HARRELSON

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—In Colombia today everybody is talking about two regions where big things are expected to happen in the next few years.

These are the great eastern plains, known as Los Llanos Orientales, and the Cauca Valley, which runs down from the western slope of the Andes to the Pacific Ocean.

The only similarity is that both areas are entering a period of rapid economic expansion which will have a lasting effect on Colombia's future.

The Llanos region with its millions of acres of fine grazing lands comprises more than half the total area of Colombia. It is like the great plains of the United States in the days of the covered wagon. Its development has been delayed by two major factors: lack of transportation and four years of destructive guerrilla warfare.

But now the guerrillas have surrendered their arms and the plains are peaceful. The government has promised a new network of roads leading to both the Pacific and Caribbean coasts and to major populated areas of the interior.

This reporter accompanied a presidential party which toured part of this area. For 3½ days we flew from airstrip to airstrip, visiting village after village, yet we barely touched the fringe of the plains.

Traveling with us were some of the pioneer cattlemen of the region. One has 30,000 cattle, another 20,000. Although the land appears suited primarily for cattle raising, Colombia's Minister of Agriculture Juan Guillermo Restrepo Jaramillo said it had great possibilities for farming, especially for rice growing.

President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla is looking for homesteaders to take the land free of charge. He said his government would welcome North Americans, as well as Colombians, to settle the region and help develop it.

Homesteaders can have as much land as they can farm or as much as they can stock with cattle. They will get full title to the land after five years of occupancy.

In the well-populated Cauca Valley on the other side of the country, the chief thought is economic development. This valley is one of the most prosperous parts of Colombia, but business and political leaders are convinced they can double or triple their agricultural and industrial production by scientific development.

Despite the fertility of the land, about two-thirds of it is either flooded part of the year or is too dry at times.

Cali, the leading city of the valley, has increased its population five-fold since 1920 and now with 300,000 is the third largest city in Colombia. New industries are going up on the outskirts of the city, many of them branches of American companies, such as Goodyear Rubber, Goodrich, U.S. Royal and the Celanese Corp.

The main preoccupation of the moment, however, is the newly organized Regional Development Corp., patterned after the Tennessee Valley Authority, which has been created to coordinate development of the whole valley as a unit.

The development corporation was based upon recommendations by David E. Lilienthal, former head of TVA, who made a survey of the country and recommended concentration of the Cauca Valley as an initial project.

The corporation hopes to build a series of dams for flood control, irrigation and electric power. Three engineering firms in the United States have been retained to help train engineering personnel and to help plan the projects to be undertaken. The International Bank has a special mission in the Cauca Valley to assist in planning the financial and economic aspects of the program.

The leaders are thinking in terms of a 10-year program which may cost as much as 500 million dollars—providing, of course, that this much can be raised from international loans and other sources. But in the Cauca Valley, everybody is optimistic for the future.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

William Lindner Service Planned Here Saturday

Former Fire Chief Dies At His Home

William Louis Lindner, 62, retired chief of the Cumberland Fire Department, died Wednesday night at his home, 512 Forester Avenue, following an extended illness.

Chief Lindner had retired February 24, 1951, after completing more than 30 years in the Fire Department. He was appointed chief a month before his retirement, being forced to leave that position due to ill health.

His career as a firefighter began July 1, 1920, shortly after he returned to civilian life following a tour of Army duty overseas in World War 1. He was promoted to lieutenant in 1925 when the two-platoon system was inaugurated in the Fire Department, named captain in 1934, promoted to assistant chief in 1947 and served as acting chief during the illness of John E. Brennan, whom he succeeded.

Chief Lindner was forced to retire before reaching the compulsory age limit of 60 years, which he would have reached on March 26, 1951. Curiously enough, that same date would have marked the 45th anniversary of the department becoming a paid unit.

Known by his fellow-workers as a fearless firefighter, Chief Lindner's last big action was the four-alarm fire which razed a Wineow Street tenement on Christmas Day, 1950. Cited many times for his work at fires, his retirement was accepted with regret by then Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long.

The commissioner said "Chief Lindner was an excellent firefighter and devoted his entire life to the profession. The department will miss his efficient service and devotion."

A native of Cumberland, he was a son of the late Joseph and Mary (Ready) Lindner. His Army service was with the 313th Infantry of the famed 79th Division.

Chief Lindner was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church; Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks; Cumberland Lodge 271, LOO Moose; Cumberland Aerie 245, FO Eagles; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret V. (Rohman) Lindner; a son, Captain Thomas W. Lindner of the Fire Department; three sisters, Mrs. Josephine Rice, this city, and Mrs. Gretchen Fletcher and Mrs. Catherine Shuck, both of Bedford, Pa., and a grandson, Thomas G. Lindner, city.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home. A requiem mass will be celebrated Saturday at 10 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Church and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, will conduct a service at the funeral home today at 7:30 p. m.

A ritualistic service by Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles, will follow at 8 p. m. and the Holy Name Society of SS. Peter and Paul Church will recite the Rosary at 8:30 p. m.

GANO FUNERAL

He was a retired rural mail carrier of Fulton County, Pa., and was very active in community affairs.

Mr. Sigel is survived by his widow, Mrs. Orintha Fay (Akers) Sigel, two brothers, Floyd Sigel, York, Pa.; and Charles Sigel, Amaranth, a number of nieces including Mrs. Virginia Shanholtz of Cumberland, who was reared by the Sigels.

The body is at the Grove Funeral Home in Hancock and will be at the residence in Amaranth after noon today.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 11 a. m. at the Buck Valley Methodist Church with Rev. Walter Twigg officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Interesting "Extra" For Simple Meals Is Broiled Banana Apple Rings

Broiled Banana Apple Rings, combining the flavors of cooked bananas and sliced, candied apples, spiced with cinnamon. You'll find this makes a delicious broiled accompaniment to serve with meat, poultry or fish, or top it with whipped cream to make a fine dessert.

Broiled Banana Apple Rings

- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup water
- 2 apples, unpeeled
- 3 firm bananas*
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- Salt
- Cinnamon, ground

*Use all-yellow bananas

Mix together sugar and water in large frying pan. Bring to boiling temperature and cook until sugar is dissolved. Wash and core apples and cut crosswise into 3 thick slices. Add to syrup. Cook apple slices until tender, but still firm, about 5 minutes. Remove apples from syrup. Place on broiler rack or into pan containing rack. Peel bananas. Cut crosswise into slices about ¼-inch thick. Cover each apple ring with overlapping slices of bananas. Brush with butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with salt and cinnamon. Place in preheated broiler about 3 or 4 inches from heat and broil about 5 minutes, or until bananas are brown and tender . . . easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with meat, poultry or fish, or top with whipped cream and serve as a dessert.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Suggestion: One cup of white or dark corn syrup may be used in place of sugar and water.

Baked Bananas An Easy Dish

An even easier dish is whole Baked Bananas. These are made by peeling firm bananas, those that have all-yellow or slightly green-tinged peel, and placing the whole bananas into a well-greased shallow baking dish. The bananas are brushed well with melted butter or margarine, and sprinkled lightly with salt. Then they are baked in a very hot oven (450°F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until tender. The test for doneness is that the bananas can be pierced easily with a fork. These baked bananas are delicious to serve hot as a vegetable with almost any meal combination, or as a dessert, topped with cream, syrup or hot fruit sauce.

Bananas have important nutrition in their well-rounded supply of vitamins, essential minerals and their high food energy. You'll find them an easy asset for your winter meals.

Easy Casserole For Leftovers

Place a layer of coarsely grated potatoes in a greased baking dish; top with ground cooked meat. Pour a thin white sauce, seasoned with grated onion and cheese, over all. Cover and bake in a slow oven (300°F.) for 45 minutes.

Flavor Twist For Liver

Next time you have liver on the menu, let it marinate in French dressing (in the refrigerator, of course) about an hour before you cook it.

DIRECT ACTION ... Sometimes it's best simply to pick up your child and take him in the house when it's time for a nap or a meal, instead of coaxing him.

Glazing Smoked Butt

Glaze smoked shoulder butt like a whole ham. If simmering in water, remove the butt 30 minutes before the scheduled end of cooking. Place it on a rack in an open roasting pan and spread with honey, orange marmalade or jelly. Then place in a hot oven to set the glaze and to finish cooking.

Good Tasting Pork Suey Makes Economy Main Dish

A Chinese pork dish which long has been popular is chop suey. If it's a favorite at your house, you'll like this chop suey version, with its delicious, somewhat out-of-the-ordinary flavor. It's not the usual bean sprout, pork and celery combination; green beans and a little sherry are used in the rich tasting mixture.

With pork plentiful at most meat markets, chop suey type dishes are economical to serve these days.

Glorified Pork Suey

- 1½ pounds pork shoulder
- ½ cup cut up celery leaves
- ¼ cup soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 package frozen cut beans
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons sherry (optional)

Trim fat from pork; cut pork into 1-inch cubes. Brown in 2 tablespoons hot fat. Drain off excess fat, add celery leaves, soy sauce, sugar and 1 cup hot water. (No salt is needed because of the saltiness of the soy sauce.) Cover and cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 1½ hours. Add green beans and sliced celery and continue cooking, covered, until vegetables are tender, about 1½ hours. Add green beans and sliced celery and continue cooking, covered, until vegetables are tender, adding a little more water if necessary. Add sherry and thicken, if necessary, with a cornstarch and water paste. Season to taste and serve on hot boiled rice. 4 to 6 servings.

Other Pork Shoulder Uses

Pork Balls On Fruited Noodles

- 1 pound ground pork
- ½ cup soft bread crumbs
- ¼ cup minced onion
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- Salt, pepper, flour, fat
- 3 cups bouillon or water
- 1 teaspoon onion salt
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ cup raisins
- 4 oz. noodles (half an 8 oz. package)

Combine first five ingredients, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Shape into 16 firm balls, roll in flour and brown in 2 tablespoons hot fat. Remove balls from skillet, add 4 tablespoons flour and blend well. Stir in bouillon or water and add onion salt, Worcestershire sauce and a dash of pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add balls, cover and simmer over low heat for 30 minutes. Soak raisins in warm water. Cook in boiling, salted water until tender. Mix drained raisins with drained noodles and serve topped with meat balls and gravy. 4 servings.

Sweet-Sour Pork

- 1 pound lean pork shoulder
- Fat, salt, pepper
- 1 cup bouillon
- 2 medium green peppers
- 3 tablespoons chopped onion
- 4 slices canned pineapple
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce
- ½ cup pineapple sirup (from canned pineapple)
- 4 cups boiled rice

Heat a little fat in a skillet and in it thoroughly brown the pork which has been cut in ½ inch cubes. Sprinkle well with salt and pepper. Add bouillon and cook, covered, over low heat for 20 minutes. Add green peppers cut into 1-inch pieces, onion, and pineapple slices cut into eighths. Cook another 10 minutes. Blend cornstarch with next four ingredients and add to mixture. Stir constantly until thickened. Cook 5 minutes longer, and add extra salt, and pepper, if necessary. Serve in individual rice rings or nests of boiled rice. 4 servings.

Meat Patties Set Theme For Valentine Meal

Menu

Valentine Meat Loaves
Hash-brown Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts
Celery-Nut Salad
Muffins
Butter or Margarine
Cherry Pie
Beverage

Just when mid-winter morale needs a boost, along comes February. Here's a little month full of big excuses for doing something special for family meals.

Valentine's Day offers a perfect opportunity to dress up a meal. You can take your cue from the day—it's romantic with hearts and flowers. Home economist Reba Staggs suggests setting the scene with the main course, Valentine Meat Loaves. The only difference between these and the usual ground meat patties is that they're baked in heart-shaped salad molds instead of shaped into round patties and broiled. When they have baked, they are unmolded and "pierced" with pimiento strip "arrows."

VALENTINE MEAT LOAVES

1½ pounds ground beef
½ pound pork sausage
½ cup grated carrots
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup chopped onion
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Pimiento, if desired

Combine ground beef, pork sausage, carrots, seasonings, Worcestershire sauce, onion and beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Pack into heart-shaped molds or a 5 x 9-inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 25 minutes for the small molds or 1½ hours for a loaf. Garnish with pimiento "arrows" if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Fruit Kebab Garnishes

Fruit kebabs are good company for broiled meats. Use any combination of pineapple, apples, pears, oranges, bananas and cherries. Thread chunks of the fruit on skewers. Brush the fruit with melted butter or margarine. Broil the kebabs during the last few minutes the meat is broiling until they're slightly browned and heated through.

Steaks For Broiling

Barley Is Good Company For Lamb Shanks

Barley is stuffed into these lamb shanks for a novel twist your family will applaud. Serve tomato salad, green beans, whole wheat bread, butter or margarine, prune whip and a beverage with the stuffed lamb shanks.

Stuffed Lamb Shanks

6 lamb shanks
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups water
¼ cup barley

Brown the lamb shanks in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover and simmer until tender, about 1½ to 2 hours. Remove meat from broth. Cool and remove bones. Cook barley in lamb broth adding water if necessary. Stuff lamb shanks with cooked barley. Thicken remaining lamb broth with flour for gravy. Pour gravy over stuffed shanks, cover and cook on top of range or in a moderate oven (350° F.) until heated through. 6 servings.

Perk-Up For White Sauce

Perk up the flavor of white sauce by adding chipped beef to it. This sauce will accent vegetables and it can be served over opened baked potatoes for a pleasant change.

Don't Sear Meat

Molded Apple Juice-Cranberry Jelly

This Apple Juice-Cranberry Jelly, cool and tart and fruity, is cheer and comfort to any hostess because it can be served in such a variety of ways, and is delicious in all of them.

By itself, it's a beautiful and crunchy relish to accompany turkey, duck or chicken.

Garnished with greens or served on watercress, is stars as a pretty, gay salad to serve with cold sliced turkey or meat. Or, made in a ring, the center filled with parsley — sprinkled cottage cheese, it's the important dish at an informal luncheon, along with sandwiches and glasses of apple juice.

The jelly is a dessert, too — forked gently into glinting ruby fragments, spooned into individual dishes and crested with whipped cream.

However, wherever, whenever you serve it, the bright lively flavor of apple juice and canned apple slices play a big part in its success. They give those delicious overtones of good tart apple. And the apple juice adds richness to the color and a brilliant shimmer that makes the jelly look as good as it tastes.

You'll find the jelly easy to make, and quick — a big plus in its flavor in this busy holiday season. Put it together in the morning, set in the refrigerator and there it is, ready to serve when you need it.

Molded Apple Juice-Cranberry Jelly

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
2 cups apple juice
1 cup canned apple slices, well drained
1 cup home-made cranberry sauce
* ½ cup chopped celery
½ cup broken walnut meats
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Watercress

Soften gelatine in ¼ cup apple juice. Heat remaining 1½ cups apple juice; add gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Chop apples, mash or break up cranberry sauce. Combine apples, cranberries, celery, walnut meats, sugar and cinnamon. Add apple juice gelatine mixture; mix well. Pour into mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on watercress; garnish with whole fresh cranberries, if desired. Yields 8-10 servings.

* Substitute canned pineapple bits for the celery, if jelly is to be used as a dessert.

(This is an original recipe kitchen tested by Gertrude Lynn, nationally known Home Economist.)

Apple Sauce Cookies

½ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 cup seedless raisins
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup canned apple sauce

Cream together shortening and sugar; add egg. Beat well. Add raisins. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda, baking powder, nutmeg and cinnamon. Add alternately with apple sauce to creamed mixture. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven, 400° F., 12-15 minutes. Makes 7 dozen.

Late Evening Snack

Coarsely chop 8 frankfurters. Mix with 1 cup grated sharp cheese, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons chopped pickle and 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion. Cut 8 frankfurters buns almost through and fill with the frankfurter mixture. Wrap each roll in aluminum foil, sealing ends carefully. Place in refrigerator to chill. Just before serving time, heat the wrapped rolls in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes or until cheese is melted Serve immediately.

Here's a sauce that will turn left-over loaf cake into a delicious new dessert: Heat apple juice, thicken with cornstarch, sweeten to taste and add a shake or two of nutmeg. This sauce is also fine with puddings and baked custard.

Mix Soups For 'Soup Mates'

Sometimes it's a game of hearts. And sometimes it's a kitchen game, because many cooks enjoy matchmaking with soups, mixing one with another for special new "Soup Mates."

You probably are an "old hand" at whipping up special soups from the standard kinds in cans. Which "soup mates" are your very own favorites? When you fix them, just think how many other "soup surprises" you can dream up. The possibilities are countless—almost. With the 24 regular soups in the canned line, you can match up many a new twosome to tantalize appetites.

By mixing soups, you can quickly make an exact one to suit your liking, anytime. It may be as dainty as chicken rice mixed with cream of chicken. Or it may be as he-man as beef noodle with vegetable soup. Put this one with that one. Go this way; go that way. You'll be rewarded with soups that taste like a million, and have your own touch of genius.

Full-Of-Chicken Soup

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 soup can water
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed chicken with rice soup

Country Kitchen Soup

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed beef noodle soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetable soup
1½ soup cans water

Blend soups and water; heat. 4 servings.

Vegetable Soup—Peasant Style

1 can (1¼ cups) Bean with Bacon Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Vegetable Soup
1½ cans water

Blend soup and water; heat. 4 generous servings. If desired, add thinly sliced, browned frankfurters and crumbled cooked hamburger.

Puree Mongole

1 can (1¼ cups) Green Pea Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Tomato Soup
Dash curry powder, if desired
1 cup water
1 cup milk

Blend soups and curry; stir in milk and water. Heat but do not boil. 4 generous servings. Just before serving, float a few thin slices of stuffed olives, or add a puff of lightly salted whipped cream.

Chicken-Vegetable Soup

1 can (1¼ cups) Chicken with Rice Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Vegetarian Vegetable Soup
1½ cans water

Blend soups and water; heat. 4 generous servings. An excellent garnish for this soup: toast squares dusted with Parmesan cheese.

Beef Soup With Noodles

1 can (1¼ cups) Beef Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Beef Noodle Soup
1½ cans water

Combine all ingredients; heat. 4 servings. A real man's soup!

Celery Noodle Soup

1 can (1¼ cups) Cream of Celery Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Chicken Noodle Soup
1½ cans water or milk

Combine all ingredients; heat but do not boil. 4 servings.

NOTE: To make richer, more "chickeny" soup, use a can of Cream of Chicken Soup in place of the Cream of Celery Soup.

Bouillon with Noodles

1 can (1¼ cups) Beef Noodle Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Bouillon
1½ cans water

Combine soups and water; heat. 4 servings.

NOTE: A few tiny diamonds or cubes of pimiento make the soup real party fare.

Creamy Clam Chowder

1 can (1¼ cups) Clam Chowder
1 can (1¼ cups) Cream of Celery Soup
1½ cans water or milk

Mix soups; add water or milk slowly, stirring constantly. Heat but do not boil. 4 generous servings.

Asparagus-Celery

1 can (1¼ cups) Cream of Celery Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Cream of Asparagus Soup
1½ cans water or milk

Stir Celery Soup until smooth; blend in Asparagus Soup. Add water or milk, stirring constantly. Heat but do not boil. 4 generous servings.

Scotch Chowder

1 can (1¼ cups) Cream of Mushroom Soup
1½ cups water or milk
1 can (1¼ cups) Scotch Broth

Blend Mushroom Soup with water or milk; stir in Scotch Broth; heat. Makes 4 generous servings. (This soup may also be made with Cream of Celery Soup.)

Tomato Vegetable

2 cans (2½ cups) Vegetable Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Tomato Soup
2 soup cans water

Combine soups and water; heat. 6 servings. Garnish with croutons, if desired. (Small bread squares, buttered, and toasted under the broiler till golden brown.)

Quick Meals Can Be Easy On Budget

Combining a career with homemaking presents some meal preparation problems. For instance, how can you plan quick-to-prepare meals and still be on friendly terms with your food budget?

There are many meats which are both time and money-savers. They can be prepared in several ways, so you won't have a monotony problem.

Even though roasts and pot-roasts usually take more than an hour to cook, they can appear in your weekday meals — you can cook them the night before. Their preparation will not tie you to the kitchen all evening. The next night you can take your choice of the way you serve the meat. The cooked meat can be combined in endless variety with sauces, seasonings, quick breads, cooked vegetables and starchy foods such as potatoes and macaroni.

If you've been yearning for a stew, there's no reason why you can't prepare stews and other braised meats the night before. Then they can be cooled, stored in the refrigerator and re-heated the next night.

Ground meat is a handy standby. There's an imposing variety of canned meats and ready-to-serve meats which can save you time, too. It's wise to keep some on hand all the time.

Tomato Consomme

1 can (1¼ cups) Tomato Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Consomme
1 soup can water

Blend soups and water; heat. 4 servings. Garnish with a thin slice of lemon studded with whole cloves.

Old-Fashioned Vegetable Soup

1 can (1¼ cups) Beef Noodle Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) Vegetable Soup
1½ cans water

Blend soups and water; heat. 4 servings.

Sour Cream Cake Has Versatile Ways

If a cake is as light as down and is rich and delicately flavored, too, then it's a pleasure to serve it for almost any occasion. Sour Cream Cake is just such a cake, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

Swirl it with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting for a weekday dinner or for a school lunch. Top it with soft mounds of pink-tinted seven-minute frosting for a birthday party. For a shower, spread the cake with a lemon butter frosting and sprinkle green-tinted coconut over it.

Sour Cream Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; ¼ teaspoon baking soda; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ cup lard; 1½ cups sugar; 2 eggs yolks, beaten; 1 cup sour cream; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 3 egg whites.

Line two 9-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together. Cream the lard and 1 cup sugar until light and fluffy. Add well beaten egg yolks. Add sour cream and flour mixture alternately. Add the vanilla. Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry and then beat in the remaining ½ cup sugar until it barely disappears. Fold egg whites into cake batter. Pour batter into pans and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Top with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting.

Fluffy Chocolate Frosting

¼ cup butter or margarine; 1½ cups confectioners' sugar; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 2½ squares melted chocolate; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon milk; 2 egg whites

Cream butter and half the confectioners' sugar; add vanilla, melted chocolate, salt and milk. Mix well. In another bowl beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; then beat in remaining ¾ cup confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, and continue beating until the mixture stands in peaks. Carefully fold the chocolate mixture into the egg whites. Spread on cake.

Prices Irregularly Lower In Quiet Market Session

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — The stock market was irregular today with the tendency toward lower prices.

The day as a whole was a rather quiet affair with volume relatively low and price movements generally narrow. Steels were lower and most motors were down. Railroads were higher on balance. Textiles did well in a minor way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents at $156.00. The fall of Standard Oil (NJ) off 3⅛ at 114⅛ was reflected in the drop of 50 cents in the industrial component of the average. Railroads were up 20 cents and utilities were ahead 20 cents.

Volume was the lowest in nearly two weeks at 2,890,000 shares. That compares with 3,210,000 shares traded yesterday when the market was lower.

Bell Aircraft was at the head of the most active list up 4 at 31⅝ on 97,000 shares. The strength resulted from introduction of the company's new vertical take-off jet. Demand for the stock was great.

It was followed in the most active list by Hupp Corp. up ⅞ at 5⅝, Fairchild Engine up 1⅛ at 19⅝, Sunray Oil up ⅝ at 24½, and commercial Solvents up 2 at 25½.

Three Escapees From Penal Farm In W. Va. Sought

An automobile in which four West Virginia State Penitentiary trustees escaped from a work detail at Weston State Hospital has been recovered in Oakland.

Authorities said the convicts abandoned the car of maintenance superintendent R. B. Barbrow in Garrett County and are presumed to be in Maryland.

One escapee, Paul James Huffman, 21, of Walton, W. Va., was captured Monday near Charleston. He was serving one to ten years for breaking and entering.

Still at large are David M. Mason, 24, near Beckley, two to ten years for forgery; James Shears, 21, Mt. Claire, one to ten years for grand larceny, and Thruman Maynard, 23, Omar, one to ten years for grand larceny.

D. W. Simmons, captain of guards, said Mason was on duty in the boiler room, under which the escape auto was parked. The car was observed rounding the rear of the building and it was assumed that Barbrow was driving.

Mason apparently took the vehicle from its parking place and drove to the rear of a barracks to pick up his three comrades.

The four were originally sentenced to the State Penitentiary at Moundsville, then transferred to the Medium Security Prison at Huttonsville and later assigned to the Weston hospital, located at the intersection of U. S. Routes 19 and 119.

All State Police detachments and county sheriffs offices in Maryland and West Virginia have been alerted to be on the lookout for the remaining three escapees.

Flour And Potatoes For Western Maryland

As so often happens in cases of this type, reports of unemployment and the need for food in Garrett County have been "greatly exaggerated," on the basis of inquiries conducted by American Legion posts at Oakland and Grantsville.

That there is unemployment in Western Maryland obviously cannot be denied. Neither can the fact that some families are hungry and without food.

Nonetheless the ugly spotlight of wide publicity again has been focused on this area.

The Garrett County Commissioners were only fulfilling their responsibility when they asked the state welfare board for additional funds to help alleviate the situation and it is unfortunate they had to be turned down, at least until the middle of this month.

Now George P. Mahoney, the bridesmaid but never the bride in three statewide election contests, has announced that he personally will distribute food in the form of flour and potatoes in both Allegany and Garrett counties.

There is an old adage about not looking a gift horse in the mouth, and we feel certain that the recipients of these gifts from Mr. Mahoney will be deeply appreciative of his generosity.

Doubtless they already are saying what a wonderful man Mr. Mahoney is for coming to their help.

If we were convinced that helping the less fortunate were his sole aim, we could do nothing but heap praise upon him. But there happens to be a photographer along with Mr. Mahoney in his food-giving trip and that raises in our minds some conjecture as to his sincerity.

Of course, we have no way of knowing what purpose Mr. Mahoney has in mind with his photographer. Maybe he won't even take any pictures but we scarcely believe he would be along on the trip if that wasn't in mind.

Now, as we said, we imagine the recipients of this food will be very grateful, but we wonder how willing they will be to have their pictures taken for posterity as the recipients of charity.

It could be that Mr. Mahoney has in mind trying again to get elected to some state office and he believes these pictures and his gifts of food will make good campaign material.

But perhaps that is not his purpose either since, when Mr. Mahoney was campaigning for governor in 1950, when the economic picture and outlook here were much darker than they are now, he did not volunteer to give away any food to the hungry. That was at a time when he had the advantage of being on the spot and observing firsthand just what conditions were. Perhaps he thought then that gifts of food would be taken as a political maneuver inasmuch as he then was running for office.

This time, he is not an announced candidate for anything and his purpose may be entirely genuine.

But we can't overlook that photographer. His presence makes Mr. Mahoney's intentions questionable to say the least and raises the thought, Is he doing all this for personal and political gain? The fanfare attached to it certainly makes it seem so.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Cease-Fire Plan

The argument for the cease-fire plan is that any shooting can lead to universal shooting, that is, to World War III. The efforts of Great Britain are designed to avoid, one might almost say evade, World War III. The British do not argue that they know what the advantage of a delayed war might be; they do know the disadvantages of an immediate war, namely, that the British Isles could be wiped clean because of the ferocity of current weapons.

Sir Anthony Eden has stated the British intention in one paragraph:

"In this situation the first concern of Her Majesty's Government is to stop the fighting. They have therefore continued to urge on all concerned the importance of doing this and of preventing a wider conflagration. A solution of these delicate and difficult problems is not to be reached by force. A settlement can only be arrived at by the peaceful processes of patient negotiation."

The argument against the cease-fire and United Nations mediation is that the Red Chinese want Formosa, they want it particularly before the April conference of Asiatic-African nations. It is not so much a matter of reason as of "face." If Chou En-lai can defeat the United States on this issue, he could elbow Nehru aside and become the dominant individual in Asia.

It is apparent that Soviet Russia is beginning to wonder about Chou En-lai's Napoleonism but whatever decisions concerning Formosa are made in the Soviet Universal State, the Kremlin will make them, possibly at the Supreme Soviet meeting which began February 3. However, the Russians probably will not decline the role of mediator with the hope that they can hand Formosa and the Pescadores to Red China, thus proving that the junior partner in the Soviet Universal State cannot do as well as the senior partner. That would deprive Chou En-lai of "face" while getting the benefits of the mediation.

Whichever way it is done, through the United Nations or by Russian intervention, the cease-fire can only lead to prolonged negotiations for the abandonment of Formosa by the United States. Recognition of Red China by the United States or a seat in the United Nations for Red China, or the division of China into two, the People's Republic of China and the Republic of Formosa, will not be enough. What Chou En-lai wants is Formosa, neither for its strategic value nor as an act of irredentism but to strengthen his position among the Asiatic nations, to give him "face" by another defeat of the United States, to prove to the Asiatic world that he is the smartest and ablest man in Asia, not excepting the moralistic busybody, Nehru.

This view of the situation is well understood on both sides and is frightening for all the Europeans and Asiatics, except Red China, because it can lead to an hysterical act committed for public opinion rather than for a sound goal. The comments on the cease-fire in the Red Chinese press would indicate that there is little mood for mediation. It is suggested in this country that the Red Chinese press adopted a similar tone before the cease-fire in Korea. The situation was altogether different; the stakes were smaller; the peril to Red China was not as great. If Chou En-lai fails in his current objectives, his own position in the Soviet Universal State will be considerably reduced; he will have lost "face" in China; he will not be the cock-of-the-walk at the Bandung conference. His greatest ambition, which is to succeed Mao Tze-tung, may become unachievable. It is Formosa or bust—for him.

Dictatorship Will Continue In Spain, According To U. S. Ambassador Dunn

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Ambassador James C. Dunn, long-time envoy to Spain, has given some amazing secret testimony to a congressional committee regarding the chief Fascist nation in the world. His praise of Dictator Franco dripped almost like syrup as he told the congressional representatives of the country with the most representative government in the world the advantages of fascism.

So far, his remarks have not been made public.

Dunn, who was transferred to Brazil only this month, is a career diplomat and croquet partner of Cordell Hull. Dunn was a vigorous advocate of recognition of Dictator Franco and also urged an arms embargo against the Spanish Loyalist government to help Franco.

His testimony was given to investigating congressmen when they visited Spain in September. Dunn reported that Dictator Franco was sitting solid with the Spanish people except for a certain amount of labor opposition; that relations between the United States and Spain were rosy, and he confidently predicted Franco would be able to carry on for 10 years while his dictatorship would continue for 25 years. Dunn even praised Franco's regimentation of women.

Congresswoman Katharine St. George of New York, the Republican who defeated isolationist Congressman Ham Fish, was skeptical.

Franco's Health

"Suppose in the normal course of events Franco should get out of the picture," she asked. "Who would take over?"

"We have given a great deal of thought to that," Ambassador Dunn replied. "General Franco is about 61 years old and in very good health. I think he is good for another 10 years or so because he takes very good care of himself. If anything should happen to him, I am convinced that there is someone here in Spain in the higher levels of the government who would be selected to carry on in his place. He has set up an arrangement already to name the successor. . . .

"We have to face the fact," Dunn concluded, "that we will have this sort of regime here — a nonrepresentative regime; but this type, which is fairly mild — for at least 10 years and possibly 25 before you would begin to have a return to a representative government."

"That is one of the troubles with these dictatorships," commented Congresswoman St. George. "You cannot tell when the one man may get out of the picture."

"They have to watch that very carefully, because if there's any interim this whole thing might flare up again," said Dunn.

"Are there any personal differences between our administrators and the Spanish government?" asked Congressman Charles Brownson, Republican, of Indiana.

"No," replied Dunn. "It's just too good to be true. To me it is a new sensation, because I have been in other countries where there have been such arguments, but not here."

The ambassador at this point obviously omitted the manner in which Franco has hiked certain U. S. military costs at the last moment and the unpleasant wrangle that the Air Force has had over the right of Protestant American GIs to marry Spanish girls unless they join the Catholic Church or the church gives approval.

Regimentation of Women

Ambassador Dunn was also enthusiastic over the Communistlike regimentation of Spanish women.

"The women's organization is very interesting," he explained, "because they have the women all organized, and every young girl from about 17 to 18 or 19 has to serve at least six months in some social service — not military, but some social service — either helping in a hospital or producing something. They have a very fine school in which they train the leaders of those girls."

The American ambassador's conclusion was uncomfortably like the apologies Nazi leaders made for the Hitler youth movement.

"I have seen it in operation," he said, "and it certainly does not do them any harm. It does them probably a lot of good. They learn a certain amount of discipline and order, and in this whole movement they are always inculcating the doctrine of patriotism.

"It isn't a bad idea," he concluded, unmindful of how closely the Fascist system resembled the same training methods we are opposing in Russia.

Franco's Strength

Describing the reasons for Franco's support, the American ambassador testified:

"The reason this present form of government and General Franco are carrying on and being supported and maintaining hold on the people here is because, in the first place, he has the support of the army. . . . who are extremely loyal to him. He also has the respect of the Catholic Church, which is very strong because the country is practically 100 per cent Catholic.

"The third element is this political group which is called the National Movement, which is deliberately whipping up a certain amount of patriotic sentiment."

"Are there any economic controls?" asked Congressman George Meader, Republican, of Michigan.

"Yes, every kind of control," replied the ambassador. "You will find some new ones you could not think up even."

Dunn then told how it was necessary to have a license to buy almost anything, even a typewriter.

Censorship Report Could Change Press Conferences

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Maybe President Eisenhower will have to give consideration soon to the idea of two separate press conferences—one for the television cameras and one for the newspapermen who are not interested in dramatic effects but solely in news.

With characteristic good nature and sense of fairness, the President, through his able press secretary, James Hagerty, arranged to have certain sections of his regular press conference released for the films. So unfamiliar are the cameramen with the customs and traditions of newspapermen that immediately a hue and cry was set up that the White House was "censoring" the news. On Capitol Hill it was even whispered by partisans as a consequence that the President was releasing only the stuff that would make good political propaganda.

Unfortunate Report

What was overlooked by the cameramen was that "censorship" is a word used to describe suppression. Because certain sections of the conference were not released for TV didn't mean that what the President said was withheld. All the newsmen—and they represent every press wire service—and all the commentators who give news broadcasts on TV or radio were still permitted to write everything they heard but not, of course, in first-person quotations. Because a stenographic record is kept of these conferences and is available a few hours afterward, the news writers can paraphrase in the third person and give it all to the public the same day. It was most unfortunate that any of the cameramen spread the idea that some kind of censorship was being introduced.

Actually, for many years it has been customary for presidents to speak off the cuff and then later on, if they liked, to release for first-person quotation various sections of the transcript which the newspapers might have requested for use without the paraphrase. It so happens that, with the TV cameras and film machines recording the transcript for the first time all that the White House did was to use the same rule that had been applied previously—it selected certain sections for first-person quotation. For, after all, it would not be possible to have the TV Cameras carry on their networks any quotations that were denied to the news writers.

Within Its Rights

Even if the White House were disposed to release certain sections of the transcript of a presidential press conference to the newspapers and radio and not to TV, it would be within its rights. For there are times when a president stumbles in giving an answer, and this could produce an adverse impression to the eye. But thus far anything that has been released for first-person quotation to the press has been given to the cameramen to use in the newsreels or the TV.

It is, of course, questionable whether in the long run the coverage of the press conferences by films will rebound to the political advantage of the President or will be good for TV, either. This is because in a prepared speech the President can speak more effectively than in an impromptu talk. The public also may get bored with the press conferences on TV because most of the time the camera is focused on the President and there is little of the atmosphere of being present at a conference. The face of none of the questioners was shown, for instance, in the first press conference that was filmed on TV. If the entire conference were shown on the screen, then the President would appear distant from the eye because it takes place in a large room with a couple hundred correspondents in it.

Present Method Unsatisfactory

Many of the questions and answers at a press conference may be important to those familiar with the subject matter, but a mass audience will not long take an interest in a rambling discourse on the number of kilowatt hours that needs to be furnished through a Dixon-Yates contract or the fine points of a security-problem checkup. If the TV folks want a theatrical showing, they could get a better one by having a separate filming in which the President carefully acted out for their benefit certain parts of his conference with the press or if the TV men themselves staged something more dramatic. But the present arrangement can only in the end prove less and less valuable as a means of getting information needed as background.

For a president who feels he is going to be checked up and called a suppressor or censor of news because he hesitates to release everything he says at a press conference is likely to wind up with a "no comment" habit on vital matters. What's important is not the development of the press conference into a show but its continuance as a serious institution wherein the people, represented by the press, can get a maximum amount of information from the President in any way he chooses to give it—off the record or on the record, in the third-person paraphrase of in first-person quotes.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like all this trouble started when the Chinese stopped walking single-file.

There was a time when the Orient was as peaceful as a day nursery in the night time.

But somebody pulled the string on the figure-4 trap and school was out.

Ike has asked everybody to dummy up and let the U.N. handle it. Seems to us that those bird-watchers have been eating crow under glass.

We agree that a blockade is an act of war if it's only a picket line around Paddy's market.

It would have no more effect on China than petting a porcupine. And would get all the nations in the world sore as hammer toes.

We put in a bid for diplomacy at top-sergeant level because the old-timers knew their China. They were the lads who fought the Boxer Rebellion around 1900. There are no more left in official circles.

I got the story of beef bone reef from surgeon Kaveney of the Navy. The side-paddler Baltimore built for the Civil War was anchored off Hong Kong so long she ran aground on her own soup-bones.

That's one Ripley didn't believe. But Kaveney squared it with the story of the Chinese light house which was true. He was brigaded up the Yellow River with the English gunboats. And brought back an authentic prophecy of accumulating events.

In 1920, I was official bootlegger for the New Mexico in San Francisco harbor. Josephus Daniels could have told you about that. He was the fellow who dessicated the Navy. I shook hands with him while a bottle under my arm gurgled like Tennyson's pet brook.

That night in the wardroom of the New Mexico Kaveney told Runyon and myself we had to fight Japan. You know the rest, in the books you have read about the liver pill ads on the farmyard walls.

We Are Not They

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEH, Formosa

Here is one point, at any rate, on which President Eisenhower and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek appear to be in agreement.

Judging by the soothing statements emanating from Washington, the American administration is convinced that the Chinese Communists will not press the Formosa crisis to a warlike conclusion. The generalissimo also believes that the Communists will even refrain from attacking Quemoy and the Matsu Islands if they are firmly and clearly told that this will mean war with the United States.

Thus high level judgment may be said to be all on one side. It is at least worth noting, however, that the visible hard facts of the situation are all on the other side.

No single piece of tangible evidence discoverable by this reporter supports the official judgment in Washington and Taipeh. This judgment of the Formosa crisis has been reached very evidently, by calculating what we would do if we were the Chinese Communists ruling in Peking. But it is always well to remember that we are not they.

Forgotten In 1941

This was forgotten in 1941, for instance. The American leaders were then chiefly conscious of the strong opposition at home to any involvement in the war. Therefore they could not believe the Japanese would commit the folly of forcing America into the war. But the Japanese were chiefly conscious of the American naval threat on their Pacific flank. They could not believe they could move southward with safety without eliminating this American threat. And here, and not in any silly talk of plots, was the real explanation of Pearl Harbor.

Other disastrous examples might be cited of the same error, such as Gen. MacArthur's "home by Christmas" attack toward the Yalu. And in the present instance, the conviction that the Chinese Communists will not risk war over Formosa is based on what we think will best serve Red China's interests. But those who hold this conviction somehow manage to overlook both Red China's warlike preparations and warlike declarations.

These preparations and declarations are the hard facts—what the Marxists call "the objective evidence." The preparations have been going on apace for at least two years.

Secondary Airbase Too

By extending existing airfields and building new ones, the Chinese Communists have built up one great jet airbase complex in the Yangtsze River delta, in Chekiang and Kiangsu provinces, within easy range of the Tachen Islands and Okinawa. They have also built up a secondary but wholly adequate airbase complex in the region directly across the Formosa Strait, within easy range of Quemoy, the Matsus and Formosa and the Pescadores.

Great efforts have been made to stock these airbase complexes with large reserves of all kinds of supplies. At present the main Communist air force has already moved from Manchuria and the Peking area into the Yangtsze delta airbase complex. It can move south again at will.

Meanwhile, an army of 200,000 men has been assembled at the jump-off point for an attack on the Tachens. An equally large force threatens Quemoy and the Matsus, which are held by less than 40,000 Chinese combat troops. And the assault on Yikiangshan has already revealed careful Chinese Communist training for triphibious operations.

Thus the forces for an attack are in place. Meanwhile, the Peking government has been promising its people to take Formosa this year at the top of its voice. The Peking leaders have also been assuring leaders of neutral nations, like Burma and India, that they mean every word they say about taking Formosa.

Should Have Removed Doubts

Finally, there are excellent reasons to believe that Chou En-lai had exact advance knowledge of the contents of President Eisenhower's message to Congress on the Formosa treaty. If there was any lingering doubt about the American military guaranty of Formosa that message should have removed it. Yet the Chinese Communist Prime Minister having this knowledge, at once reaffirmed the Chinese purpose to take Formosa this year.

It is really hard to see why the brilliant Chou En-lai should thus engage Peking's prestige to the very hilt if the threat to Formosa is a mere vainglorious maneuver intended to extract some other concession from the West. In fact if Washington and Taipeh are right about the real Communist intentions, you have to conclude that Chou En-lai is a mere boastful muddler.

Such is the conflict of evidence. This reporter's opinion, which is worth little, is that the thing is an even bet either way for this year. But a Communist grab for Formosa is a virtual certainty next year or the year after that, if we do not strengthen our shockingly weakened defenses on this side of the Pacific and if we fail to find some better Asian policy than piece-meal retreat.

Growing Old? It Depends Upon How You Look At It

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Growing old is a relative process. The youngster regards anyone as ancient who has gray hair, baldness, wrinkles, crow's feet, or feebleness. But the individual who reaches this stage of life has different ideas, especially when active and young at heart. This may explain the popular saying that an old person is anyone 10 years older than yourself.

Doctors Jacob Tuckman and Irving Lorge, Columbia University psychologists, sent out a questionnaire to 982 men and women of varied age, education, and socio-economic levels, asking them to specify whether they considered themselves young, middleaged, or old. Subjects under 30 invariably classified themselves as young whereas less than one per cent in the 30-59 age group regarded themselves as old.

Only 17 per cent of men and women in the 60s thought they were old but 38 per cent in the 70s and 53 per cent in the 80s placed themselves in this class. A few long past the 60th birthday encircled the word young on the chart because they felt and behaved like youthful persons, in their estimation.

It is well known that people age at different rates. A man of 60 may be as young as the average at 40, or as old as a man of 80. According to Dr. C. Ward Crampton, there are seven kinds of age. Most of us are familiar with chronological age, which represents the actual milestones.

The anatomical age refers to the occurrence of certain important events in the body. All cells, tissues, and organs grow, mature, and decline. Anatomical epochs include the appearance of the first tooth, puberty, gray hair, wrinkles, hardening of the arteries, shrinking of the kindneys, or other alterations. All these changes imply that a certain stage of development has been reached.

Physiological aging enters the picture with waning function of various tissues and organs. Testing in this field is concerned with reaction time of the nervous system, diminution of vision and hearing, the menopause, decline of the sex glands, and loss of skin elasticity.

Psychological aging is concerned with how the person feels and acts. Many oldsters have made great contributions to science, industry, politics, and literature. Experience and a storehouse of knowledge compensate for declines in motor and sensory capacities.

Pathological aging stems from the injury done through repeated infections, strain, and dissipation. Damage of this nature may age a man 10 years or more. Conversely, adequate treatment will de-age him by 10 years.

The sixth and seventh forms of aging are statistical and hereditary. Hereditary aging is dependent upon our parents and grandparents; the members of some families are old at 50, regardless of living habits.

ACID ASH AND STONES

H. L. writes: Why is an acid ash diet given to a person with kidney stones?

REPLY

Diet is important because some renal stones are prone to form in urine that is acid; others develop when the reaction is alkaline. The initial stone is analyzed after its removal to determine its ingredients and if it is composed of phosphates, an acid diet may prevent the formation of additional stones.

BOUTS OF BURSITIS

P. L. writes: Does bursitis of the shoulder tend to recur?

REPLY

One attack does not immunize the individual against another bout, but the same conditions that produced the first attack will bring others if the cause is not corrected or if it recurs.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

I never quite believe the stories I hear about boners pulled on high school examination papers, but even if this one isn't quite true, it bears repetition:

"One beautiful evening in 1852 Queen Elizabeth entered Coventry, and after removing all her clothes, rode through the streets astride a snow-white stallion.

"On her way, she bumped into Sir Walter Raleigh who was embarrassed by her appearance and threw his cloak around her, crying, 'Honi soit qui mal y pense' which means 'Thy need is greater than mine.'

"The Queen graciously responded, 'Dieu et mon droit' ('My God, you're right').

W. Va. Senate Favors Opening Public Assistance Records

Bill Makes General Inspection Possible

By CHARLES R. LEWIS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 3 (AP)—The West Virginia Senate passed 30-2 and sent to the House today a bill to open public assistance rolls for public inspection.

The measure provides that lists of relief clients shall be filed monthly in the offices of county clerks, where they would be available for anyone to examine them.

In a busy afternoon, the Senate passed three minor measures and sent them to the governor for his signature.

Both Senate and House received from bi - partisan sponsors a resolution to form an 8-member citizens' advisory commission to survey and study the state's mining laws, and report back to the 53rd Legislature.

Sens. Marchand D-Monongalia) and Reed (R-Preston) sent in the resolution, in the Senate, while the House sponsors were Dels. Lloyd (D-Monongalia) and Seibert (R-Ohio). It would project a study of the mining code and suggest revisions.

"The nice thing about it," Marchand commented to newsmen, "it wouldn't cost the state a penny."

He explained that the interested groups from which the commission members would be chosen could be expected to bear any expenses incurred by the study.

Tomorrow's forenoon session indicated another long weekend recess. Word went around the legislature halls that Gov. William C. Marland could be expected back for another speech early next week, possibly Monday, this time to outline his revenue proposals for the general fund.

The governor has already held three speaking engagements before joint sessions of the House and Senate.

The resolution to revamp the mining laws referred to "pressing demands for a greater simplification and modernization of the present mining laws."

The three bills passed by the Senate and sent to the governor said:

Provide for nomination of justices of the peace and constables at party primaries instead of district conventions, in instances where vacancies occur more than 30 days before the August primary.

Broaden the law dealing with resignation and removal of National Guard officers to include federal laws and regulations pertaining to the National Guard and Air National Guard. Such removals and resignations are now covered only by state laws.

Permit the governor to confer the rank of brigadier general, or higher rating, upon the state adjutant general. This would enable the adjutant general to hold a rank equivalent to that which he would have if called into active duty. The measure also provides a new stipulation that the adjutant general, to qualify for appointment, must have had at least six years of commissioned service in the National Guard.

AFL Unions Picket School Projects In Bedford Area

BEDFORD — Two Cumberland AFL craft unions are affiliated with the Altoona Building Trades Council in picketing five school building projects in the Bedford School district.

They are Teamsters and Chauffeurs Local 453, and International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers Local 568, officials of these locals said today.

The officials said while picket lines have been established by the Altoona Building Trades Council no members of the Cumberland locals are participating.

Schools affected are Bedford High School and four elementary schools — Bedford South Elementary, Manns Choice-Harrison, Colerain and Snake Spring.

Pickets carry signs saying the work is not being done by 100 per cent union labor. The AFL workers walked out Monday in the dispute involving three non-union contractors on the projects.

Cumberland Valley School, also being picketed by AFL workers, is not affected since no union contractors are engaged there and non-union employes have ignored the picket line.

$1,000 Awarded In Auto Suit

KEYSER — A Mineral County jury deliberating a damage suit, returned a verdict last night awarding Oria Murphy $600 on her $15,000 claim and her husband, Frank Murphy, $400 on his $5,000 claim.

The case had been filed by Mr. and Mrs. Murphy against William T. Dixon and John L. Kline, as the result of a traffic mishap, in 1951 at Hedgesville near Martinsburg.

The accident occurred following a snow storm and the State Roads Commission's truck was cindering the highway. Road signs were erected to warn motorists of a 15-mile per hour speed zone, and the plaintiff charges that the truck, driven by Kline, was traveling at 20 miles per hour, and crashed into his auto.

Dixon testified yesterday that he had sold the truck prior to the accident and that he was not responsible for the damages.

Henry Whiting and N. Howard Rogers, attorneys for Murphy, said that the auto was pulled to the side of the road when the truck approached, and that the truck hit the car. Mrs. Murphy suffered a broken arm and serious injury to one ear.

Mineral County Delegate Wants New Game Bill

Sponsors Bill To Halt Hunting Of Doe Deer

KEYSER — Delegate Joseph W. Kessel, Mineral County representative in the state legislature is trying to check "indiscriminate killing of does, which threatens extinction of our deer herds in West Virginia." He has been fighting for a change in deer seasons, and has introduced a bill in the house that would permit counties to rescind doe seasons in their respective areas.

The measure, identified as HB 249, is designed to permit any county to abolish doe hunting upon the receipt of a petition bearing the signatures of a majority of the county's registered voters. The form would be submitted to the Conservation commission.

The commission now recommends a six-day season, known as "hunters' choice," which actually amounts to indiscriminate shooting of deer, from fawns on up, the solon asserted.

Continuing, he said:

"The consensus of opinion in my region is that such a season would wipe out our rapidly diminishing deer herd. The declining herds seem to prevail in counties of the eastern and central parts of West Virginia.

"The bill would have no effect on killing of bucks," Kessel claims.

Westernport Faces Water Shortage

WESTERNPORT — During the cold snap the water in the town's reservoir dropped six inches a day, Mayor Okey E. Michael stated. This occurred in spite of running the pumps 24 hours a day.

This condition is particularly due to many people leaving their faucets open running the water to keep water pipes from freezing.

The mayor stated at the regular meeting of the Town Council Wednesday night that if a long cold spell were experienced and this practice continues there will be a shortage of water.

Bids Requested On New Dorm At Potomac State

KEYSER—The Board of Governors of West Virginia University is requesting sealed bids for the construction of a men's dormitory and the renovation of Davis Hall at Potomac State College in Keyser.

Davis Hall, which currently houses 91 students, will be enlarged to accommodate 189 students. The building also has a dining hall, with the bids asking for a new one to be included in the estimates. A new front will also be placed on Davis Hall.

The university board approved final plans for both construction projects at a meeting Saturday in Morgantown. The 1953 West Virginia Legislature appropriated $40,000 for the renovation of Davis Hall. Total cost of the project is estimated at $370,000.

Bids are required to be submitted by March 3 at which time they will be publicly opened and read. The university board asks that particular attention be paid by bidders regarding the conditions of employment and wage scale to be paid. The board also reserved the right to reject any and all bids.

Frostburg Teachers Sweep Potomac State Series, 76-63

Dave Marple Racks Up 26 For Bobcats

Holds Gene Guarilia To One Goal; 500 See Battle In Frostburg

FROSTBURG, Feb. 13 — Frostburg State Teachers College, playing the first game in its new gymnasium, celebrated the gala occasion by whipping Potomac State College's Catamounts tonight by the score of 76-63. Five hundred persons witnessed the contest.

It marked the first time in many years that the Bobcats had swept a basketball series with their Keyser rival. Frostburg won the opening game in Keyser, December 4, by the score of 80-76.

Highlight of tonight's game was the stellar all-around performance of Dave Marple, of Frostburg, who led the attack with 10 field goals and 26 points and held the high-scoring Gene Guarilia, usually good for 20 or more points, to a single field goal and eight tallies. The Potomac State ace fouled out six minutes before the final whistle. E. Smith, of Potomac also made his exit on fouls in the final period.

For the first time this season Frostburg played without the services of its star guard, Mike Nofsinger, who quit the squad to join the Air Force. Bill Kirk turned in a commendable game as Nofsinger's replacement.

Potomac State took a 2-0 lead at the outset but never was in front thereafter. After the score had been knotted at 4, 8, 10 and 12, the Bobcats took over and held a 37-30 advantage at halftime.

E. Smith headed the Potomac State scorers with seven baskets and 17 points.

Voigts Resigns As Grid Coach At Northwestern

"N" Club's Criticism Causes Bob To Quit

Bob Voigts

Ranking behind only Illinois' Ray Eliot in point of Big Ten coaching service, the 39-year-old Voigts said that because of criticism of his coaching he was quitting "for the good of the university."

His contract was to expire September, 1956.

The criticism came from Northwestern's lettermen group, the "N" Club, which as long as a month ago began hunting for Voigts' scalp. One "N" Club officer had predicted then, "We'll have a new coach by spring football practice."

Voigts' eight season stay at Northwestern is matched in the Big Ten only by Stu Holcomb at Purdue and surpassed by Illinois' Eliot, who has been boss since 1942.

It was reliably reported the "N" Club had boosted Voigts for the Dartmouth coaching job, now filled, to ease his resignation.

Although Voigts' teams had a 33-39-1 record since he succeeded his former coach, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, in 1947, the Wildcats won only 1 of their last 12 Big Ten games. Northwestern defeated Illinois 28-26 in the finale of the 1952 season and then didn't win again in conference play until last fall's windup against Illinois, 20-7.

St. Michael Cops Fourth Straight

SS. Peter-Paul Tops St. Patrick's, 57-33

St. Michael's, of Frostburg, notched its fourth straight win of the second half race in the Catholic Youth Basketball League by defeating St. Mary's on the latter's court last night by the score of 53-24.

SS. Peter and Paul, first half champions, downed St. Patrick's in the opener of a twin bill on SS. Peter and Paul court by the score of 57-33.

St. Patrick's held their West Side rivals to an 18-18 draw in the first half but did a fadeout in the third stanza when SS. Peter and Paul rallied for 20 points to grab the long end of a 38-25 score.

Bernard Barbe dumped in 21 points for the winners. Mickey Scaletta and Vincent Lepore scored 11 of the 12 baskets and 28 of the 33 points credited to St. Patrick's.

St. Peter's of Westernport took the measure of St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage in the nightcap affair here by the score of 43-30.

Kalbaugh, Ternent and DiBuono had 14, 12 and 10 points for St. Peter's while Carter headed Mt. Savage with an even dozen tallies. Lineups:

FRANK THOMAS

Thomas, Conn Will Attend D. D. Dinner

Pirates' Star, Boxer Will Be Here Sunday

Frank Thomas, home run belter of the Pittsburgh Pirates, definitely will appear here Sunday at the seventh annual dinner of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Club, officials of the local organization were advised last night by Al Abrams, Pittsburgh, national president of the Dapper Dans.

Abrams also assured the local committee that Billy Conn, former light-heavyweight champion of the world, who fought Joe Louis twice, has accepted an invitation to appear at the dinner set for the local K. of C. Home at 6 p.m.

Thomas and Conn will head a long list of sport celebrities coming here for the annual event, proceeds of which go to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The advance sale of tickets is reported to be good, 155 pasteboards having been sold. At least 100 more tickets are expected to be purchased. They may be obtained at 13 different local agencies, also at the K. of C. Home prior to the dinner.

Fisher & Robinette's String Snapped At 22

Fisher and Robinette's winning streak ended at 22 games last night but the leaders of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League won their match with the Frostburg Eagles, 2-1.

Other results were: Frostburg Legion won three by forfeit from the Cumberland Redmen; Hann's Tavern 3, Cas Taylor's 0; Frostburg K. of C. 2, Golden Nugget 1; Stadium Inn 2, Clingerman's 1; Cumberland K. of C. 3, Goodfellowship Club 0; Hi Dee Club 2, Mt. Savage V.F.W. 1.

High scorers were: Paugh, Hann's, 21; Becker, Cas Taylor's, 17; Love, Cumberland K. of C., 23; Clark, Goodfellowship, 16; Jackson and Delaney, Frostburg K-C, tied at 23; Saunders, Golden Nugget, 18; Palmer, Fisher & Robinette, 27; Williams, Eagles, 20; Hyde, Stadium Inn, 23; Lafferty and Harr, Clingerman's, tied at 22; Twigg, Hi Dee, 14; Murray, Mt. Campers Visit Mt. Savage, Fort Hill At Valley High

Allegany and Valley, deadlocked leaders in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Basketball League, resume firing tonight in games at Mt. Savage and Lonaconing.

Coach Walter L. Bowers' Campers (3-1) journey to Mt. Savage to face Johnny Thomas' Mt. Savage High Indians, recent upset victor over Beall, while Fort Hill will test the Black Knights on the Valley High court.

Allegany defeated Mt. Savage here by the score of 49-41 and the Injuns would like nothing better than to dump the Campers in Mt. Savage. Valley trimmed the Sentinels on the latter's floor, 54-43, and figures on making it two straight tonight.

The Campers and Valley have 4-1 records in the league. Mt. Savage and Fort Hill have identical marks of two wins and three losses.

Carver Aims For .500

The only game scheduled in Cumberland tonight is that between Hyndman High School's Hornets and Carver High School. Carver gave the Pennsylvanians a hot battle before bowing 51-49 on January 21 in Hyndman and needs a win tonight to crash the .500 circle for the first time this season. The Frederick Street quint has won six and lost seven. Hyndman has won 14 out of 18 engagements and has eight more games on its slate including tonight's game here.

Four games are scheduled for tonight in the Potomac Valley Conference.

Hawks Seek 11th In Row

Ridgeley goes after its 11th in a row when it meets Romney High's Pioneers on the Ridgeley court. The Blackhawks are the only unbeaten quint in the 14-club PVC. Romney was crushed by Ridgeley in the series opener, 51-22.

Moorefield, runner-up with a 10-1 record, goes to Piedmont to play the Lions who gave the Yellow Jackets a real scare before they were finally subdued in the series opener at Moorefield, 45-43. Piedmont is out of the running for the title but could hurt a contender at this stage of the race.

Vikings After Revenge

Keyser High plays Coach George Whitacre's Bulldogs at Martinsburg tonight.

Other area games Friday night include Circleville at Thomas, Tygarts Valley at Davis, Northern at Salisbury, Bayard at Southern (Oakland) and Hedgesville at Wardensville.

Thomas will be gunning for its 13th win of the campaign while the Highlanders of Coach Leonard Ritchie hope to make it 10 wins tonight.

The last pitcher to shutout the Yankees in a World Series was Preacher Roe of the Dodgers. He beat them 1-0 in the second game of the 1949 Series.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Dutch Lane, claimed out of his last race a week ago for $14,000 from Brookmeade Stable, sported the silks of his new owner, Sol Rotenberg of Toronto, Can., to a surprise victory in the first division of the $5,000 Indian Creek at Hialeah Park today.

The 7-year-old son of By Jiminy-Dutch Cut was put to a vigorous drive by Ted Atkinson to win by a half-length from L. Mantell's Immense and paid $11.30, $5.00 and $4.00. Immense, who returned $3.00 and $3.40 finished 3½ lengths clear of the 63 to 1 shot Isasmoothie, which was $12.10 third.

Fourth in the field of 10 older horses was Brookmeade's 7 to 10 favorite County Clare, a length behind Isasmoothie. The winner went over the 7 furlongs in 1:24 1/5 on a fast track.

Atkinson was dumped when Dutch Lane wheeled after the race, tossing the veteran jockey near the 6½ furlong pole. After a six-minute delay, Atkinson came back to the scales on a pony owned by the outrider, Dominick Condone.

Hasty House Farms' Torch Of War, with Eldon Nelson in the irons, raced fully to expectations as he outran seven rivals in the second part of the Indian Creek. It was the horse's seventh start of the winter his second win. He paid $4.40, $3.10 and $2.70.

E. K. Bryson's Abbezac, $5.80 and $4.10, was a rapid-closing second, though beaten 2¼ lengths by Torch Of War. W. M. Peavey's Spartan Jett, $4.50, finished third, a short length farther back. Hyphasis, a one-time stakes winner for Belair Stud, now owned by Mrs. Charles Silvers, stopped badly and finished seventh. The time was 1:23 4/5.

Gene Conley of the Milwaukee Braves in his first full season in the major leagues, found the Dodgers his softest touch. He beat Brooklyn five times and lost only once.

Navy-Maryland Game Resolution Ditched

ANNAPOLIS Feb. 3 (AP)—A House of Delegates committee decided today it would be unwise to try to legislate an annual football game between Navy and the University of Maryland.

The Ways and Means Committee voted against a resolution that would have urged the state's U. S. senators to use their influence in having the game scheduled.

Former Sen. Millard Tydings was instrumental in having the teams play in 1950. The series was discontinued after the 1952 game and Navy has declined to renew it.

Heap, Varrichione Signed By Giants

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 3 (AP)—Halfback Joe Heap and tackle Frank Varrichione of Notre Dame have signed contracts with the New York Giants and Pittsburgh Steelers respectively of the National Football League.

This was disclosed today by Julius Tucker, South Bend businessman who served as negotiator for Irish stars turning pro.

Tucker described both contracts as "quite satisfactory." Presumably both were for one year.

Ted Kluszewski Gets Pay Boost

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs today landed the big one in their 1955 contract net.

Ted Kluszewski, who already was drawing the biggest salary ever paid a Cincinnati player, signed his 1955 agreement for "a large raise."

The pay boost came after a banner 1954 season for the big first baseman in which he:

Led both major leagues in home runs with 49 and in runs batted in with 141.

Led the National League's first basemen in fielding for the fourth consecutive year.

The exact salary to be paid Kluszewski was not disclosed by General Manager Gabe Paul but it was estimated his year's pay checks would total somewhere between $35,000 and $50,000.

At any rate, Kluszewski, regular Redleg first baseman since 1948, expressed satisfaction with his contract.

Toby Falls In Line

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3 (AP)—Catcher Toby Atwell today returned his signed 1955 contract to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Atwell, of Purcellville, Va., batted .289 in 96 games with the Pirates last season.

Durando Fights Gavilan Tonight

That's the question tomorrow night when the Cuban Keed, stripped of his welterweight title in his last start Oct. 20, goes back to work after doing the mambo for three months.

If Gavilan's work with a dance troupe has the same effect on his legs that similar hoofing had on Sugar Ray Robinson's, the Keed could be in deep trouble.

Ernie Durando, the guy in the other corner, can hit. He can't do much else but he really can hit. If Gavilan has gone back far enough, Durando will find out.

As one handler of fighters said, "If Carmen Basilio could drop Gavilan, then Durando should put him down for keeps." Basilio floored Gavilan at Syracuse, N. Y., in September, 1953. It was only the second time he had been down in his career and he never has been stopped in 117 fights.

The 10-round match at Madison Square Garden at 10 p.m. (EST) will be carried on network radio and television (NBC).

Gavilan is a 3-1 favorite. The Keed has a 98-15-4 record and Durando has a spotty 39-18-4. The Rock from Bayonne, N.J. has been stopped three times, twice in the last year by Billy Kilgore and Peter Mueller.

Mahoney Arrives With Food For Needy Families

George P. Mahoney, prominent Baltimore County contractor and politician, has arrived in Western Maryland with a photographer to assist in the distribution of flour and potatoes he is donating to needy families.

Truckers unloaded 12,000 pounds of flour yesterday at the Canada Hose House headquarters of the Auxiliary Police. A load of 30,000 pounds of potatoes will be unloaded at the same place today, Mahoney said yesterday.

Shortly before noon the Mahoney party left for Oakland with 6,000 pounds of flour and 15,000 pounds of potatoes for distribution in Garrett County.

Mahoney plans to remain in Garrett and Allegany counties several days conferring with county commissioners and other officials regarding early distribution of the flour and potatoes.

It is planned to distribute the food to 700 families in Allegany County and 300 families in Garrett County. Each family is to receive two 10-pound sacks of flour and 50 pounds of potatoes.

New Hampshire was the first of the 13 original colonies to declare its independence from Great Britain.

Melvin Harris Is Elected President Of TWUA Local

Melvin Harris, 34, of 11 Mill Street, Frostburg, was elected president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), in a runoff vote completed Wednesday night.

Harris defeated John G. Thomas by 34 votes by the 2,100-member union.

Irvin Lewis was elected vice president over Thomas F. Powers and Charles Davis was named secretary-treasurer in a contest with Charles E. "Buck" Jones.

Elected members of the executive board were Floyd Grady, Lindley Dye, Walter Mahaney and Edward Borgman. Two members of the executive board were elected last week in the balloting. They are Vito J. Dormio and Ira McBride.

Results of the election were announced yesterday by George B. Lyons, chairman of the elections committee, following an official tally of ballots. Lyons said the newly-elected officers will be installed February 25.

The new president of the local is a native of Frostburg and is a son of Mrs. Margaret Harris and the late Charles Harris. He attended school in Frostburg and graduated from Beall High School.

In 1939 he entered the service of the Celanese Corporation of America at the Amcelle plant and has been employed there ever since, except for several years service in the Army during World War II. He was in the infantry and served overseas in the European theater of operations.

Harris is married to the former Miss Helen Hargosh. The couple has two children, Melvin Jr., and Cheryl.

From 1948 through 1949 Harris served as sub-chairman of the Textile Engineering Department at the Amcelle and he is currently the business manager of the local. He was also business manager in 1950, 1953 and 1954.

Jury Amends Accident Ruling

A jury in Circuit Court yesterday found in favor of a man who had appealed from a decision of the State Industrial Accident Commission.

The jury found the man, Columbus Bittinger, of Woodlawn, near Frostburg, had been totally disabled from injuries received in a rock fall in a mine operated by the W. and W. Coal Company.

The state agency had previously granted Bittinger only partial disability payment. Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson were attorneys for Bittinger while Earl E. Manges was counsel for the mining firm. Chief Judge George Henderson presided.

Rev. John Bailey Jones, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Frostburg, will speak on the family and church.

Five members from each PTA unit in the county must attend the session to qualify the organization they represent in the program of having one delegate sent to the summer conference at the council's expense.

Report Of Public Welfare Shows 24 Cases Are Added

The report of the State Department of Public Welfare for December shows an increase of 24 cases on the rolls of the Allegany County Welfare Department over November, according to Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the board.

She said five persons were added to the old age assistance group, eight cases of aid to dependent children added, eight totally and permanently disabled persons were placed on the rolls and three children placed under foster care.

Mrs. Westerfeld said the report shows that a state-wide increase in aid was given in December over November with the largest increases in the aid to dependent children and foster care of children. This bears out the statistics on the heavy increase in the birth rate in recent years.

Old age assistance, Mrs. Westerfeld said, was rendered to 663 individuals. The total payments amounted to $26,946.69, for an average grant of $40.64, she pointed out, adding that the average individual grant state-wide was $44.82.

Payments for aid to dependent children amounted to $28,664.38, according to Mrs. Westerfeld, who said 916 children in 328 families were benefitted. The average grant per family was $87.39 in comparison to $95.79 state-wide.

There were 301 persons who received aid under the permanently and totally disabled category. The payments totaled $12,684.38, Mrs. Westerfeld explained, for an average individual grant of $42.14. The state-wide average was $52.58.

Payments for foster care amounted to $2,503.67, Mrs. Westerfeld said. The 54 children for whom the payments were made thus received an average payment of $46.36, slightly more than the average state-wide payment of $44.79.

Garrett Area Unemployment Report Termed 'Exaggerated'

The unemployment problem and reported need of food and clothing for Garrett County residents was discussed at a recent meeting of Mountain District, American Legion, at the home of Fort Cumberland Post 13.

Arthur G. Norris, Frostburg, vice president of the Legion's Department of Maryland, said the state group had requested information on the subject in order to determine if it could be of assistance.

Representatives from Proctor-Kildow Post 71, Oakland, termed the reports "greatly exaggerated," while members from Accident Post 208 said conditions there were "not bad." Grantsville Post 214 said the situation there was being "taken care of."

Officials of Garrett County posts were scheduled to meet this week with welfare workers to determine the extent of any needed assistance, and in turn report back to district officials.

The concern of the American Legion Maryland Department results from a report last week by Garrett County officials which termed the unemployment situation "very serious" and "worse than in the depression years."

Norris also announced at the meeting that the present district membership is approximately 200 more than at a similar time last year. There are 13 posts in Mountain District, Norris explained, and seven districts in the state. All posts represented presented reports concerning the distribution of food to needy veterans and child welfare cases at Christmas time.

Radio And Television

parade of 18 heroines of soap operas, singing happy birthday to radio and forming little groups. It looked like something out of your high school Christmas play or maybe the annual potato festival of the Harrisburg Junior League. Endless people like Ed Wynn and Art Linkletter stood up and took bows from the audience. And Vincent Lopez with Paul Whiteman and orchestra played "Nola."

The really great moments of radio were touched on only once by cribbing heavily from Edward R. Murrow's and Fred Friendly's "Hear It Now" album. Once again we heard Lowell Thomas announce the arrival in Paris of Charles A. Lindberg, the Duke of Windsor's renunciation of his throne for "the woman I love," Winston Churchill's "this was their finest hour" speech, John Daly announce that Pearl Harbor had been attacked. These were radio's finest hours, but there was precious little of this.

I liked seeing Paul Whiteman in action again, conducting "When Day Is Done" and Eve Arden doing a bit from "Our Miss Brooks," and Edger Bergen and Charlie McCarthy talking about the old days, and Milton Cross and Harry von Zell telling about their famous fluffs.

But the definitive cavalcade of radio, the era of sound which has now definitely passed, has still to be done. Perhaps it ought to be done on radio.

School Board Stands Pat On Salary Plan

Teachers Association Releases Statement

The Allegany County Board of Education has turned down the request of the Allegany County Teachers Association to reconsider its teacher pay recommendations.

The board had endorsed a raise of $300 for next year and a additional $100 for the following year.

The teachers association wants $500 next year and $200 a year for each of the following five years.

Kenneth R. Malcolm, president, said the five members of the board are standing pat on their original endorsement.

According to action taken at Saturday's meeting of the association, the next step will be to submit the wage increase proposal to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Yesterday another statement was issued by the teachers association in connection with its background for a pay raise.

"One of Maryland's most critical problems is the acute shortage of teachers caused by her rapidly rising birth rate and ever expanding population," states John D. Kelly, chairman of the public relations committee of the Allegany County Teachers Association, which, with the legislative committee, will meet with the commissioners tomorrow to discuss the proposed salary schedule for Allegany County teachers.

"Maryland's school population has increased 140,000 in the past decade," Kelly emphasizes. "Since World War II, this tremendous increase in student population has been felt chiefly in our elementary schools, however, in the next six years as children are promoted, it will be felt at the secondary level."

According to statistics published by the Maryland State Teachers Association, an estimate places the jump in secondary school enrollment at an average of 10,000 pupils yearly until 1959-60, then up to 15,000.

"What has happened to Allegany County school enrollments?" asks Kelly. "Records at the office of the Board of Education show that the enrollment in 1940 was 14,883 students with 490 teachers; in 1950, 15,295 students with 570 teachers, and in 1954, 15,974 students with 625 teachers. This represents an increase of more than a thousand students and of 135 teachers since 1940. Each year the demand for educators is more acute both here and elsewhere in the state," he points out.

"Unless the salary schedule here is commensurate with that of neighboring counties, it will become more difficult to maintain a fully qualified staff as the scarcity of teachers increases," states Kelly.

"In 1954 there were 2,859 new teachers needed in Maryland, yet in June 1953, only 831 were graduated from the five state teachers colleges. Many uncertified teachers were hired as a result. In the state, 43 per cent of the certificates issued to new teachers this year were emergency ones.

In Allegany County, 14 per cent of the teaching personnel is on an emergency basis.

"The obvious solution to this critical problem," says Kelly, "is to attract sufficient numbers of outstanding high school graduates to our state university and teacher colleges.

"In Allegany County, the comparison of teacher earnings with workers who require no professional training after high school will give an insight into the reasons why so few young people decide to enter the teaching profession," Kelly points out.

"The beginning teacher here receives $2700 ($2800 in 1955) after four years of college work with its accompanying expenditures and loss of earning power during those four years, while a Civil Service employe, just out of high school, receives $2750 yearly.

"Several who have completed their teacher training and have entered the profession have left it for better paying positions in industries.

"Teaching hours sound enticing, but add to a day in the classroom the extra hours of work at night and glamour diminishes. Only those in the profession and their families know the heavy load of school work, of inservice training and of community activities which teachers carry.

"In industry or business, the work day is eight hours with time and a half for overtime. Teachers receive no overtime pay for their extra work except in very rare cases, as teaching adult classes in special fields.

"Directors of extra-curricular activities spend many hours after school training students in dramatics, music, publications and recreation, with only one compensation—that of producing worthy citizens.

"The work of a teacher is not measurable in dollars and cents as is that of the employe in the production field. Since the development of a child's mind that will help create and form the thinking and conduct of generation to come is the teacher's responsibility, his profession should not be placed in the 'low income field', thus tending to discourage energetic, intelligent young men and women from entering it," Kelly concludes.

Pfc. Norwood B. Barnes, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Barnes, Bedford Road, has been selected to audition for the post band at Parris Island, S. C.

Before entering service, Pfc. Barnes attended Fort Hill High School and was a member of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR. Assigned to active duty last November, he is home on a 10-day leave.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3—(INS)—Jimmy Stewart is going to play a bit in "Picnic," which stars Bill Holden at Columbia. When I first heard this, I could hardly believe it. But it's true.

Stewart, who with his percentage cuts makes millions out of his pictures, has told Josh Logan that he'll do the minor part of the middle-aged businessman in "Picnic" because Josh is one of his best friends and this is his debut as a movie director.

It isn't the first time Jimmy has done a small role out of friendship. Remember he played a clown bit for C. B. DeMille in "The Greatest Show On Earth."

Colleen Miller—who has been honeymooning in Miami with Ted Briskin and his parents (?)—will be here Monday, minus her bridegroom, to play the lead with Tony Curtis in "The Rawhide Years." Arthur Kennedy is also in the line-up for this U-I western in Technicolor.

The bride didn't dare ask for more time off because the studio very nicely permitted her to bow out of "All That Heaven Allows" to marry Briskin in Chicago.

David Wayne, who's been merely a sensation in "Teahouse Of The August Moon" on Broadway, returns to Hollywood over the weekend, and Eli Wallach replaces him in the New York hit.

Don't say I told you, but it's all but signed for David to star in the MGM movie version of this charming play.

John Forsythe, the other top actor in the Broadway show, remains in the cast until July, when he's due to report to Paramount for his new contract.

If Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski is in the frame of mind to accept, she can pick up $10,000 a week—not hay even to an heiress—on the same show with the Ritz Brothers at the Flamingo in Las Vegas.

The Ritz Freres' agent has already put Harrison Forman to work on a semi-dramatic skit for Gloria, who is now all-out "dedicated" to a career.

She'll have to make up her mind in a hurry as the Ritzes have a March opening date at the Flamingo.

Ann Sheridan's secretary, Gloria Murphy, was married Sunday to Henry Pena, a cousin of Rudy Acosta, who is the big romantic interest in Ann's life.

Joan Crawford was all over the Red Book awards party touching up everybody's hair with a brush dipped in a little bottle of silver she carried in her purse. Yes, her own hair is silver tipped, too.

The funniest conversation of the week—Marlon Brando seriously advising James Dean not to be too eccentric!

Roz Russell, who has had one article printed by Readers Digest, has sold the magazine another based on the advice her father gave her when she was in her 'teens.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (INS)—Now, every time I see somebody given a plaque or a silver service for meritorious work in baseball or the parsnip industry, I think of a presentation story I ran across in researching the Las Vegas series.

The late Sen. Tobey, the Kefauver committee's voice of conscience, was questioning Barney Ruditsky, former New York detective who went to work in an assortment of trades in California after retiring from the force. The main topic was Benny Siegel but Tobey veered off to the famous Atlantic City meeting in 1932 at which the top figures in gangland conferred.

Sen. Tobey—Who called it?

Mr. Ruditsky—It was called by Big Frenchie. He was with Owney Madden. He called this meeting and the purpose was to apportion the rackets to the different people. The syndicate was going to maintain it but there wouldn't be any cutting in and they decided to stop killing one another. I don't know what went on at the meeting but they assigned different parts of the country to different men; different parts of the rackets.

The ex-cop then laughed and continued:

"At that time a very funny incident occurred. They presented a watch to Owney Madden. Big Frenchie was to present the watch to him. Now he never had made a speech in his life. He got up to the dais and he said:

" 'Owney, have you got a watch?' Owney said yes and took it off and showed it to Big Frenchie. Big Frenchie didn't quite know what to do. So he dropped Owney's watch on the floor and stepped on it and he said, 'Gee, I'm sorry I broke your watch, but here's another one for you,' and presented him with this watch.

Sen. Tobey—I am not sure that that isn't a better speech than a lot of senators make.

Mr. Halley—Turning now to the Las Vegas area (etc. etc. etc.)

Sen. Tobey's efforts to condemn the long-since-dead Siegel crowd the Kefauver reports. When the committee was questioning Moe Sedway, associate of the extinct gangster, this transpired:

Mr. Halley—Siegel represented a certain amount of muscle from Los Angeles, didn't he?

Sen. Tobey—He was a rat, wasn't he?

Mr. Sedway—A rap?

Sen. Tobey (indignant, no doubt)—Rat. R-a-t.

Mr. Sedway—Maybe. I don't know.

Sen. Tobey—He got what was coming to him, didn't he? Good thing, wasn't it?

Mr. Sedway—I wouldn't comment on it.

Sen. Tobey—If you had your life to live over again, would you play the same kind of a game again?

Mr. Sedway—No, sir.

Sen. Tobey—You are in cahoots with a lot of people like Bugsy Siegel was and I wonder why men do these things. I look upon the people in my state of New Hampshire who till the soil and make $2,000 a year as a lot richer than these people you know. My people have peace of mind and can look everybody in the eye.

Mr. Sedway—Senator, you see what it got for me, three coronaries and ulcers.

Fellow writes from Baltimore, regarding the Las Vegas series, "You left out the prices on food and rooms, etc., which I think is very important to the average reader. Why didn't you quote the average cost of living in Las Vegas by the week, not counting gambling? (Ed. note: I'd say anywhere from $25 to $25,000,000).

"P. S.—Is there any way of winning on dice in Las Vegas? Say, if you bet the dice wrong and then took the odds for the same amount—would that do it?"

Am turning this query over to Joe E. Lewis, prominent threadbare authority on the sport.

Taste is an attribute that makes you stand head and shoulders above others in any crowd!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Some contend there is no such thing as "good taste" — only taste or lack of it. But no one will deny that certain habits of dress and manner display taste, while others show no sensitivity at all for this mysterious element of charm.

Taste grows with observation of the "rights" and "wrongs" that others practice. If you shudder for those overdressed at an informal function, or sense the discord in a costume combining dress-down accessories with sparking cocktail separates, your thoughts must be attuned to the tasteful in dress.

Simplicity Is Guide

Simple clothes are always best. Even this fine rule, however, can be carried to inappropriate extremes. Let your costume depend more on the time, place and event for which you are dressing than on your mood of the moment. Find out, if you can, what others are wearing (particularly the hostess) before you decide to don slacks for a picnic — or a strapless gown for a party.

Avoid on every occasion such obvious errors of taste as a melange of accessory shades, a shoulder-strap bag with a dressy suit, sandals with a go-to-business outfit, yesterday's party corsage on today's casual tweeds, an after-five dress in the early hours of the day, a kittenish ribbon or posy blooming in a mature hair-style, sportswear (slacks or shorts) on the street, a low-cut dress that requires constant strap adjustment, sequinned glasses with daytime clothes.

Taste in Manners

Extend your sense of the tasteful to manners as well as dress. Loudness of voice is sure evidence that the full measure of taste was not allotted to you. Other acts of circumstantial evidence are the superior attitude, the grand entrance that needs only spotlights to resemble a Broadway premiere, monopolizing of conversation or attention, pushing to be first in any line, frequent exits and entrances that disturb others in a public place, or demanding priority service from a salesperson.

Any show of rudeness whatsoever, in fact, is the ultimate in bad taste . . . comparable to slipshod grooming that detracts from any other tasteful ways by which you strive to present a charming self-portrait.

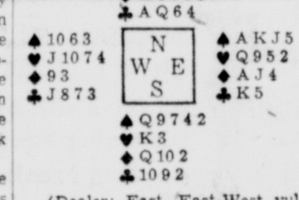
"LITTLE" HANDS ARE FUN

YOU may think that the high contracts produce all the fun and excitement. But, if so, you are wrong. It is great sport to watch some of the tournament deals which wind up in low contracts. Completely contrasting occurrences develop with them, especially since the average player is not too well schooled in his handling of such deals. The lead usually see-saws back and forth from one side to the other in the fashion of a tennis ball bobbing across the net.



(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

1 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl.

That bidding developed, with South making a business pass of the double, at two tables of a tournament in which assorted players were competing. Quite a number of different contracts resulted at the various tables, but the most interesting things happened at the 1-Spade doubled arenas. One of the declarers managed to take two more tricks than the other, scoring an extra whereas his opposite was set a trick.

Where the declarer did so well, South's club 10 lead to the A brought the spade 8 return, East and South playing low and the 10 winning. The diamond 9 was sent through to the 10 and the club 2 came back to the Q and K, establishing the J. The diamond A won, the J was ruffed by the spade 3, the club J scored and the heart 4 was led to the K. The heart 3 to the A enabled North to lead the 8 for South to ruff. But there was that poor chap in the lead with only the spade Q-9-7 having to pitch into the A-K-J, giving East his eighth trick.

At the other table the club 10 to the A was followed by the heart 6 to the K, 3 to the A and 8 for a ruff by the spade 2. The club 9 was won by the K, the diamond A scored and the 4 was led to the K. The spade A took the 8 lead, the diamond J was ruffed by the spade 6 and the heart J by the spade 7. The club 2 came back by the Q and the spade 5. East also scored the spade K, then had to give South his side's seventh trick with the spade Q to defeat the contract.

Radio And Television

The Era Of Sound

A cavalcade of radio—its rise and fall, its triumphs and bloopers, its great personalities and great historical moments—is a perfectly splendid idea for a television show. After watching Ed Sullivan attempt it last Sunday on "Toast of the Town," (CBS-TV 8 p. m.) I still think it's a great idea and one that has not yet been done.

The Sullivan show, I must admit, did have its high spots—notably Jack Benny who can apparently do nothing wrong these days, and H. V. Kaltenborn imitating President Truman imitating H. V. Kaltenborn, an inspired bit of nonsense. It had a brief moment of nostalgia when Rudy Vallee sang "My Time Is Your Time," "I'm Just a Vagabond Lover" and "Maine Stein Song," bringing a sentimental ache in the bones of some of the more ancient citizens like myself.

But where was everyone else? Where, for heaven's sake, were Amos 'n Andy, who practically invented network radio and who were the first network stars? How the devil can you have a show billed as a "cavalcade of radio" without mentioning some of the big acts of the early days—the A&P Gypsies, the Clicquot Club Eskimos, Tony Wons, Stoopnagle & Bud who were among the funniest comedy teams that ever got on radio.

In the early dawn of radio, there was the band phase. These were the days of Coon-Sanders and the Kansas City Nighthawks—one of the first remote shows I ever heard—and Ben Bernie, the days when Chevrolet fired Jack Benny and hired Wayne King under the terribly erroneous assumption that nobody would ever listen to a comedian on radio.

And pretty soon there were the early easy-going comedy teams, Amos 'n Andy, the Easy Aces and Lum 'n' Abner. Radio was always a great place for singers. Remember Gene Austen? And how can you do a "cavalcade of radio" without mentioning Bing Crosby? Or the early commentators and sports announcers—Floyd Gibbons, Clem McCarthy, Ted Husing and Walter Winchell? And, unless my ears were playing me tricks, there wasn't a single mention of the late Major Bowes who was the first and just about the only man who ever managed to sell a car on radio.

Remember Seth Parker and his way down east show? And how come Fred Allen didn't rate even a polite nod? Of course, some of these people are dead (but there must be some recordings around) and others are tied hand and foot to NBC which refused to cooperate. (Relations between CBS and NBC at the moment have reached a degree of childishness, the like of which I haven't seen since I was in third grade.)

That is just an incomplete summary of what wasn't on the show. What was on it? Well, there was a

Abel Cable SAYS:

Since boxing bouts are no longer being telecast on Saturday nights, channel 5 will only be used on Monday nights for boxing and Tuesday nights for wrestling. With this arrangement, channel 2 on cable 2 will bring in the late programs five nights each week. Channel 10 will be on cable 4 and channel 6 on cable 6.

Governor Supports Delay In Fee Hike

Surprises By Saying He Will Sign Bill

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin agreed surprisingly tonight to ride along with a year's postponement of scheduled increases in motor vehicle registration fees.

He had vetoed the same bill last year and was expected by the entire Legislature to do the same thing to another passed last week.

Instead he announced on the eve of the deadline for making up his mind that he will sign it.

The governor in a sense agreed with the majority of the legislators and disagreed with his roads commission in approving the postponement of fees that would have been $5 to $7 higher on passenger cars and correspondingly increased on trucks.

The roads commission had argued before legislative committees that they needed the additional three million dollars as part of the 12-year building program.

Test Is Needed

"While there is no doubt in my mind that this revenue could be used advantageously in advancing and expediting our building program, the fact remains that we still can continue a substantial part of the program through the ensuing year," Gov. McKeldin stated.

He said there is "no doubt that an overwhelming majority of the members of the General Assembly desire this one year test of the program's progress without this additional registration fee revenue."

Referring to his veto of last year, he said "the situation has changed somewhat."

Motor vehicle taxes and fees are approximately the same as estimated in 1953 when the 12-year highway building program was authorized.

"However, the picture has changed somewhat to the State's advantage in regard to federal funds under existing law," he said. It is estimated the State will get $2,882,000 more in federal aid for roads than visualized in 1953.

May Transfer Funds

This same argument for postponement of the higher license fees was advanced by Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester) and other leading proponents.

The extra three million dollars would have gone toward maintaining roads.

However, the roads commission is authorized to transfer two million from other money for building them. This will leave the estimated amount needed for maintenance one million short, "but for a one year period should create no serious problem," McKeldin concluded.

The governor suggested the Legislature might want to raise the two million dollar limit on transfer of road building money to maintenance. Then if revenue for the gasoline and titling taxes produce more than estimated two years from now the surplus could be used to cover entirely the needs of maintenance.

Frigid Weather Continues Grip Throughout Area

Garrett To Expect 20 Below Readings

Garrett County, already in the grip of one of the most frigid winters on record, is expected to bear the brunt of 10-to-20-below-zero temperatures again today as thermometers took another sudden drop last night.

Allegany County experienced low temperatures yesterday and the cold wave is expected to continue today and Saturday. Forecast for Saturday is probable snow in the westernmost regions of the state of Maryland.

Cumberland had a low of 6 degrees and a high of only 17. It was 13 degrees above at 8 p.m. and the mercury was reported dropping. Scattered snowflakes were swirling through the air at nightfall.

The Weather Bureau is anticipating the coldest weather the entire state has had in many winters, and the new snowstorm headed for Maryland is expected to strike some time Saturday.

Garrett County has fair but very cold weather and lows for the day were recorded at Big Savage Mountain, -5, Finzel, -4, Guntertown, -2, Oakland and Accident, both -5.

No new snowfalls in the past 12 hours in the area were reported, although much of the outlying district retained from three to 13 inches of snow on the ground. Skies were sunny and clear throughout most of the day and were expected to remain so today.

The State Roads Commission and State Police urged motorists to drive with caution as many roads were still slippery following Wednesday's downpour of snow, sleet and rain which froze over in yesterday's sub-freezing weather. Chains were recommended in some sections.

From Allegany County eastward through Harford and including Montgomery County the lowest temperatures of the day were ranging from zero to 8 below.

Many of the state high's were recorded in the mid-20's and were expected to drop some today despite the fair weather forecast.

First Equipment For Treatment Plant Due Today

The first piece of equipment which will be used for the construction of the Cumberland Sewage Treatment system will arrive here today, according to William H. Buchholtz, street commissioner.

He said the Moyer Brothers Company of Altoona, Pa., is to move a 16-ton piece of equipment to the site of the plant near Offutt Street today.

Commissioner Buchholtz said the contractor has received permission from Pensylvania and Maryland to move the equipment over the roads, and that he arranged for a police escort through the City of Cumberland.

He said he was told that the firm plans to move other needed machinery here within the next few weeks.

The Altoona firm was awarded the $1,531,006 contract for the construction of the system on January 24 and plans to have the plant in operation by the time the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company begins production at its $34,000,000 plant at North Branch.

Shortest Day Road Right-Of-Way Deeded

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has been deeded a 30-foot right-of-way along Shortest Day Road in LaVale.

Some 10 right-of-way deeds for this road were filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman said the county has no immediate plans for improvement of the three-quarter-mile road which runs in a westerly direction off Cash Valley Road.

Mayor Praises Legislators In Assembly

Mayor Roy W. Eves got a first hand glimpse of democracy in action this week, and he liked it just fine.

The view of legislators buckling down to two difficult tasks—recodification of Maryland's election laws and enabling legislation for home rule—was received Tuesday during a visit to the General Assembly.

He said he was impressed with the calibre of the people he met at the General Assembly, adding they were "really working hard" and "not there for fun."

Mayor Eves reported committees working on the home rule legislation have received suggestions for about 100 changes in the proposed law.

Legislators in both the Senate and House, he added, are going into the law thoroughly, and the prospects for the home rule enabling legislation "looks good."

He said the joint Senate-House committee studying the recodification of election laws promised careful consideration of suggestions made by William A. Wilson, who represented the Board of Election Supervisors, and by himself.

During the Tuesday visit, Mayor Eves was introduced from the floor of the Senate by Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Action Is Filed In Garrett County

A Westernport man who was struck by an automobile shortly after leaving the Assembly of God Church in Crellin the night of January 23, Wednesday filed a $100,000 damage suit in Garrett County Circuit Court against the motorist.

Paul Richard Roderick, 225 Wood Street Extended, Westernport, filed the big suit against Joseph Carl Frantz, of Hutton, Garrett County. The suit was filed by Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

Miss Mary Fay Harvey of Mountain Lake Park, who was walking with Roderick, was killed almost instantly in the same accident.

The Westernport man contends that he sustained fractures of both legs, injuries about his back, fractured pelvis, concussion about the head, and cuts and bruises. He is still hospitalized in Garrett County Hospital at Oakland and will be confined in a United State Government Hospital near Washington for many months, according to the declaration.

Roderick stated that he was walking west along State Route 39 in Crellin when the accident occurred about 9 p. m. January 23. He was struck in the back by Frantz's automobile, which was traveling west along the highway. The plaintiff asserts that Frantz was driving at an "excessive, dangerous, high and unlawful" rate of speed.

The Westernport man concludes his declaration by stating that his injuries are of a permanent and incurable nature and will impair his future ability to earn his livelihood.

2,014 Families In County Seek Surplus Foods

Frostburg led the list of Red Cross registrants for surplus food commodities as this month's enrollment to certify March recipients was completed yesterday.

The Red Cross reports a total of 1,650 families certified for surplus foods next month. This number is in addition to those still being registered by the Associated Charities (364) and the Salvation Army. The Allegany County Welfare Board also is certifying most of its clients for the commodities.

Frostburg registered 359 families. Lonaconing was in second place with 294, while the Red Cross office in Cumberland listed 288.

Mt. Savage had its record month with 175. Midland reported 160 families on the needy list for the area including Midland, Gilmore and Woodland.

Barton registered 154, and registrars there said some 15 or 20 families, known to register each month, could not get in because bad weather and icy roads intervened.

The Luke-Westernport area reported 135 families and Eckhart listed 85.

The Associated Charities will wind up registration for March distributions for surplus foods today at 5 p. m.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Red Feather agency, said the registration reached the 364 mark yesterday at 3 p. m. and that the total may exceed February's 375 by this afternoon.

City Considers Package Deal For Bond Issues

May Reduce Costs By Single Offering

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday that city officials are considering the possibility of offering a number of bond issues the city must sell within the year as a package deal in order to reduce costs.

He said it is believed the city will be able to sell the bonds at a more favorable rate of interest if all are sold at the same time, since the size of the offering will attract larger investors.

Selling all of the issues at the same time will also reduce legal, advertising and printing costs.

The bond package will include up to $2,000,000 of revenue bonds to finance the Cumberland Sewage Treatment plant, which is getting under way.

It could include all or part of the $400,000 of city Flood Control bonds.

Another $700,000 will be needed to finance the water line the city will build to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's plant at North Branch.

About $100,000 will be needed to finance a number of deferred items not included in the present contract for the modernization of the 12 old filters at the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

This work will include the installation of two contact basins, the mechanization of valves for the units and certain pipe and valve work.

He said the city may have to defer the sale of the water line bonds until the General Assembly passes implementing legislation for home rule, and that the city will probably defer all until they can be sold together.

Sen. Friend Has Trouble Finding Friends For Bill

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) scarcely could find a friend today.

While campaigning for election last year he got the idea his people wanted to elect their school board rather than have the members appointed by the governor.

Six of his constituents came down today for a hearing on the bill he introduced to make the change. Not one of them was for it.

Right off the bat Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, a Garrett County delegate's wife and PTA leader, got up to oppose it.

"Last summer during the campaign, didn't you say you wanted an elected school board?" asked the surprised Sen. Friend.

She admitted she had. But she added she is a woman and has a right to change her mind.

"I banked on your support and I'm sorry not to have it," said the senator sadly. "I thought I was carrying out your wishes."

William L. Hawkins, school superintendent, Ross Speicher, board vice president, the Rev. John J. Atwell, Mrs. George Hanst and Mrs. Helen Baumgartner all backed up Mrs. Glotfelty.

In the bargain, Glotfelty told Sen. Friend he and the two other Garrett delegates were opposed.

The only friendly voice belonged to a bystander from Anne Arundel County, Dr. William Shields. He is president of the Parents Public Schools Committee and opposed to the present appointed school board members in Anne Arundel.

Sen. Friend asked the Senate Education Committee to take no action on his bill.

LaVale Volunteer Firemen were called out about 8 o'clock last night to extinguish a blaze in a pile of straw and fertilizer near Welsh's Greenhouse at Woodlawn.

Three Damage Suits Seeking $92,000 Removed

Former Football Player Defendant

Three suits seeking a total of $92,000 in damages from Charles E. Lattimer, former University of Maryland football player, have been ordered removed to Washington County Circuit Court for trial.

The order was signed by Chief Judge George Henderson after W. Earle Cobey, Lattimer's attorney, had filed a suggestion and affidavit for removal from Allegany County Circuit Court.

All three suits resulted from a two-car collision on West Virginia State Route 28 about four miles south of Cumberland on August 3, 1953.

Lattimer was driving an automobile owned by Alma F. Hose toward Cumberland at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Margaret L. Robinette, 135 Arch Street, who was a passenger in the car Lattimer was driving, has filed a $60,000 suit against him for injuries she contends she sustained in the accident. She said that Lattimer was driving on the wrong side of the road.

Her husband, Earl B. Robinette, has sued for $20,000 for expenses incurred because of his wife's injuries and loss of her services. Both Robinette suits were filed by Attorney Harry I. Stegmaier.

A third suit, for $12,000 was filed against Lattimer by John R. Nichols, Columbus, Ohio, an instructor at Ohio State University. He asks damages for loss of his car, which was involved in the collision, and for his personal injuries. His suit was filed by Attorney William L. Wilson. He was driving toward Fort Ashby at the time of the crash.

Sewage Treatment Plans Approved For New Bruce High

Plans for the sewage treatment system for the new Bruce High School have been approved by the Health Department, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer.

He said the only major change health officials made in the plans was to suggest that sand filters be substituted for leaching wells.

J. B. Dowling, chief of the sanitation staff, said the system will be similar to those installed for Valley High, Mt. Savage and Flintstone high schools.

Social Security Information On Domestics Now Available

Social Security information, as it applies to many more household employers since January 1, is given in the new booklet, "Do You Have A Maid?" It describes the first step to be taken by every employer of domestic help who pays an employe $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter of the year for work in a private household.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained by writing, phoning, or visiting the Social Security office, James E. Robertson, district manager of the Social Security Administration, said yesterday.

Because of the broadened coverage of domestic workers, many more household employers are now required to report the cash wages paid their employes. It is no longer necessary that a domestic employe work on 23 or more days in a calendar quarter for a single household employer in order to get Social Security credit for the cash wages paid.

The new booklet, officially designated as OASI-21, contains a cut-out post card which the household employer should use to obtain the form on which the cash wages of domestic workers are reported to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

It is estimated that about 200,000 more household workers were brought under the old age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security law on the first of January. In addition, from 50,000 to 100,000 domestic workers who were covered on some of their domestic jobs are now earning additional Social Security insurance credits from their other employers.

Postmasters Will Be Urged To Support Fort Cumberland, David Lewis Stamps

The National Association of Postmasters will be urged to support local pleas for the issuance of two stamps involving the Queen City this year.

Thomas F. Conlon, postmaster, will present resolutions to the Maryland Chapter of the organization this spring, urging support for a commemorative stamp marking the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial and a "Famous American" stamp honoring David J. Lewis.

He said the appeal will be made at the annual convention of the association in Ocean City June 16-18.

Conlon recalled that efforts were made three years ago to secure the stamps and that postal officials, citing the many requests for commemorative stamps, advised patience.

In the resolution, Conlon will point out that the City of Cumberland is holding many special events this year to mark the 200th anniversary of Fort Cumberland, and that it is urgent that immediate action be taken on the request.

He also will renew a 1952 request for a stamp honoring Cumberland's David J. Lewis, father of the parcel post system and of legislation which was broadened to become Social Security.

The former coal miner died here on August 12, 1952, at the age of 83 and was buried on the 17th anniversary of the signing of the federal Social Security Act.

Born in Clearfield County, Pa., he entered the mines in this county at the age of nine, became a member of the Maryland Bar at the age of 23 and in 1901 entered the Maryland Senate, where he sponsored the first workmen's compensation law in the country.

During his five terms in Congress he drafted the law instituting the parcel post system of the United States and in 1930 sponsored an unemployment bill which became the nucleus of today's Social Security legislation.

Explosives-Laden Truck Jackknifes On Blind Curve

Disastrous Wreck Is Averted Near McCoole

A disaster was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon with a tractor-trailer truck, loaded with live rocket ammunition and explosives, jackknifed on the highway near McCoole.

Trooper L. C. Clark, Maryland State Police, investigated the mishap and reported no one was injured although there were two occupants in the cab of the truck.

Owen L. Wiltrout, 40, driver of the explosives-laden vehicle, told authorities he was headed north toward Cumberland on U. S. Route 220 when the wheels of his truck locked as the vehicle rounded a sharp curve near the Hi-Rock Theatre just north of McCoole.

The truck, operated with power steering, smashed into a large snow-covered embankment and rock on the side of the highway and jackknifed back into the center of the road about 2:15 p. m.

Trooper Clark said the estimated damage to the diesel cab was about $500. Traffic on U. S. 220 at the dangerous blind curve was tied up for approximately 20 minutes before the trailer was moved to the side of the roadway.

Authorities indicated arrangements had been made with the truck company to send another tractor to the scene of the accident to take the ammunition trailer to its destination in New Jersey.

Meanwhile, the explosives in the trailer were placed near Cook's Service Station on Route 220 where the driver and his helper will keep guard over the contents until the trailer is removed, Clark stated.

No charges were placed in the accident, Clark said.

Garrett County Seeks Man Held Here In Robbery

State's Attorney S. R. Pagenhardt of Garrett County last night said a warrant will be sent to Allegany County authorities asking that Martin Woodrow McKenzie be detained here on charges of breaking and entering.

McKenzie is being held in County Jail here on a charge of robbery at the gas station of the Frostburg Auto Company, and reportedly has admitted two breaking-and-enterings in Garrett County.

Pagenhardt said Garrett County officials wanted McKenzie held pending the outcome of the charges against him in Allegany County, adding he wished to question the man further in the Garrett cases.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, said the 38-year-old McKenzie, who hails from Grantsville, was nabbed in the service station robbery shortly after it occurred January 21, and has admitted breaking into the American Restaurant in Grantsville on January 21 and St. Stephens Church during the Christmas season. He took merchandise from the restaurant, Baker said.

The officer said McKenzie told him that he forced a basement door and gained entrance to the study of Rev. Hillery Lear, O.F.M. Cap., who is pastor of the church. The priest is stationed at SS. Peter and Paul Monastery here.

McKenzie said he took an electric clock, an electric shaver, various articles of clothing and a number of rosaries and prayerbooks. All of the items have been recovered, Cpl. Baker said.

Man Is Fined $100 On Motor Charge

Donald Harold Frantz, about 35, of 300 Park Street, yesterday was fined $100 and costs in Trial Magistrates Court here for operating an automobile on a revoked license. He also received a suspended 30-day jail sentence from Magistrate Morris Baron.

Frantz was arrested last month by Trooper C. H. DeWitt of the Maryland State Police following a traffic violation on Route 40 in the Narrows.

Frantz, who had his license "lifted" last year after conviction on state motor charges, was given 60 days to pay his fine.
